

67TH EMMY AWARDS

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
September 12, 2015
7:00 PM PT

The Television Academy tonight (Saturday, September 12, 2015) presented the 2015 Creative Arts Emmy® Awards for programs and individual achievements at the Microsoft Theater in Los Angeles. This first ceremony of the 67th Emmy Awards honored guest performers on television drama series and comedy series, as well as the many talented artists and craftspeople behind the scenes who create television excellence. Executive produced by Bob Bain, this year's Creative Arts Awards featured an array of notable presenters, among them Beau Bridges, Cat Deeley, Nina Dobrev, Allison Janney, Ken Jeong, Heidi Klum, Wendi McLendon-Covey, Katharine McPhee, Gina Rodriguez, Neil deGrasse Tyson, Bradley Whitford and Fred Willard.

In recognition of their corporate social responsibility programs, A+E Networks received the prestigious 2015 Governors Award. The Award was accepted by A+E Networks President and CEO Nancy Dubuc. The Governors Award recipient is chosen by the Television Academy's board of governors and bestowed upon an individual, organization or project for outstanding cumulative or singular achievement in the television industry. Additionally, long-time Creative Arts Awards producer Spike Jones, Jr. was recognized for his many years of volunteer service and creative contributions to the Academy with the esteemed Syd Cassyd Founders Award.

The awards, as tabulated by the independent accounting firm of Ernst & Young LLP, were distributed as follows:
