Reed Smith Broadgute Tower 20 Primrose Street ECAP ARS Thursday, 12 November 2012 Th	1		The state of the s		1
Read Smith Broadgase Tower 20 Primrose Street EC2A 2RS Thursday, 12 November 2012 Th	ļ	1		1	stage of what Newsnight was like as a programme to work
Broadgate Tower 20 Primrose Street EC2A 2RS Thursday, 12 November 2012 5 (1.00 pm) 6 LILLYWHITES INQUIRY 8 Interview with 9 KRSTY WARK 10 INCK POLLARD - CHAIRPERSON 11 INSWARK: So therefore, when there were investigations going on, which there are many, that was kept obviously quite, because the day team and at one end of the office, with the presenter office and the officor office with the presenter office and the officor office with the presenter office and the officor office with the presenter of office and the officor office with the presenter of the result would be working on investigations and film was up at the other end. MR POLLARD BLAKELEY - COUNSEL 15 Wark Wark: So therefore, when there were investigations going on, office that everybody knew werything that was going on. RICHARD BLAKELEY - COUNSEL 15 Wark Wark: So therefore, when there were investigations going on, office that everybody knew werything that was going on. RICHARD BLAKELEY - COUNSEL 15 Wark Wark: So therefore, when there were investigations going on office that everybody knew werything that was going on. RICHARD BLAKELEY - COUNSEL 15 Wark Wark: So therefore, were investigations that of office that everybody knew werything that was going on. RICHARD BLAKELEY - COUNSEL 15 Wark Wark: So therefore, were investigations that were working on investigations that was going on. RICHARD BLAKELEY - COUNSEL 15 Wark Wark: So therefore, were investigations that were working on investigations that was going on, that was going on office that everybody knew verything that was going on office that everybody knew verything that was going on office that everybody knew verything was the country before the country of the early very were investigations that were the office with the presenter of the investigations			Reed Smith		•
Thursday, 12 November 2012 5 (1.00 pm) 6 (1.12 YWHITES INQUIRY Interview with 19 KIRSTY WARK 10		2	ı
Thursday, 12 November 2012 Th		3			· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
Thursday, 12 November 2012 (1.00 pm) 6 LILLYWHITES INQUIRY Interview with INCK POLLARD - CHAIRPERSON RICHARD BLAKELEY - COUNSEL RICHARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH RICHARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH IS INCHARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH RICHARD SPAFFORD					• • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • •
rituristay, 12 interview with (1.00 pm) 8 interview with (1.00 pm) 9 investigations and film was up at the other end. 9 investigations and film was up at the other end. 9 investigations and film was up at the other end. 9 investigations and film was up at the other end. 9 investigations and film was up at the other end. 9 investigations and film was up at the other end. 9 investigations and film was up at the other end. 9 investigations that we provided in the other end. 9 investigations that we provided in the other end. 9 investigations that we provided in the other end. 9 investigations that we provided in the editors office and the other end. 9 investigations that we provided in the other end. 9 investigations that we provided in the editors of the investigations that 9 investi		4
Side-by-side. The team that would be working on investigations and film was up at the other end.			Thursday, 12 November 2012		·
Section Content Cont		5			-
TLLLYWHITES INQUIRY Interview with KIRSTY WARK 8 Interview with KIRSTY WARK 10 KIRSTY WARK 11 MS WARK: So therefore, when there were investigations going on, of which there are many, that was kept obviously quiet, because of the nature of the investigations that were happening. So it wasn't a general of office that everybody knew everything that was going on. 11 MR POLLARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH 12 NICK POLLARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH 13 NICK POLLARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH 14 were happening. So it wasn't a general that everybody knew everything that was going on. 15 MR POLLARD Yes. 16 MR POLLARD Yes. 17 MS WARK: Basically, reporting and production teams who were working on investigations for example, worked discretely with either the editor or the deputy editor. So when it of set the seene slightly, we are still in a fairly searly stage of the interviews. As you can imagine we have been looking at a lot of documents. Really, I just of set the seene slightly, we are still in a fairly searly stage of the interviews. As you can imagine we have ben looking at a lot of documents. Really, I just of set the seene slightly, we are still in a fairly searly stage of the interviews, As you can imagine we have ben looking at a lot of documents. Really, I just of set the seene slightly, we are still in a fairly searly stage of the interviews, As you can imagine we have bene looking at a lot of documents. Really, I just of set were than to get the questioning going with some general observations from you about Newnight, if we can sort of sear our minds back to — 10 MR SPAFFORD: Just a couple of points to make before we start. The formal bis, sory — I have a mouthful of sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in this session, obviously, is being recorded, and Nick is able to make use of what you say in the course of his is very important to be clear. 17 MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the public record. 18 MR POLLARD: Was was still in a fairly search of seene seed, before we start. The forma			(1.00 pm)
Interview with KIRSTY WARK INCR POLLARD - CHAIRPERSON INCR POLLARD - CHAIRPERSON INCR POLLARD - CHAIRPERSON INCR POLLARD - REED SMITH INTERPORT			I II I VWILITES DIOLIDV		-
Now ARK. So therefore are many, that was kept obviously again, on, of which there are many, that was kept obviously again, on, of which there are many, that was kept obviously again, on, of which there are many, that was kept obviously again, on, of which there are many, that was kept obviously again, on, of which there are many, that was kept obviously aguite, because of the nature of the investigations that were happening. So it wasn't a general that of office that everybody knew everything that was going on. MR POLLARD: Yes. MS WARK: Basically, reporting and production teams who were working on investigations for example, worked discretely with either the editor or the deputy editor. So when it come to general knowledge of what was going on, that was not the case by and large with investigation. That's very, very important. Because as you would imagine, there were certain things that had to be kept confidential. The want to get the questioning going with some general observations from you about Newsnight, if we can sort of east our minds back to			Interview with		· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
10 NICK POLLARD - CHAIRPERSON 11 RICHARD BLAKELEY - COUNSEL 12 RICHARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH 13 RICHARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH 14 RICHARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH 15 In RICHARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH 16 In RICHARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH 16 In RICHARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH 17 In RICHARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH 18 In RICHARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH 18 In RICHARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH 19 In RICHARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH 19 In RICHARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH 10 In RICHARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH 10 In RICHARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH 11 In RICHARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH 11 In RICHARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH 12 In RICHARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH 13 In SWARK: Basically, reporting and production teams who were working on investigations for example, worked discretely with either the editor or the deputy editor. So when it come to general knowledge of what was going on, that was not the case by and large with investigation. That's very, very important. Because as you would imagine, there were certain things that had to be kept comfidential. 15 In RPOLLARD: Sure. 16 Page 1 1 (1.00 pm) 2 PROCEEDINGS 3 MR POLLARD: Kirsty, thanks for coming along. Just to sort of set the scene slightly, we are still in a fairty want to get the questioning going with some general object with interfere. 15 Saveruions from you about Newsslight, if we can sort of seat our minds back to - 18 SWARK: Sa therefore that was a separate negotiation and a far as I knew, that negotiation was between Peter Rippon, because it was commissioning films. It was between Peter Rippon, because it was commissioning in like with this session, obviously, is being recorded, and Nick is able to make use of what you asy in the course of his report. It is unlikely he will want to do that, but it is very important to be clear. 15 MR POLLARD: Save. 16 MR POLLARD: Save. 17 MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the public record. 18 MR POLLARD: It is fair to say you are a Newsnight veteran. 19 ACS PAFFORD: Diviously what we say to you, please will you keep that considerable. 19 MS			KIRSTY WARK
NICK POLLARD - CHAIRPERSON 13 RICHARD BLAKELEY - COUNSEL 14 RICHARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH 15 Is were happening. So it warn't a fewer were very happening had had to fewer working on investigation. For happening hap					· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
that everybody knew everything that was going on. RICHARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH RICHARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH SWARK: Baskellay, reporting and production teams who were working on investigations for example, worked disoretely with either the editor or the deputy editor. So when it come to general knowledge of what was going on, that was not the case by and large with investigation. That's very, very important. Because as you would imagine, there were certain things that had to be kept confidential. RR POLLARD: Sure. Page 1 MS WARK: Back then I was aware that there was something going ovith Jimmy Savile, but I had not been keeping close eye on it, because that's not my job and I wouldn't interfere. MR POLLARD: Yes. Page 3 MR POLLARD: Sure. Page 3 MS WARK: Back then I was aware that there was something going ovith Jimmy Savile, but I had not been keeping close eye on it, because that's not my job and I wouldn't interfere. MR POLLARD: Yes. MR POLLARD: Sure. Page 3 MS WARK: Back then I was aware that was a separate negotiation and as far as I knew, that negotiation was between peter Rippon, because it was commissioned when Liz Rollbons was on holiday and she was commissioning films. It was between Peter Rippon, Meirion Jones and Liz MacKean. And that was it did not bleed out to the rest of Newsnight. MR POLLARD: Ves. MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the public record. MR SPAFFORD: Just a couple of points to make before we start. The formal bit, sorry I have a mouthful of it is very important to be clear. MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything that was going on. MR POLLARD: Yes.		11	İ
16 IS			THORT OPENIED OF THE BROOM
15 16 17 18 18 19 19 19 19 19 19				15
16 17 18 18 18 19 18 19 18 19 19		ł .	RICHARD SPAFFORD - REED SMITH	16
18	,			17
with either the editor or the deputy editor. So when it 20 come to general knowledge of what was going on, that was not the case by and large with investigation. That's very, very important. Because as you would imagine, there were certain things that had to be kept 22 confidential. 25 MR POLLARD: Sure. Page 1 1 (1.00 pm) 2 PROCEEDINGS 3 MR POLLARD: Kirsty, thanks for coming along. Just to sort of set the scene slightly, we are still in a fairly early stage of the interviews. As you can imagine we have been looking at a lot of documents. Really, I just 5 work to get the scene slightly, we are still in a fairly early stage of the interviews. As you can imagine we have been looking at a lot of documents. Really, I just 5 wasted to make use of what you say to Nick in 21 start. The formal bit, sorry—I have a mouthful of 22 sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in 23 start. The formal bit, sorry—I have a mouthful of 24 sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in 25 start. The formal bit, sorry—I have a mouthful of 26 sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in 27 start. The formal bit, sorry—I have a mouthful of 28 sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in 29 start. The formal bit, sorry—I have a mouthful of 29 sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in 29 start. The formal bit, sorry—I have a mouthful of 20 sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in 29 start. The formal bit, sorry—I have a mouthful of 20 sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in 29 start. The formal bit, sorry—I have a mouthful of 21 sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in 29 start. The formal bit, sorry—I have a mouthful of 21 sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in 29 start. The formal bit, sorry—I have a mouthful of 21 sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in 29 start. The formal bit, sorry—I have a mouthful of 21 sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in 29 start. The formal bit, sorry—I have a mouthfu				18
