"It is imperative to [...] address the compounding effects of the COVID-19 pandemic, climate change and food insecurity as well as the governance deficits, including restrictions of human rights and civic space, which may compromise the region's long-term stability and sustainable development."

Secretary-General António Guterres

Mali

UN supported AU and ECOWAS in responding to the unconstitutional changes of government. ECOWAS, AU and UN continued to encourage and support Malian authorities to advance the political transition and the implementation of the peace agreement.

Libya

UN, in coordination with AU and other partners, led efforts to reach agreement on the constitutional framework for the conduct of national elections, with the direct involvement of the House of Representatives and the High State Council.

Sudan

UN, AU and IGAD formed a trilateral mechanism to jointly facilitate a solution to the political crisis aimed at restoring a civilian-led democratic transition.

Burkina Faso and Guinea

ECOWAS, AU and UN undertook joint initiatives in support of a timely return to constitutional order.

Ethiopia

UN provided full support to AU-led mediation efforts, backed by other regional and international partners.

Chad

UN supported AU-led International Support Group for Chad to promote a dialogue process and an inclusive transition that leads to a timely return to constitutional order.

Somalia

UN worked closely with AU, IGAD, EU and other partners in support of the electoral process that culminated with the indirect presidential election of 15 May 2022. UN provided technical and operational advice to the joint planning for the transition of AMISOM to the new AU Transition Mission in Somalia (ATMIS).

Cameroon

AU, OIF, the Commonwealth and UN continued to work together to encourage efforts towards a comprehensive dialogue on the situation in the North-West and South-West regions.

CAR

ECCAS, AU, EU and UN coordinated action to advance the peace process and support the organization of local elections. UN provided technical support and advice to the AU Military Observer Mission.

DRC

UN maintained regular strategic dialogues with AU and sub-regional organizations to assess complementarity of actions and coordinated messages in support of peace and security in eastern DRC.

Kenya

UN collaborated with AU during the elections which culminated with a peaceful transfer of power.