20 come to general knowledge of what was going on, that was 21 not the case by and large with investigation. That's 22 very, very important. Because as you would imagine, 23 there were certain things that had to be kept 24 confidential. 25 MR POLLARD: Sure. Page 1 1 (1.00 pm) 2 PROCEEDINGS 3 MR POLLARD: Kirsty, thanks for coming along. Just to sort of set the scene slightly, we are still in a fairly 2 going on with Jimmy Savile, but I had not been keeping 2 going on with Jimmy Savile, but I had not b				19
22 very, very important. Because as you would imagine, 23 there were certain things that had to be kept 24 confidential. 25 Page 1 1 (1.00 pm) 2 PROCEEDINGS 3 MR POLLARD: Kirsty, thanks for coming along. Just to sort 4 of set the scene slightly, we are still in a fairly 5 early stage of the interviews. As you can imagine we 6 have been looking at a lot of documents. Really, I just 7 want to get the questioning going with some general 8 observations from you about Newsnight, if we can sort of 9 cast our minds back to 10 MR SPAFFORD: Just a couple of points to make before we 111 start. The formal bit, sorryl have a mouthful of 12 sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in 13 this session, obviously, is being recorded, and Nick is 14 able to make use of what you say in the course of his 15 report. It is unlikely he will want to do that, but it 16 is very important to be clear. 17 MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the 18 public record. 19 MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you 20 keep that confidential. 21 MS WARK: Absolutely. 22 MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. 23 MR POLLARD: Rack then I was aware that there was something 25 going on with Jimmy Savile, but I had not been keeping 26 close eye on it, because that's not my job and I 27 wouldn't interfere. 28 MR POLLARD: Yes. 29 MS WARK: So therefore that was a separate negotiation and 29 as far as I knew, that negotiation was between 29 Liz Gibbons was on holiday and she was commissioning 21 films. It was between Peter Rippon, Meirion Jones and 21 Liz MacKean. And that was it did not bleed out to 21 the rest of Newsinght. 21 MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you 22 keep that confidential. 23 MR POLLARD: Was a week. 24 wert to Glasgow, so therefore I couldn't double my days, 25 so I'm in Glasgow more. So I'm in one or two days 26 a week, some weeks I'm not in at all. So I'm in one or two days a week. 27 week. 28 MR POLLARD: You obviously have a lot of again looking 29 b				20
23 there were certain things that had to be kept 24 confidential. 25 MR POLLARD: Sure. Page 1 1 (1.00 pm) 2 PROCEEDINGS 3 MR POLLARD: Kirsty, thanks for coming along. Just to sort 4 of set the scene slightly, we are still in a fairly 5 early stage of the interviews. As you can imagine we 6 have been looking at a lot of documents. Really, I just 7 want to get the questioning going with some general 8 observations from you about Newsnight, if we can sort of 9 cast our minds back to 10 MR SPAFFORD: Just a couple of points to make before we 11 start. The formal bit, sorry -1 have a mouthful of 12 sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in 13 this session, obviously, is being recorded, and Nick is 14 able to make use of what you say in the course of his 15 report. It is unlikely he will want to do that, but it 16 is very important to be clear. 17 MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the 18 public record. 19 MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you 20 keep that confidential. 21 MS WARK: Absolutely. 22 MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. 23 MR POLLARD: Sure. 24 confidential. 25 MR POLLARD: Sure. 26 MS WARK: Back then I was aware that there was something 27 going on with Jimmy Savile, but I had not been keeping 28 going on with Jimmy Savile, but I had not been keeping 29 going on with Jimmy Savile, but I had not been keeping 21 dose eye on it, because that's not my job and I 24 wouldn't interfere. 25 MR POLLARD: Yes. 26 MR SWARK: Back then I was aware that there was something 27 going on with Jimmy Savile, but I had not been keeping 28 going on with Jimmy Savile, but I had not been keeping 29 going on with Jimmy Savile, but I had not been keeping 21 dose eye on it, because that's not my job and I 22 wouldn't interfere. 3 MR POLLARD: Yes. 4 MR POLLARD: Test was a separate negotiation and 3 a far as I knew, that negotiation was between Peter Rippon, because it was commissioning 10 films. It was between Peter Rippon, herior Jones and 11 Liz MacKean. And that w		20		21	not the case by and large with investigation. That's
23 24 25 Page 1 1 (1.00 pm) 2 PROCEEDINGS 3 MR POLLARD: Kirsty, thanks for coming along. Just to sort of searly stage of the interviews. As you can imagine we have been looking at a lot of documents. Really, I just want to get the questioning going with some general a observations from you about Newsnight, if we can sort of cast our minds back to 10 MR SPAFFORD: Just a couple of points to make before we lister, the formal bit, sorryI have a mouthful of sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in this session, obviously, is being recorded, and Nick is able to make use of what you say in the course of his report. It is unlikely he will want to do that, but it is very important to be clear. 17 MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the public record. 18 WARK: As Sparas I'm concerned, everything is for the public record. 19 MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you keep that confidential. 20 MR POLLARD: Reak then I was aware that there was something going on with Jimmy Savile, but I had not been keeping close eye on it, because that's not my job and I wouldn't interfere. 5 MR POLLARD: Yes. 6 MS WARK: So therefore that was a separate negotiation and as far as I knew, that negotiation was between Peter Rippon, because it was commissioned when Liz Gibbons was on holiday and she was commissioning films. It was between Peter Rippon, Meirion Jones and Liz MacKean. And that was it did not bleed out to the rest of Newsnight. 10 MR POLLARD: It is fair to say you are a Newsnight veteran. 11 At that stage, how many days a week would you be in the office? 12 MS WARK: My contract is for 52 days a year, because Review went to Glasgow, so therefore I couldn't double my days, so I'm in Glasgow more. So I'm in one or two days a week. 12 MR POLLARD: You obviously have a lot of again looking back at that period contact, when you are in, with Peter Rippon, I assume. What sort of editor, at that stage, did you think he was? You must have worked with, what four or five				22	very, very important. Because as you would imagine,
25 Page 1 1 (1.00 pm) 2 PROCEEDINGS 3 MR POLLARD: Kirsty, thanks for coming along. Just to sort of 5 set the scene slightly, we are still in a fairly 5 early stage of the interviews. As you can imagine we 6 have been looking at a lot of documents. Really, I just 7 want to get the questioning going with some general observations from you about Newsnight, if we can sort of 9 cast our minds back to 10 MR SPAFFORD: Just a couple of points to make before we 111 start. The formal bit, sorryI have a mouthful of 12 sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in 13 this session, obviously, is being recorded, and Nick is 14 able to make use of what you say in the course of his 15 report. It is unlikely he will want to do that, but it 16 is very important to be clear. 17 MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the 18 public record. 18 WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the 18 public record. 19 MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you 20 keep that confidential. 21 MS WARK: Absolutely. 22 MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. 24 autumn of 2011, as a sort of scene setter, before the 24 autumn of 2011, as a sort of scene setter, before the 25 Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that				23	there were certain things that had to be kept
Page 1 1 (1.00 pm) 2 PROCEEDINGS 3 MR POLLARD: Kirsty, thanks for coming along. Just to sort 4 of set the scene slightly, we are still in a fairly 5 early stage of the interviews. As you can imagine we 6 have been looking at a lot of documents. Really, I just 7 want to get the questioning going with some general 8 observations from you about Newsnight, if we can sort of 9 cast our minds back to 10 MR SPAFFORD: Just a couple of points to make before we 111 start. The formal bit, sorryI have a mouthful of 12 sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in 13 this session, obviously, is being recorded, and Nick is 14 able to make use of what you say in the course of his 15 report. It is unlikely he will want to do that, but it 16 is very important to be clear. 17 MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the 18 public record. 19 MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you 20 keep that confidential. 21 MS WARK: Absolutely. 22 MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. 23 MR POLLARD: Really, just to start, if you like, in the 24 autumn of 2011, as a sort of scene setter, before the 25 Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that Page 3 MS WARK: Back then I was aware that there was something going on with Jimmy Savile, but I had not been keeping close eye on it, because that's not my job and I wouldn't imterfere. MR POLLARD: Yes. MR POLLARD: Yes. MR POLLARD: Yes. MR SVARK: So therefore that was a separate negotiation and as far as I knew, that negotiation was between 10 Liz Gibbons was on holiday and she was commissioning films. It was between Peter Rippon, Meirion Jones and 11 Liz Gibbons was on holiday and she was commissioning films. It was between Peter Rippon, Meirion Jones and 12 MR POLLARD: It is fair to say you are a Newsnight veteran. 14 At that stage, how many days a week would you be in the office? MS WARK: My contract is for 52 days a year, because Review went to Glasgow more. So I'm in one or two days a a week, some weeks I'm not in at all. S		ł		24	confidential.
1 (1.00 pm) 2 PROCEEDINGS 3 MR POLLARD: Kirsty, thanks for coming along. Just to sort 4 of set the scene slightly, we are still in a fairly 5 early stage of the interviews. As you can imagine we 6 have been looking at a lot of documents. Really, I just 7 want to get the questioning going with some general 8 observations from you about Newsnight, if we can sort of 9 cast our minds back to 10 MR SPAFFORD: Just a couple of points to make before we 11 start. The formal bit, sorryI have a mouthful of 12 sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in 13 this session, obviously, is being recorded, and Nick is 14 able to make use of what you say in the course of his 15 report. It is unlikely he will want to do that, but it 16 is very important to be clear. 17 MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the 18 public record. 19 MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you 20 keep that confidential. 21 MS WARK: Assolutely. 22 MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. 23 MR POLLARD: Really, just to start, if you like, in the 24 autumn of 2011, as a sort of scene setter, before the 25 Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that 1 MS WARK: Back then I was aware that there was something 2 going on with Jimmy Savile, but I had not been keeping 2 close eye on it, because that's not my job and I 4 wouldn't interfere. MR POLLARD: Yes. MR POLLARD: Yes. MR POLLARD: Ti shalf there was something 2 going on with Jimmy Savile, but I had not been keeping 2 close eye on it, because that's not my job and I 4 wouldn't interfere. MR POLLARD: Yes. MR POLLARD: Yes. MR POLLARD: Ti shalf there was something 2 going on with Jimmy Savile, but I had not been keeping 2 close eye on it, because that's not my job and I 4 wouldn't interfere. MR POLLARD: Yes. MR POLLARD: Ti shalf there was something 2 going on with Jimmy Savile, but I had not been keeping 2 dolse eye on it, because that's not my job and I 4 wouldn't interfere. MR POLLARD: All therefore I couldn't double my days, 3 ol'm i				25	MR POLLARD: Sure.
2 PROCEEDINGS 3 MR POLLARD: Kirsty, thanks for coming along. Just to sort 4 of set the scene slightly, we are still in a fairly 5 early stage of the interviews. As you can imagine we 6 have been looking at a lot of documents. Really, I just 7 want to get the questioning going with some general 8 observations from you about Newsnight, if we can sort of 9 cast our minds back to 10 MR SPAFFORD: Just a couple of points to make before we 11 start. The formal bit, sorryI have a mouthful of 12 sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in 13 this session, obviously, is being recorded, and Nick is 14 able to make use of what you say in the course of his 15 report. It is unlikely he will want to do that, but it 16 is very important to be clear. 17 MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the 18 public record. 19 MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you 20 keep that confidential. 21 MS WARK: Absolutely. 22 MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. 23 MR POLLARD: Really, just to start, if you like, in the 24 autumn of 2011, as a sort of scene setter, before the 25 Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that 2 going on with Jimmy Savile, but I had not been keeping 2 close eye on it, because that's not my job and I 4 wouldn't interfere. 5 MR POLLARD: Yes. MR POLLARD: Yes. MS WARK: So therefore that was a separate negotiation and as far as I knew, that negotiation was between Peter Rippon, because it was commissioned when Liz Gibbons was on holiday and she was commissioning films. It was between Peter Rippon, Meirion Jones and Liz MacKean. And that was it did not bleed out to the rest of Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It is fair to say you are a Newsnigh veteran. At that stage, how many days a week would you be in the office? MS WARK: My contract is for 52 days a year, because Review went to Glasgow, so therefore I couldn't double my days, so I'm in Glasgow more. So I'm in one or two days a week. MR POLLARD: You obviously have a lot of again looking back at t			Page 1		Page 3
2 PROCEEDINGS 3 MR POLLARD: Kirsty, thanks for coming along. Just to sort 4 of set the scene slightly, we are still in a fairly 5 early stage of the interviews. As you can imagine we 6 have been looking at a lot of documents. Really, I just 7 want to get the questioning going with some general 8 observations from you about Newsnight, if we can sort of 9 cast our minds back to 10 MR SPAFFORD: Just a couple of points to make before we 11 start. The formal bit, sorryI have a mouthful of 12 sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in 13 this session, obviously, is being recorded, and Nick is 14 able to make use of what you say in the course of his 15 report. It is unlikely he will want to do that, but it 16 is very important to be clear. 17 MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the 18 public record. 19 MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you 20 keep that confidential. 21 MS WARK: Absolutely. 22 MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. 23 MR POLLARD: Really, just to start, if you like, in the 24 autumn of 2011, as a sort of scene setter, before the 25 Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that 2 going on with Jimmy Savile, but I had not been keeping 2 close eye on it, because that's not my job and I 4 wouldn't interfere. 5 MR POLLARD: Yes. MR POLLARD: Yes. MS WARK: So therefore that was a separate negotiation and as far as I knew, that negotiation was between Peter Rippon, because it was commissioned when Liz Gibbons was on holiday and she was commissioning films. It was between Peter Rippon, Meirion Jones and Liz MacKean. And that was it did not bleed out to the rest of Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It is fair to say you are a Newsnigh veteran. At that stage, how many days a week would you be in the office? MS WARK: My contract is for 52 days a year, because Review went to Glasgow, so therefore I couldn't double my days, so I'm in Glasgow more. So I'm in one or two days a week. MR POLLARD: You obviously have a lot of again looking back at t					NO MARK B. L. d. T
3 MR POLLARD: Kirsty, thanks for coming along. Just to sort 4 of set the scene slightly, we are still in a fairly 5 early stage of the interviews. As you can imagine we 6 have been looking at a lot of documents. Really, I just 7 want to get the questioning going with some general 8 observations from you about Newsnight, if we can sort of 9 cast our minds back to 10 MR SPAFFORD: Just a couple of points to make before we 11 start. The formal bit, sorryI have a mouthful of 12 sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in 13 this session, obviously, is being recorded, and Nick is 14 able to make use of what you say in the course of his 15 report. It is unlikely he will want to do that, but it 16 is very important to be clear. 17 MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the 18 public record. 19 MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you 20 keep that confidential. 21 MS WARK: Absolutely. 22 MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. 23 MR POLLARD: Really, just to start, if you like, in the 24 autumn of 2011, as a sort of scene setter, before the 25 Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that 3 close eye on it, because that's not my job and I wouldn't interfere. MR POLLARD: Yes. MR POLLARD: Yes. MR POLLARD: It is that to got hat was a separate negotiation and as far as I knew, that negotiation was between Peter Rippon, because it was commissioned when Liz Gibbons was on holiday and she was commissioning films. It was between Peter Rippon, Meirion Jones and Liz MacKean. And that was it did not bleed out to the rest of Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It is fair to say you are a Newsnight veteran. At that stage, how many days a week would you be in the office? MS WARK: My contract is for 52 days a year, because Review went to Glasgow, so therefore I couldn't double my days, so I'm in Glasgow more. So I'm in one or two days a week, some weeks I'm not in at all. So I'm in one or two days a week. MR POLLARD: You obviously have a lot of again looking back at th		1	· · · ·
4 of set the scene slightly, we are still in a fairly 5 early stage of the interviews. As you can imagine we 6 have been looking at a lot of documents. Really, I just 7 want to get the questioning going with some general 8 observations from you about Newsnight, if we can sort of 9 cast our minds back to 10 MR SPAFFORD: Just a couple of points to make before we 11 start. The formal bit, sorryI have a mouthful of 12 sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in 13 this session, obviously, is being recorded, and Nick is 14 able to make use of what you say in the course of his 15 report. It is unlikely he will want to do that, but it 16 is very important to be clear. 17 MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the 18 public record. 19 MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you 20 keep that confidential. 21 MS WARK: Absolutely. 22 MR POLLARD: Really, just to start, if you like, in the 23 Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that 4 wouldn't interfere. 5 MR POLLARD: Yes. 6 MS WARK: So therefore that was a separate negotiation and as far as I knew, that negotiation was between 7 beer Rippon, because it was commissioned when 1 Liz Gibbons was on holiday and she was commissioning films. It was between Peter Rippon, Meirion Jones and 1 Liz MacKean. And that was it did not bleed out to the rest of Newsnight. 13 MR POLLARD: It is fair to say you are a Newsnight veteran. 14 At that stage, how many days a week would you be in the office? 15 MS WARK: My contract is for 52 days a year, because Review went to Glasgow, so therefore I couldn't double my days, so I'm in Glasgow more. So I'm in one or two days a week, some weeks I'm not in at all. So I'm in one or two days a week. 26 MS WARK: My contract is for 52 days a year, because Review went to Glasgow, so therefore I couldn't double my days, so I'm in Glasgow more. So I'm in one or two days a week, some weeks I'm not in at all. So I'm in one or two days a week. 27 MR POLLARD: Yes. 28 MR POLLARD: Yes. 29 MR		2			- -
5 early stage of the interviews. As you can imagine we 6 have been looking at a lot of documents. Really, I just 7 want to get the questioning going with some general 8 observations from you about Newsnight, if we can sort of 9 cast our minds back to 10 MR SPAFFORD: Just a couple of points to make before we 11 start. The formal bit, sorryI have a mouthful of 12 sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in 13 this session, obviously, is being recorded, and Nick is 14 able to make use of what you say in the course of his 15 report. It is unlikely he will want to do that, but it 16 is very important to be clear. 17 MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the 18 public record. 19 MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you 20 keep that confidential. 21 MS WARK: Absolutely. 22 MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. 23 MR POLLARD: Really, just to start, if you like, in the 24 autumn of 2011, as a sort of scene setter, before the 25 Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that 5 MR POLLARD: Yes. MS WARK: So therefore that was a separate negotiation and as far as I knew, that negotiation was between Peter Rippon, because it was commissioned when Liz Gibbons was on holiday and she was commissioning films. It was between Peter Rippon, Meirion Jones and Liz MacKean. And that was it did not bleed out to the rest of Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It is fair to say you are a Newsnight veteran. At that stage, how many days a week would you be in the office? MS WARK: My contract is for 52 days a year, because Review went to Glasgow, so therefore I couldn't double my days, so I'm in Glasgow more. So I'm in one or two days a week, some weeks I'm not in at all. So I'm in one or two days a week. MR POLLARD: Peter Rippon, I assume. What sort of editor, at that stage, did you think he was? You must have worked with, what four or five at least			•		• have been looking at a lot of documents. Really, I just want to get the questioning going with some general observations from you about Newsnight, if we can sort of cast our minds back to MR SPAFFORD: Just a couple of points to make before we start. The formal bit, sorryI have a mouthful of sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in this session, obviously, is being recorded, and Nick is able to make use of what you say in the course of his report. It is unlikely he will want to do that, but it is very important to be clear. MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the public record. MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you keep that confidential. MS WARK: Absolutely. MR POLLARD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. MR POLLARD: You obviously have a lot of again looking back at that period contact, when you are in, with Peter Rippon, because it was commissioned when Liz Gibbons was on holiday and she was commissioning films. It was between Peter Rippon, Meirion Jones and Liz MacKean. And that was it did not bleed out to the rest of Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It is fair to say you are a Newsnight veteran. At that stage, how many days a week would you be in the office? MS WARK: My contract is for 52 days a year, because Review went to Glasgow, so therefore I couldn't double my days, so I'm in Glasgow more. So I'm in one or two days a week. MR POLLARD: You obviously have a lot of again looking back at that period contact, when you are in, with Peter Rippon, I assume. What sort of editor, at that stage, did you think he was? You must have worked with, what four or five at least		4	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
want to get the questioning going with some general 8 observations from you about Newsnight, if we can sort of 9 cast our minds back to 10 MR SPAFFORD: Just a couple of points to make before we 11 start. The formal bit, sorryI have a mouthful of 12 sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in 13 this session, obviously, is being recorded, and Nick is 14 able to make use of what you say in the course of his 15 report. It is unlikely he will want to do that, but it 16 is very important to be clear. 17 MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the 18 public record. 19 MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you 20 keep that confidential. 21 MS WARK: Absolutely. 22 MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. 23 MR POLLARD: Really, just to start, if you like, in the 24 autumn of 2011, as a sort of scene setter, before the 25 Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that 7 as far as I knew, that negotiation was between 8 Peter Rippon, because it was commissioned when 12 as far as I knew, that negotiation was between 9 Liz Gibbons was on holiday and she was commissioning 10 films. It was between Peter Rippon, Meirion Jones and 11 Liz MacKean. And that was it did not bleed out to 12 the rest of Newsnight. 13 MR POLLARD: It is fair to say you are a Newsnight veteran. 14 At that stage, how many days a week would you be in the 15 office? 16 MS WARK: My contract is for 52 days a year, because Review 17 went to Glasgow, so therefore I couldn't double my days, 18 so I'm in Glasgow more. So I'm in one or two days 19 a week, some weeks I'm not in at all. So I'm in one or 19 two days a week. 20 MR POLLARD: You obviously have a lot of again looking 21 back at that period contact, when you are in, with 22 peter Rippon, lecause it was commissioning 10 films. It was between Peter Rippon, Meirion Jones and 11 Liz MacKean. And that was it did not bleed out to 12 the rest of Newsnight. 13 MR POLLARD: It is fair to say you are a Newsnight veteran. 14 At that stage, ho		5
observations from you about Newsnight, if we can sort of cast our minds back to MR SPAFFORD: Just a couple of points to make before we start. The formal bit, sorryI have a mouthful of sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in this session, obviously, is being recorded, and Nick is able to make use of what you say in the course of his report. It is unlikely he will want to do that, but it is very important to be clear. MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the public record. MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you keep that confidential. MR POLLARD: Really, just to start, if you like, in the autumn of 2011, as a sort of scene setter, before the Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that Peter Rippon, because it was commissioned when Liz Gibbons was on holiday and she was commissioning films. It was between Peter Rippon, Meirion Jones and Liz MacKean. And that was it did not bleed out to the rest of Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It is fair to say you are a Newsnight veteran. At that stage, how many days a week would you be in the office? MS WARK: My contract is for 52 days a year, because Review went to Glasgow, so therefore I couldn't double my days, so I'm in Glasgow more. So I'm in one or two days a week, some weeks I'm not in at all. So I'm in one or two days a week. MR POLLARD: You obviously have a lot of again looking back at that period contact, when you are in, with Peter Rippon, I assume. What sort of editor, at that stage, did you think he was? You must have worked with, what four or five at least		1			•
2 cast our minds back to 2		1
10 MR SPAFFORD: Just a couple of points to make before we 11 start. The formal bit, sorryI have a mouthful of 12 sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in 13 this session, obviously, is being recorded, and Nick is 14 able to make use of what you say in the course of his 15 report. It is unlikely he will want to do that, but it 16 is very important to be clear. 17 MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the 18 public record. 19 MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you 20 keep that confidential. 21 MS WARK: Absolutely. 22 MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. 23 MR POLLARD: Really, just to start, if you like, in the 24 autumn of 2011, as a sort of scene setter, before the 25 Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that 10 films. It was between Peter Rippon, Meirion Jones and 11 Liz MacKean. And that was it did not bleed out to 12 the rest of Newsnight. 13 MR POLLARD: It is fair to say you are a Newsnight veteran. 14 At that stage, how many days a week would you be in the 15 office? 16 MS WARK: My contract is for 52 days a year, because Review 17 went to Glasgow, so therefore I couldn't double my days, 18 so I'm in Glasgow more. So I'm in one or two days a week. 19 a week, some weeks I'm not in at all. So I'm in one or 19 two days a week. 20 MR POLLARD: You obviously have a lot of again looking 21 back at that period contact, when you are in, with 22 stage, did you think he was? You must have worked with, 23 what four or five at least	\	8
start. The formal bit, sorryI have a mouthful of sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in this session, obviously, is being recorded, and Nick is able to make use of what you say in the course of his report. It is unlikely he will want to do that, but it is very important to be clear. MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the public record. MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you keep that confidential. MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. MR POLLARD: It is fair to say you are a Newsnight veteran. MR WARK: My contract is for 52 days a year, because Review went to Glasgow, so therefore I couldn't double my days, so I'm in Glasgow more. So I'm in one or two days a week, some weeks I'm not in at all. So I'm in one or two days a week. MR POLLARD: You obviously have a lot of again looking back at that period contact, when you are in, with AR POLLARD: Really, just to start, if you like, in the autumn of 2011, as a sort of scene setter, before the Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that		9		1	•
sandwich. Just so we're clear, what you say to Nick in this session, obviously, is being recorded, and Nick is able to make use of what you say in the course of his report. It is unlikely he will want to do that, but it is very important to be clear. MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the public record. MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you keep that confidential. MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. MR POLLARD: It is fair to say you are a Newsnight veteran. At that stage, how many days a week would you be in the office? MS WARK: My contract is for 52 days a year, because Review went to Glasgow, so therefore I couldn't double my days, so I'm in Glasgow more. So I'm in one or two days a week, some weeks I'm not in at all. So I'm in one or two days a week. MR POLLARD: You obviously have a lot of again looking back at that period contact, when you are in, with Peter Rippon, I assume. What sort of editor, at that stage, did you think he was? You must have worked with, what four or five at least		10	" -	l
this session, obviously, is being recorded, and Nick is able to make use of what you say in the course of his report. It is unlikely he will want to do that, but it is very important to be clear. MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the public record. MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you keep that confidential. MS WARK: Absolutely. MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. MR POLLARD: It is fair to say you are a Newsnight veteran. At that stage, how many days a week would you be in the office? MS WARK: My contract is for 52 days a year, because Review went to Glasgow, so therefore I couldn't double my days, so I'm in Glasgow more. So I'm in one or two days a week, some weeks I'm not in at all. So I'm in one or two days a week. MR POLLARD: You obviously have a lot of again looking back at that period contact, when you are in, with Peter Rippon, I assume. What sort of editor, at that stage, did you think he was? You must have worked with, what four or five at least		1	• •	1 able to make use of what you say in the course of his report. It is unlikely he will want to do that, but it is very important to be clear. MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the public record. MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you keep that confidential. MS WARK: Absolutely. MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. MR POLLARD: Really, just to start, if you like, in the autumn of 2011, as a sort of scene setter, before the Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that At that stage, how many days a week would you be in the office? MS WARK: My contract is for 52 days a year, because Review went to Glasgow, so therefore I couldn't double my days, so I'm in Glasgow more. So I'm in one or two days a week, some weeks I'm not in at all. So I'm in one or two days a week. MR POLLARD: You obviously have a lot of again looking back at that period contact, when you are in, with Peter Rippon, I assume. What sort of editor, at that stage, did you think he was? You must have worked with, what four or five at least		1		1
report. It is unlikely he will want to do that, but it is very important to be clear. MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the public record. MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you keep that confidential. MS WARK: Absolutely. MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. MR POLLARD: Really, just to start, if you like, in the autumn of 2011, as a sort of scene setter, before the Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that 15 office? MS WARK: My contract is for 52 days a year, because Review went to Glasgow, so therefore I couldn't double my days, so I'm in Glasgow more. So I'm in one or two days a week, some weeks I'm not in at all. So I'm in one or two days a week. MR POLLARD: You obviously have a lot of again looking back at that period contact, when you are in, with Peter Rippon, I assume. What sort of editor, at that stage, did you think he was? You must have worked with, what four or five at least		13
is very important to be clear. MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the public record. MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you keep that confidential. MS WARK: Absolutely. MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. MR POLLARD: You obviously have a lot of again looking back at that period contact, when you are in, with Peter Rippon, I assume. What sort of editor, at that stage, did you think he was? You must have worked with, what four or five at least		1
MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the public record. MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you keep that confidential. MS WARK: Absolutely. MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. MR POLLARD: Really, just to start, if you like, in the autumn of 2011, as a sort of scene setter, before the Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the went to Glasgow, so therefore I couldn't double my days, so I'm in Glasgow more. So I'm in one or two days a week, some weeks I'm not in at all. So I'm in one or two days a week. MR POLLARD: You obviously have a lot of again looking back at that period contact, when you are in, with Peter Rippon, I assume. What sort of editor, at that stage, did you think he was? You must have worked with, what four or five at least		15	•	l
public record. MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you keep that confidential. MS WARK: Absolutely. MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you like, in the autumn of 2011, as a sort of scene setter, before the Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that So I'm in Glasgow more. So I'm in one or two days a week, some weeks I'm not in at all. So I'm in one or two days a week. MR POLLARD: You obviously have a lot of again looking back at that period contact, when you are in, with Peter Rippon, I assume. What sort of editor, at that stage, did you think he was? You must have worked with, what four or five at least		16		ı
19 MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you 20 keep that confidential. 21 MS WARK: Absolutely. 22 MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. 23 MR POLLARD: Really, just to start, if you like, in the 24 autumn of 2011, as a sort of scene setter, before the 25 Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that 26 autumn of 2012. 27 A week, some weeks I'm not in at all. So I'm in one or 28 two days a week. 29 MR POLLARD: You obviously have a lot of again looking 29 back at that period contact, when you are in, with 20 Peter Rippon, I assume. What sort of editor, at that 21 stage, did you think he was? You must have worked with, 22 what four or five at least		17	MS WARK: As far as I'm concerned, everything is for the	1
20 keep that confidential. 21 MS WARK: Absolutely. 22 MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. 23 MR POLLARD: Really, just to start, if you like, in the 24 autumn of 2011, as a sort of scene setter, before the 25 Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that 20 two days a week. 21 MR POLLARD: You obviously have a lot of again looking 22 back at that period contact, when you are in, with 23 Peter Rippon, I assume. What sort of editor, at that 24 stage, did you think he was? You must have worked with, 25 what four or five at least		18	•	ı
MS WARK: Absolutely. MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. MR POLLARD: You obviously have a lot of again looking back at that period contact, when you are in, with Peter Rippon, I assume. What sort of editor, at that autumn of 2011, as a sort of scene setter, before the Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that MR POLLARD: You obviously have a lot of again looking back at that period contact, when you are in, with Peter Rippon, I assume. What sort of editor, at that stage, did you think he was? You must have worked with, what four or five at least		19	MR SPAFFORD: Obviously what we say to you, please will you
22 MR SPAFFORD: Thanks very much, back to you Nick. 23 MR POLLARD: Really, just to start, if you like, in the 24 autumn of 2011, as a sort of scene setter, before the 25 Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that 26 back at that period contact, when you are in, with 27 Peter Rippon, I assume. What sort of editor, at that 28 stage, did you think he was? You must have worked with, 29 what four or five at least		20	keep that confidential.	1
23 MR POLLARD: Really, just to start, if you like, in the 24 autumn of 2011, as a sort of scene setter, before the 25 Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that 26 Peter Rippon, I assume. What sort of editor, at that 27 stage, did you think he was? You must have worked with, 28 what four or five at least		21		1
24 autumn of 2011, as a sort of scene setter, before the 25 Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that 26 stage, did you think he was? You must have worked with, 27 what four or five at least		22		1
25 Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that 25 what four or five at least		23		1	**
25 Out to story started to united, just jour sense at min		24		1
Page 2		25	Savile story started to unfold, just your sense at that	25
Tugo 2			Page 2		Page 4

1		_
1	MS WARK: Four or five editors.	1	the daily programme be driven by either a deputy editor
2	MR POLLARD: editors? How would you describe him?	2	or the editor of the day?
3	MS WARK: He was an editor that came to Newsnight with	3	MS WARK: The editor of the programme was a late editor.
4	a kind of little experience in television, so he had	4	But the editor of the day, I mean they are senior and
5	to get up to speed very quickly and that, but he was	5	they are an incredibly strong journalistic team on
6	a senior journalist.	6	Newsnight. So he was not, as you would not expect, him
7	MR POLLARD: Sure.	7	to be very involved on the day to day basis.
8	MS WARK: He worked well with his deputies. I would say	8	MR POLLARD: Okay. Did you have much or anything to do with
9	that his deputies, Liz Gibbons and Sharminda Nahal were	9	Meirion Jones and Liz MacKean on a day to day basis?
10	incredibly important to him.	10	MS WARK: Not on a day to day basis, but of course Meirion
11	MR POLLARD: Right. How would you describe his way of	11	is one of the most senior journalists on the programme.
12	editing? What I might call the way he led the team,	12	So therefore he often is involved in investigations.
13	very inclusive, very friendly, outgoing, you will have	13	I mean, his triumph was and that was very,
14	seen different types of editors, the ones that sort of	14	very important for the programme. But, you know, he
15	walked the floor and chewed the fat and so on. Can you	15	very rarely worked "on the day". He was very much
16	sort of paint a picture of how he went about his duties?	16	involved in his own digging and investigation in order
17	MS WARK: I mean he let his editors edit on the daily basis.	17	to turn up stories. Now he didn't do Mark Stone, but
18	In that way he was neither overbearing nor too reticent.	18	Newsnight has this tremendous track record of doing
119	But sometimes I suppose what I would say about that was	19	investigation, with the undercover cop and so forth, and
20	he and on a personal level he was a very, very nice	20	indeed the child abuse in Wales.
21	person and I, you know, that is my position about	21	Part of the reason I'm here is to say that the
22	Peter Rippon. And I think that at times he found the	22	culture on Newsnight, whatever you may think about what
23	job very onerous. And I'm not going to give an opinion	23	happened in Savile, is absolutely not one of
24	about	24	carelessness.
25	MR POLLARD: No, no of course.	25	MR POLLARD: Yes.
23	Page 5		Page 7
	14800
1	MS WARK: No.	1	MS WARK: They are incredibly well skilled journalists,
1 2	MS WARK: No. MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were	1 2	MS WARK: They are incredibly well skilled journalists, incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team.
1		1	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
2	MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were	2	incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team.
2 3	MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were very important to him?	2 3	incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team. And this is entirely, so far as I'm concerned, discrete
2 3 4	MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were very important to him? MS WARK: Yes.	2 3 4	incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team. And this is entirely, so far as I'm concerned, discrete from the rest of the things that go on in Newsnight.
2 3 4 5	MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were very important to him? MS WARK: Yes. MR BLAKELY: In the sense that he relied on them or he would delegate	2 3 4 5	incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team. And this is entirely, so far as I'm concerned, discrete from the rest of the things that go on in Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It's an interesting point that. Somebody has
2 3 4 5 6	MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were very important to him? MS WARK: Yes. MR BLAKELY: In the sense that he relied on them or he would delegate MS WARK: Yes, and they were	2 3 4 5 6	incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team. And this is entirely, so far as I'm concerned, discrete from the rest of the things that go on in Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It's an interesting point that. Somebody has said I think in public that one of the things
2 3 4 5 6 7	MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were very important to him? MS WARK: Yes. MR BLAKELY: In the sense that he relied on them or he would delegate MS WARK: Yes, and they were MR BLAKELY: extensively?	2 3 4 5 6 7	incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team. And this is entirely, so far as I'm concerned, discrete from the rest of the things that go on in Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It's an interesting point that. Somebody has said I think in public that one of the things about Newsnight I think they are perhaps talking
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9	MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were very important to him? MS WARK: Yes. MR BLAKELY: In the sense that he relied on them or he would delegate MS WARK: Yes, and they were MR BLAKELY: extensively? MS WARK: He worked with them on the different aspects of	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9	incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team. And this is entirely, so far as I'm concerned, discrete from the rest of the things that go on in Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It's an interesting point that. Somebody has said I think in public that one of the things about Newsnight I think they are perhaps talking about that time and beyond is they have said that there is something of a culture. There was something of
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9	MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were very important to him? MS WARK: Yes. MR BLAKELY: In the sense that he relied on them or he would delegate MS WARK: Yes, and they were MR BLAKELY: extensively? MS WARK: He worked with them on the different aspects of the Newsnight role very closely.	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9	incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team. And this is entirely, so far as I'm concerned, discrete from the rest of the things that go on in Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It's an interesting point that. Somebody has said I think in public that one of the things about Newsnight I think they are perhaps talking about that time and beyond is they have said that there is something of a culture. There was something of a culture of timidity creeping in. I think specifically
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11	MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were very important to him? MS WARK: Yes. MR BLAKELY: In the sense that he relied on them or he would delegate MS WARK: Yes, and they were MR BLAKELY: extensively? MS WARK: He worked with them on the different aspects of the Newsnight role very closely. MR BLAKELY: More closely than other editors?	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11	incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team. And this is entirely, so far as I'm concerned, discrete from the rest of the things that go on in Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It's an interesting point that. Somebody has said I think in public that one of the things about Newsnight I think they are perhaps talking about that time and beyond is they have said that there is something of a culture. There was something of a culture of timidity creeping in. I think specifically they were talking about the influence of the editorial
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12	MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were very important to him? MS WARK: Yes. MR BLAKELY: In the sense that he relied on them or he would delegate MS WARK: Yes, and they were MR BLAKELY: extensively? MS WARK: He worked with them on the different aspects of the Newsnight role very closely. MR BLAKELY: More closely than other editors? MS WARK: No I think the deputies are always important, but	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11	incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team. And this is entirely, so far as I'm concerned, discrete from the rest of the things that go on in Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It's an interesting point that. Somebody has said I think in public that one of the things about Newsnight I think they are perhaps talking about that time and beyond is they have said that there is something of a culture. There was something of a culture of timidity creeping in. I think specifically
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13	MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were very important to him? MS WARK: Yes. MR BLAKELY: In the sense that he relied on them or he would delegate MS WARK: Yes, and they were MR BLAKELY: extensively? MS WARK: He worked with them on the different aspects of the Newsnight role very closely. MR BLAKELY: More closely than other editors? MS WARK: No I think the deputies are always important, but because he had come in from what was essentially not a	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11	incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team. And this is entirely, so far as I'm concerned, discrete from the rest of the things that go on in Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It's an interesting point that. Somebody has said I think in public that one of the things about Newsnight I think they are perhaps talking about that time and beyond is they have said that there is something of a culture. There was something of a culture of timidity creeping in. I think specifically they were talking about the influence of the editorial policy unit to sort of double check and second-guess
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14	MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were very important to him? MS WARK: Yes. MR BLAKELY: In the sense that he relied on them or he would delegate MS WARK: Yes, and they were MR BLAKELY: extensively? MS WARK: He worked with them on the different aspects of the Newsnight role very closely. MR BLAKELY: More closely than other editors? MS WARK: No I think the deputies are always important, but because he had come in from what was essentially not a particularly television background though he has been	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13	incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team. And this is entirely, so far as I'm concerned, discrete from the rest of the things that go on in Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It's an interesting point that. Somebody has said I think in public that one of the things about Newsnight I think they are perhaps talking about that time and beyond is they have said that there is something of a culture. There was something of a culture of timidity creeping in. I think specifically they were talking about the influence of the editorial policy unit to sort of double check and second-guess stories.
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were very important to him? MS WARK: Yes. MR BLAKELY: In the sense that he relied on them or he would delegate MS WARK: Yes, and they were MR BLAKELY: extensively? MS WARK: He worked with them on the different aspects of the Newsnight role very closely. MR BLAKELY: More closely than other editors? MS WARK: No I think the deputies are always important, but because he had come in from what was essentially not a particularly television background though he has been there for four years I think his deputies are very	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team. And this is entirely, so far as I'm concerned, discrete from the rest of the things that go on in Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It's an interesting point that. Somebody has said I think in public that one of the things about Newsnight I think they are perhaps talking about that time and beyond is they have said that there is something of a culture. There was something of a culture of timidity creeping in. I think specifically they were talking about the influence of the editorial policy unit to sort of double check and second-guess stories. Did you get any sense of that at all MS WARK: I wasn't aware of that
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were very important to him? MS WARK: Yes. MR BLAKELY: In the sense that he relied on them or he would delegate MS WARK: Yes, and they were MR BLAKELY: extensively? MS WARK: He worked with them on the different aspects of the Newsnight role very closely. MR BLAKELY: More closely than other editors? MS WARK: No I think the deputies are always important, but because he had come in from what was essentially not a particularly television background though he has been there for four years I think his deputies are very important, and they were touchstones for him. And they	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team. And this is entirely, so far as I'm concerned, discrete from the rest of the things that go on in Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It's an interesting point that. Somebody has said I think in public that one of the things about Newsnight I think they are perhaps talking about that time and beyond is they have said that there is something of a culture. There was something of a culture of timidity creeping in. I think specifically they were talking about the influence of the editorial policy unit to sort of double check and second-guess stories. Did you get any sense of that at all MS WARK: I wasn't aware of that MR POLLARD: Or are you saying the opposite?
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were very important to him? MS WARK: Yes. MR BLAKELY: In the sense that he relied on them or he would delegate MS WARK: Yes, and they were MR BLAKELY: extensively? MS WARK: He worked with them on the different aspects of the Newsnight role very closely. MR BLAKELY: More closely than other editors? MS WARK: No I think the deputies are always important, but because he had come in from what was essentially not a particularly television background though he has been there for four years I think his deputies are very important, and they were touchstones for him. And they had obviously the different roles within the department.	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team. And this is entirely, so far as I'm concerned, discrete from the rest of the things that go on in Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It's an interesting point that. Somebody has said I think in public that one of the things about Newsnight I think they are perhaps talking about that time and beyond is they have said that there is something of a culture. There was something of a culture of timidity creeping in. I think specifically they were talking about the influence of the editorial policy unit to sort of double check and second-guess stories. Did you get any sense of that at all MS WARK: I wasn't aware of that MR POLLARD: Or are you saying the opposite? MS WARK: I wasn't aware of that and I never got any sense
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were very important to him? MS WARK: Yes. MR BLAKELY: In the sense that he relied on them or he would delegate MS WARK: Yes, and they were MR BLAKELY: extensively? MS WARK: He worked with them on the different aspects of the Newsnight role very closely. MR BLAKELY: More closely than other editors? MS WARK: No I think the deputies are always important, but because he had come in from what was essentially not a particularly television background though he has been there for four years I think his deputies are very important, and they were touchstones for him. And they had obviously the different roles within the department. But, you know, they were a sounding board a lot for	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team. And this is entirely, so far as I'm concerned, discrete from the rest of the things that go on in Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It's an interesting point that. Somebody has said I think in public that one of the things about Newsnight I think they are perhaps talking about that time and beyond is they have said that there is something of a culture. There was something of a culture of timidity creeping in. I think specifically they were talking about the influence of the editorial policy unit to sort of double check and second-guess stories. Did you get any sense of that at all MS WARK: I wasn't aware of that MR POLLARD: Or are you saying the opposite? MS WARK: I wasn't aware of that and I never got any sense on Newsnight that there were artificial breaks put on
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19	MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were very important to him? MS WARK: Yes. MR BLAKELY: In the sense that he relied on them or he would delegate MS WARK: Yes, and they were MR BLAKELY: extensively? MS WARK: He worked with them on the different aspects of the Newsnight role very closely. MR BLAKELY: More closely than other editors? MS WARK: No I think the deputies are always important, but because he had come in from what was essentially not a particularly television background though he has been there for four years I think his deputies are very important, and they were touchstones for him. And they had obviously the different roles within the department. But, you know, they were a sounding board a lot for Peter Rippon.	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team. And this is entirely, so far as I'm concerned, discrete from the rest of the things that go on in Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It's an interesting point that. Somebody has said I think in public that one of the things about Newsnight I think they are perhaps talking about that time and beyond is they have said that there is something of a culture. There was something of a culture of timidity creeping in. I think specifically they were talking about the influence of the editorial policy unit to sort of double check and second-guess stories. Did you get any sense of that at all MS WARK: I wasn't aware of that MR POLLARD: Or are you saying the opposite? MS WARK: I wasn't aware of that and I never got any sense on Newsnight that there were artificial breaks put on things, or that there was a culture of fear about
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were very important to him? MS WARK: Yes. MR BLAKELY: In the sense that he relied on them or he would delegate MS WARK: Yes, and they were MR BLAKELY: extensively? MS WARK: He worked with them on the different aspects of the Newsnight role very closely. MR BLAKELY: More closely than other editors? MS WARK: No I think the deputies are always important, but because he had come in from what was essentially not a particularly television background though he has been there for four years I think his deputies are very important, and they were touchstones for him. And they had obviously the different roles within the department. But, you know, they were a sounding board a lot for Peter Rippon. Actually, this this particular investigation is	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team. And this is entirely, so far as I'm concerned, discrete from the rest of the things that go on in Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It's an interesting point that. Somebody has said I think in public that one of the things about Newsnight I think they are perhaps talking about that time and beyond is they have said that there is something of a culture. There was something of a culture of timidity creeping in. I think specifically they were talking about the influence of the editorial policy unit to sort of double check and second-guess stories. Did you get any sense of that at all MS WARK: I wasn't aware of that MR POLLARD: Or are you saying the opposite? MS WARK: I wasn't aware of that and I never got any sense on Newsnight that there were artificial breaks put on things, or that there was a culture of fear about investigation. I mean the time I came in on the day
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were very important to him? MS WARK: Yes. MR BLAKELY: In the sense that he relied on them or he would delegate MS WARK: Yes, and they were MR BLAKELY: extensively? MS WARK: He worked with them on the different aspects of the Newsnight role very closely. MR BLAKELY: More closely than other editors? MS WARK: No I think the deputies are always important, but because he had come in from what was essentially not a particularly television background though he has been there for four years I think his deputies are very important, and they were touchstones for him. And they had obviously the different roles within the department. But, you know, they were a sounding board a lot for Peter Rippon. Actually, this this particular investigation is dealing with the Jimmy Savile film, and that,	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team. And this is entirely, so far as I'm concerned, discrete from the rest of the things that go on in Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It's an interesting point that. Somebody has said I think in public that one of the things about Newsnight I think they are perhaps talking about that time and beyond is they have said that there is something of a culture. There was something of a culture of timidity creeping in. I think specifically they were talking about the influence of the editorial policy unit to sort of double check and second-guess stories. Did you get any sense of that at all MS WARK: I wasn't aware of that MR POLLARD: Or are you saying the opposite? MS WARK: I wasn't aware of that and I never got any sense on Newsnight that there were artificial breaks put on things, or that there was a culture of fear about investigation. I mean the time I came in on the day and I was involved editorially on the days that I was
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were very important to him? MS WARK: Yes. MR BLAKELY: In the sense that he relied on them or he would delegate MS WARK: Yes, and they were MR BLAKELY: extensively? MS WARK: He worked with them on the different aspects of the Newsnight role very closely. MR BLAKELY: More closely than other editors? MS WARK: No I think the deputies are always important, but because he had come in from what was essentially not a particularly television background though he has been there for four years I think his deputies are very important, and they were touchstones for him. And they had obviously the different roles within the department. But, you know, they were a sounding board a lot for Peter Rippon. Actually, this this particular investigation is dealing with the Jimmy Savile film, and that, I understand, he took charge of that himself.	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team. And this is entirely, so far as I'm concerned, discrete from the rest of the things that go on in Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It's an interesting point that. Somebody has said I think in public that one of the things about Newsnight I think they are perhaps talking about that time and beyond is they have said that there is something of a culture. There was something of a culture of timidity creeping in. I think specifically they were talking about the influence of the editorial policy unit to sort of double check and second-guess stories. Did you get any sense of that at all MS WARK: I wasn't aware of that MR POLLARD: Or are you saying the opposite? MS WARK: I wasn't aware of that and I never got any sense on Newsnight that there were artificial breaks put on things, or that there was a culture of fear about investigation. I mean the time I came in on the day and I was involved editorially on the days that I was in, but I got no sense of holding back. I think there
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were very important to him? MS WARK: Yes. MR BLAKELY: In the sense that he relied on them or he would delegate MS WARK: Yes, and they were MR BLAKELY: extensively? MS WARK: He worked with them on the different aspects of the Newsnight role very closely. MR BLAKELY: More closely than other editors? MS WARK: No I think the deputies are always important, but because he had come in from what was essentially not a particularly television background though he has been there for four years I think his deputies are very important, and they were touchstones for him. And they had obviously the different roles within the department. But, you know, they were a sounding board a lot for Peter Rippon. Actually, this this particular investigation is dealing with the Jimmy Savile film, and that, I understand, he took charge of that himself. MR POLLARD: Yes. I think that's right.	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team. And this is entirely, so far as I'm concerned, discrete from the rest of the things that go on in Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It's an interesting point that. Somebody has said I think in public that one of the things about Newsnight I think they are perhaps talking about that time and beyond is they have said that there is something of a culture. There was something of a culture of timidity creeping in. I think specifically they were talking about the influence of the editorial policy unit to sort of double check and second-guess stories. Did you get any sense of that at all MS WARK: I wasn't aware of that MR POLLARD: Or are you saying the opposite? MS WARK: I wasn't aware of that and I never got any sense on Newsnight that there were artificial breaks put on things, or that there was a culture of fear about investigation. I mean the time I came in on the day and I was involved editorially on the days that I was in, but I got no sense of holding back. I think there was just proper journalistic endeavours, in which you
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24	MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were very important to him? MS WARK: Yes. MR BLAKELY: In the sense that he relied on them or he would delegate MS WARK: Yes, and they were MR BLAKELY: extensively? MS WARK: He worked with them on the different aspects of the Newsnight role very closely. MR BLAKELY: More closely than other editors? MS WARK: No I think the deputies are always important, but because he had come in from what was essentially not a particularly television background though he has been there for four years I think his deputies are very important, and they were touchstones for him. And they had obviously the different roles within the department. But, you know, they were a sounding board a lot for Peter Rippon. Actually, this this particular investigation is dealing with the Jimmy Savile film, and that, I understand, he took charge of that himself. MR POLLARD: Yes. I think that's right. On an ordinary day-to-day basis, sort of Monday to	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24	incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team. And this is entirely, so far as I'm concerned, discrete from the rest of the things that go on in Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It's an interesting point that. Somebody has said I think in public that one of the things about Newsnight I think they are perhaps talking about that time and beyond is they have said that there is something of a culture. There was something of a culture of timidity creeping in. I think specifically they were talking about the influence of the editorial policy unit to sort of double check and second-guess stories. Did you get any sense of that at all MS WARK: I wasn't aware of that MR POLLARD: Or are you saying the opposite? MS WARK: I wasn't aware of that and I never got any sense on Newsnight that there were artificial breaks put on things, or that there was a culture of fear about investigation. I mean the time I came in on the day and I was involved editorially on the days that I was in, but I got no sense of holding back. I think there was just proper journalistic endeavours, in which you try to double source everything and so forth.
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	MR BLAKELY: Just on that point, you said his deputies were very important to him? MS WARK: Yes. MR BLAKELY: In the sense that he relied on them or he would delegate MS WARK: Yes, and they were MR BLAKELY: extensively? MS WARK: He worked with them on the different aspects of the Newsnight role very closely. MR BLAKELY: More closely than other editors? MS WARK: No I think the deputies are always important, but because he had come in from what was essentially not a particularly television background though he has been there for four years I think his deputies are very important, and they were touchstones for him. And they had obviously the different roles within the department. But, you know, they were a sounding board a lot for Peter Rippon. Actually, this this particular investigation is dealing with the Jimmy Savile film, and that, I understand, he took charge of that himself. MR POLLARD: Yes. I think that's right.	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	incredibly well, and I think they are a tremendous team. And this is entirely, so far as I'm concerned, discrete from the rest of the things that go on in Newsnight. MR POLLARD: It's an interesting point that. Somebody has said I think in public that one of the things about Newsnight I think they are perhaps talking about that time and beyond is they have said that there is something of a culture. There was something of a culture of timidity creeping in. I think specifically they were talking about the influence of the editorial policy unit to sort of double check and second-guess stories. Did you get any sense of that at all MS WARK: I wasn't aware of that MR POLLARD: Or are you saying the opposite? MS WARK: I wasn't aware of that and I never got any sense on Newsnight that there were artificial breaks put on things, or that there was a culture of fear about investigation. I mean the time I came in on the day and I was involved editorially on the days that I was in, but I got no sense of holding back. I think there was just proper journalistic endeavours, in which you

1	MS WARK: Especially when we look at these other big	1	bring something else to the table, that the endeavour of
2	investigations that have been done that have been	2	the producers, assistants producers and reporters, would
3	successful, and have been fearless, because	3	find out something else. That is what we have. If it
4	was a really difficult investigation. I think that	4	is a child abuse story, that is Newsnight territory.
5	shows that there was not a culture of timidity.	5	I was involved in an investigation a long time ago, of a
6	That is different from saying: was there an upward	6	woman called Shy, I think it was Shy Smith
7	referral more than there had been on previous editors?	7	MR POLLARD: Keenan.
8	I don't necessarily think there was. Was there a change	8	MS WARK: Shy Keenan, which was an incredibly important
9	after Hutton? There was a change after Hutton, of	9	story, which was under Sian Kervill's leadership, which
10	course, but I don't think a programme like Newsnight was	10	was a very difficult story to do and was very important.
11	adversely affected. I mean, that's our life blood.	11	Again, the Irish paedophile story as well. The point
12	MR POLLARD: I was going to ask about referring upwards. I	12	about the Shy Keenan story, it, of itself, was only one
13	mean the chain of command, I guess, goes from Peter, to	13	story of abuse, but it is very, very important that we
14	Steve Mitchell	14	did that, because it is very, very important that people
15	MS WARK: To Helen Boaden,	15	are seeing that they can actually bring stories to
16	MR POLLARD: To Helen.	16	Newsnight and we will take them seriously and
17	MS WARK: I imagine that any time you wanted you could call	17	investigate. That is a very big point. People should
18	in David Jordan. I think that would be a separate	18	feel that we are a place to come with stories.
, 19	strand.	19	MR POLLARD: If you like the celebrity element in that Jimmy
20	MR POLLARD: Did you get the impression that quite a lot of	20	Savile story, again the various strands to the way
21	that happened?	21	people have reacted this. I have heard it suggested
22	MS WARK: No, I didn't get the impression that a lot of	22	that because it was what you might call, rather crudely,
23	upward referral actually happened during that time.	23	a "celeb expose", that might make it not a Newsnight
24	I suspect that the same of the same it would have, but that	24	story?
25	is only my opinion and I have no knowledge of that.	25	MS WARK: That was never my view and it is never my view. I
	Page 9		Page 11
	MR POLLARD: Yes. It has been suggested, I think, during	1	would say this though, at the time last November when
2	the whole Savile affair unfolding over the past year or	2	I knew there was an investigation into Jimmy Savile,
3	so, that one of the reasons why this story might not	3	I actually didn't know the nature of the investigation.
4	have run was because it was in some ways not a Newsnight	4	I didn't have detail of it, I made an assumption that it
5	type story. You will have a pretty long memory of	5	was probably sexual. I made an assumption.
6	Newsnight stories and what are and what aren't Newsnight	6	MR POLLARD: Why?
7	stories. Do you have a view on whether it was or	7	MS WARK: Because I couldn't think what else it would be,
8	wasn't?	8	frankly. I knew nothing about him, except I had
9	MR BLAKELY: I think before you answer that one if you could	9	interviewed him in Glencoe at his house and I thought
10	just describe more generically what is a Newsnight	10	then he was a bit of an odd-bod, but I had no knowledge
. 11	story, as distinct, say, from a Panorama story?	11	of what the actual investigation was about, and I didn't
12	MS WARK: I'm not sure is there is a massive distinction	12	ask. Because you have to be very careful about these
13	between a Panorama and a Newsnight in the sense that	13	things at Newsnight at the moment. That you should
14	we do cover a lot of the same territory in different	14	always let the teams go off, and then when it comes to
15	ways. For example, if we were discovering problems	15	you, you are then ready to sort of have of a brain dump
16	for example, that's a great story that is out today	16	of what they've got.
17	about the doctor who unnecessarily removed women's	17	So I made an assumption it was that, but I didn't
18	breasts. That is the kind of story that we would do and	18	know for sure it was, and I thought that was legitimate
19	it would probably also be the kind of story that	19	territory for Newsnight. I mean, really, it is
20	Panorama would do. So in that sense, what I would say	20	legitimate territory.
21	is: if there is a news story, a news story lasts 30, 40	21	MR POLLARD: You have perhaps thought about this over the
22	seconds, lasts two minutes, but something like the	22	past year, but can you remember when you first became
23	background into something like, for example, problems at	23	aware of this Jimmy Savile inquiry going on?
24	Piper Alpha or what was going on in corruption in	24	MS WARK: Do you mean after the ITN?
		ı
25	a council for example, things that actually we would	25	MR POLLARD: After his death. Page 12

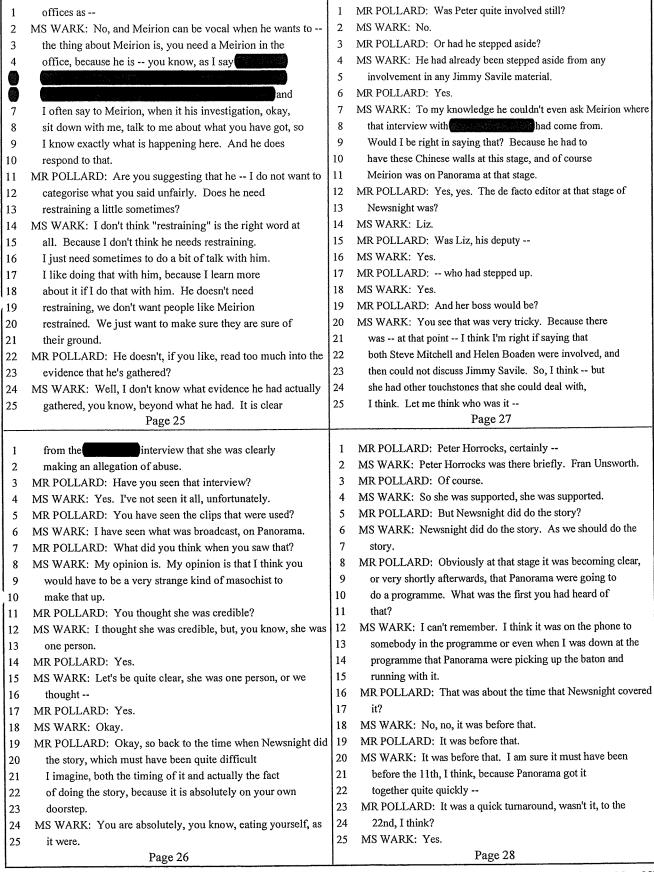

1 No, right back to when the investigation --Did you then get a sense, some time after that, that 2 MS WARK: It was very quickly after his death, yes. 2 it was controversial within the office that that 3 MR POLLARD: Yes, because Meirion and Liz, and a young lady 3 decision had been made? 4 called Hannah Livingstone --4 MS WARK: No, actually, it was not. I mean Meirion and Liz 5 MS WARK: I don't know her. 5 were not stamping up and down as far as I knew. Of 6 MR POLLARD: -- who was helping them. A trainee, I think, 6 course I didn't know what was going on, but I didn't get based in Scotland. 7 7 the sense that it was really hugely controversial in the 8 MS WARK: Right. 8 office. had I been involved in discussions, I might have 9 MR POLLARD: Was attached to help them. So quite soon --9 had a greater sense of that. But I was not involved in 10 10 how would you hear about that? At a meeting or just discussions. 11 discussion? 11 MR POLLARD: No, that's fair enough. 12 MS WARK: It might just have been discussion, but at that 12 MR BLAKELY: Can I ask; were you aware of the stories in 13 13 stage it was: they were just off and investigating January of this year? 14 something, about -- to do with Jimmy Savile and it was 14 MS WARK: No. No I wasn't. 15 not long after his death and therefore I think it was 15 MR BLAKELY: You noticed no appreciable change in the 16 triggered by the fact that he had died and Newsnight was 16 atmosphere in the office during that period? 17 17 MS WARK: No. You see, Meirion was not just working on about to set off on something. 18 18 MR BLAKELY: Can you remember who you heard from first? this. I am sure he was working on lots of different MS WARK: No. 19 19 things as well, which we will come on to, I am sure. 20 MR POLLARD: It would be effectively sort of office 20 MR POLLARD: Yes, indeed. discussion, rather than you are sitting at a meeting --21 21 If you like, the course of events was that through 22 22 MS WARK: It would be office discussion, but then it quickly January and February there were sort of some rumblings 23 23 went off my radar, because obviously they were off doing in the papers, suggestions that the story had been 24 24 whatever research they were doing and I was not asking dropped for not proper reasons. 25 questions. 25 Later in the year, much more currently, the story Page 13 Page 15 MR POLLARD: No, sure, okay. 1 about the ITV documentary about Jimmy Savile comes out 1 2 2 and people had clearly made the connection between what Then there obviously came this moment when, in early 3 ITV were doing and what Newsnight had been investigating 3 December last year, where the story ground to a halt? 4 MS WARK: Yes. 5 MR POLLARD: How much was that a topic of discussion? What sort of sense did you get then about the way it 5 6 was being talked about in the office? 6 MS WARK: No, it wasn't where I was. And I don't know 7 whether it was I wasn't down the week actually the 7 MS WARK: What happened was that after the ITV story went 8 out, and I was down -- I can't remember it was quite 8 decision was made to drop it. But I was not aware, and soon afterwards and I asked Meirion and Liz to come in, 9 9 in fact I didn't know it had been fundamentally and 10 10 because I needed to be forewarned as to be armed about finally dropped. You know, these things ramble on for 11 what might be coming up. Then I got a sense that they 11 a long time. 12 were both very agitated. And what my recollection of 12 MR POLLARD: Indeed. 13 the conversation was, that they were sure that they had 13 MS WARK: And I was not aware that it had been dropped like 14 14 had enough material to go with. that. 15 MR POLLARD: Yes. 15 That meeting was the first time I knew that MS WARK: If you had said to me four weeks -- no, six weeks 16 16 Meirion's aunt was the leader --MR POLLARD: When you say that meeting, what was the 17 17 ago: is Newsnight still examining Savile? I might have 18 18 even thought that was still a prospect. I think that's meeting --19 MS WARK: I said, "Come on into my office and let's chat 19 quite important to know. I think I was maybe one of the 20 about this." 20 few that didn't know it had been dropped stone dead, but 21 I didn't know it had been dropped stone dead. 21 MR POLLARD: Okay. MS WARK: So we chatted --22 22 MR POLLARD: I think in practice there were several stages MR POLLARD: Meirion and Liz? 23 23 by which it cooled and then it became clear that there 24 MS WARK: Yes, because I didn't know whether we were 24 became a point when it was not going to be proceeded 25 25 actually going to do the story ourselves or anything with. Page 16 Page 14

Merrill Corporation

(+44) 207 404 1400

1	after that. I just wanted to know what we had.	1	received.
2	MR POLLARD: Yes.	2	MR POLLARD: Yes.
3	MS WARK: And at that stage my recollection was that we had	3	MS WARK: So I was quite that was quite surprising to me
4	the interview with or and there	4	that and it was as I say, it was really unlike
5	were a number of anonymous interviews from a group, that	5	Newsnight. Let's just go back to the Shy Keenan
6	were the same social networking group. My understanding	6	I even read the transcripts of the Shy Keenan
7	of them was that was all they had.	7	interviews, because I wanted to make sure I knew
8	MR POLLARD: Yes. This is the stage where when Newsnight	8	everything. And my sense was that there had been not
9	were debating whether to do the story themselves?	9	the same attention to detail in terms of who was reading
10	MS WARK: Yes.	10	what transcripts. Who knew what was in what
11	MR POLLARD: After the ITV story?	11	transcripts.
12	MS WARK: Yes.	12	MR POLLARD: Do you mean at the time the original story was
13	MR POLLARD: And after the papers were full of it, but	13	dropped, as it were?
14	before Panorama.	14	MS WARK: Yes. Then of course that was with this is me
15	MS WARK: Yes, yes.	15	looking back from what Meirion and Liz and I understood
16	MR POLLARD: Before Panorama?	16	from Peter was that there were there were an awful
17	MS WARK: Absolutely, before Panorama. When Meirion was	17	lot of things that hadn't actually been thrashed
18	still working on Newsnight.	18	through.
19	MR POLLARD: Yes.	19	MR POLLARD: Because there was, shall we say, a rather
20	MS WARK: Very soon after. It must have been just days	20	unusual moment, post the ITV programme, when a second
21	after the ITV documentary had gone out.	21	interview turned up?
22	MR POLLARD: Yes. What was the atmosphere like then in the	22	MS WARK: Yes.
23	office?	23	MR POLLARD: Was that a surprise to people?
24	MS WARK: It was difficult. Because something like that,	24	MS WARK: That was a complete surprise. You have to put
25	I think excuse me it can be quite destabilising	25	that in context. That was and I know when it was
	Page 17		Page 19
1	for the team and it was very important, especially with	1	because it was on the 11th I remember it was the
2	the launch of W1, to gee them up and to make sure that	2	11th that went out on the 11th October, because I was
3	they realised that they were all doing, very, very, good	3	on air no, I wasn't on air. I was doing a parallel
١.	work.	4	programme as an off-air pilot, because we were about to
4	WUIK.
5	MR POLLARD: The launch of W1?	5	start the next week.
1	MR POLLARD: The launch of W1?	5
5			start the next week. MR POLLARD: Right.
5 6	MR POLLARD: The launch of W1? MS WARK: Us moving. This all happened as we had been	6	start the next week. MR POLLARD: Right.
5 6 7	MR POLLARD: The launch of W1? MS WARK: Us moving. This all happened as we had been moving to Broadcasting House. So it was very important	6	start the next week. MR POLLARD: Right. MS WARK: So Newsnight is going out. And meanwhile I am at
5 6 7 8	MR POLLARD: The launch of W1? MS WARK: Us moving. This all happened as we had been moving to Broadcasting House. So it was very important to keep them because, as I say and it was very	6 7 8	start the next week. MR POLLARD: Right. MS WARK: So Newsnight is going out. And meanwhile I am at the same time doing an off-air pilot.
5 6 7 8 9	MR POLLARD: The launch of W1? MS WARK: Us moving. This all happened as we had been moving to Broadcasting House. So it was very important to keep them because, as I say and it was very important that they did not think that they had made	6 7 8 9	start the next week. MR POLLARD: Right. MS WARK: So Newsnight is going out. And meanwhile I am at the same time doing an off-air pilot. MR POLLARD: What was that for?
5 6 7 8 9	MR POLLARD: The launch of W1? MS WARK: Us moving. This all happened as we had been moving to Broadcasting House. So it was very important to keep them because, as I say and it was very important that they did not think that they had made mistakes themselves, because, in fact, as I said it was	6 7 8 9 10	start the next week. MR POLLARD: Right. MS WARK: So Newsnight is going out. And meanwhile I am at the same time doing an off-air pilot. MR POLLARD: What was that for? MS WARK: For the launch. MR POLLARD: I see, okay.
5 6 7 8 9 10	MR POLLARD: The launch of W1? MS WARK: Us moving. This all happened as we had been moving to Broadcasting House. So it was very important to keep them because, as I say and it was very important that they did not think that they had made mistakes themselves, because, in fact, as I said it was a very discrete group on that investigation.	6 7 8 9 10	start the next week. MR POLLARD: Right. MS WARK: So Newsnight is going out. And meanwhile I am at the same time doing an off-air pilot. MR POLLARD: What was that for? MS WARK: For the launch. MR POLLARD: I see, okay.
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12	MR POLLARD: The launch of W1? MS WARK: Us moving. This all happened as we had been moving to Broadcasting House. So it was very important to keep them because, as I say and it was very important that they did not think that they had made mistakes themselves, because, in fact, as I said it was a very discrete group on that investigation. Now, and Peter at that point was, I think I think	6 7 8 9 10 11 12	start the next week. MR POLLARD: Right. MS WARK: So Newsnight is going out. And meanwhile I am at the same time doing an off-air pilot. MR POLLARD: What was that for? MS WARK: For the launch. MR POLLARD: I see, okay. MS WARK: The launch happened the launch happened on the 15th. MR POLLARD: Yes.
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13	MR POLLARD: The launch of W1? MS WARK: Us moving. This all happened as we had been moving to Broadcasting House. So it was very important to keep them because, as I say and it was very important that they did not think that they had made mistakes themselves, because, in fact, as I said it was a very discrete group on that investigation. Now, and Peter at that point was, I think I think pretty shellshocked to be honest. And there were	6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13	start the next week. MR POLLARD: Right. MS WARK: So Newsnight is going out. And meanwhile I am at the same time doing an off-air pilot. MR POLLARD: What was that for? MS WARK: For the launch. MR POLLARD: I see, okay. MS WARK: The launch happened the launch happened on the 15th. MR POLLARD: Yes. MS WARK: I'm doing a pilot in Broadcasting House on the
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14	MR POLLARD: The launch of W1? MS WARK: Us moving. This all happened as we had been moving to Broadcasting House. So it was very important to keep them because, as I say and it was very important that they did not think that they had made mistakes themselves, because, in fact, as I said it was a very discrete group on that investigation. Now, and Peter at that point was, I think I think pretty shellshocked to be honest. And there were increasing general conversations I had conversations with Peter, where I certainly got the sense it's not my opinion, but I got the sense that either by	6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14	start the next week. MR POLLARD: Right. MS WARK: So Newsnight is going out. And meanwhile I am at the same time doing an off-air pilot. MR POLLARD: What was that for? MS WARK: For the launch. MR POLLARD: I see, okay. MS WARK: The launch happened the launch happened on the 15th. MR POLLARD: Yes. MS WARK: I'm doing a pilot in Broadcasting House on the 11th, in parallel, so of course I don't see the
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	MR POLLARD: The launch of W1? MS WARK: Us moving. This all happened as we had been moving to Broadcasting House. So it was very important to keep them because, as I say and it was very important that they did not think that they had made mistakes themselves, because, in fact, as I said it was a very discrete group on that investigation. Now, and Peter at that point was, I think I think pretty shellshocked to be honest. And there were increasing general conversations I had conversations with Peter, where I certainly got the sense it's not	6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	start the next week. MR POLLARD: Right. MS WARK: So Newsnight is going out. And meanwhile I am at the same time doing an off-air pilot. MR POLLARD: What was that for? MS WARK: For the launch. MR POLLARD: I see, okay. MS WARK: The launch happened the launch happened on the 15th. MR POLLARD: Yes. MS WARK: I'm doing a pilot in Broadcasting House on the 11th, in parallel, so of course I don't see the programme. Then I appear watch it on iPlayer. And
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	MR POLLARD: The launch of W1? MS WARK: Us moving. This all happened as we had been moving to Broadcasting House. So it was very important to keep them because, as I say and it was very important that they did not think that they had made mistakes themselves, because, in fact, as I said it was a very discrete group on that investigation. Now, and Peter at that point was, I think I think pretty shellshocked to be honest. And there were increasing general conversations I had conversations with Peter, where I certainly got the sense it's not my opinion, but I got the sense that either by	6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	start the next week. MR POLLARD: Right. MS WARK: So Newsnight is going out. And meanwhile I am at the same time doing an off-air pilot. MR POLLARD: What was that for? MS WARK: For the launch. MR POLLARD: I see, okay. MS WARK: The launch happened the launch happened on the 15th. MR POLLARD: Yes. MS WARK: I'm doing a pilot in Broadcasting House on the 11th, in parallel, so of course I don't see the programme. Then I appear watch it on iPlayer. And there's an interview with
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	MR POLLARD: The launch of W1? MS WARK: Us moving. This all happened as we had been moving to Broadcasting House. So it was very important to keep them because, as I say and it was very important that they did not think that they had made mistakes themselves, because, in fact, as I said it was a very discrete group on that investigation. Now, and Peter at that point was, I think I think pretty shellshocked to be honest. And there were increasing general conversations I had conversations with Peter, where I certainly got the sense it's not my opinion, but I got the sense that either by accident or design there was a kind of not a process	6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	start the next week. MR POLLARD: Right. MS WARK: So Newsnight is going out. And meanwhile I am at the same time doing an off-air pilot. MR POLLARD: What was that for? MS WARK: For the launch. MR POLLARD: I see, okay. MS WARK: The launch happened the launch happened on the 15th. MR POLLARD: Yes. MS WARK: I'm doing a pilot in Broadcasting House on the 11th, in parallel, so of course I don't see the programme. Then I appear watch it on iPlayer. And there's an interview with
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	MR POLLARD: The launch of W1? MS WARK: Us moving. This all happened as we had been moving to Broadcasting House. So it was very important to keep them because, as I say and it was very important that they did not think that they had made mistakes themselves, because, in fact, as I said it was a very discrete group on that investigation. Now, and Peter at that point was, I think I think pretty shellshocked to be honest. And there were increasing general conversations I had conversations with Peter, where I certainly got the sense it's not my opinion, but I got the sense that either by accident or design there was a kind of not a process of misinformation, but there was just a wee bit of chaos	6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	start the next week. MR POLLARD: Right. MS WARK: So Newsnight is going out. And meanwhile I am at the same time doing an off-air pilot. MR POLLARD: What was that for? MS WARK: For the launch. MR POLLARD: I see, okay. MS WARK: The launch happened the launch happened on the 15th. MR POLLARD: Yes. MS WARK: I'm doing a pilot in Broadcasting House on the 11th, in parallel, so of course I don't see the programme. Then I appear watch it on iPlayer. And there's an interview with Now as far as I know, she was a pupil at the school. But what I don't understand and the other thing was
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19	MR POLLARD: The launch of W1? MS WARK: Us moving. This all happened as we had been moving to Broadcasting House. So it was very important to keep them because, as I say and it was very important that they did not think that they had made mistakes themselves, because, in fact, as I said it was a very discrete group on that investigation. Now, and Peter at that point was, I think I think pretty shellshocked to be honest. And there were increasing general conversations I had conversations with Peter, where I certainly got the sense it's not my opinion, but I got the sense that either by accident or design there was a kind of not a process of misinformation, but there was just a wee bit of chaos that was not characteristic of Newsnight in those stages	6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	start the next week. MR POLLARD: Right. MS WARK: So Newsnight is going out. And meanwhile I am at the same time doing an off-air pilot. MR POLLARD: What was that for? MS WARK: For the launch. MR POLLARD: I see, okay. MS WARK: The launch happened the launch happened on the 15th. MR POLLARD: Yes. MS WARK: I'm doing a pilot in Broadcasting House on the 11th, in parallel, so of course I don't see the programme. Then I appear watch it on iPlayer. And there's an interview with Now as far as I know, she was a pupil at the school. But what I don't understand and the other thing was that the editor of the day didn't see that film, because
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	MR POLLARD: The launch of W1? MS WARK: Us moving. This all happened as we had been moving to Broadcasting House. So it was very important to keep them because, as I say and it was very important that they did not think that they had made mistakes themselves, because, in fact, as I said it was a very discrete group on that investigation. Now, and Peter at that point was, I think I think pretty shellshocked to be honest. And there were increasing general conversations I had conversations with Peter, where I certainly got the sense it's not my opinion, but I got the sense that either by accident or design there was a kind of not a process of misinformation, but there was just a wee bit of chaos that was not characteristic of Newsnight in those stages of an investigation.	6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	start the next week. MR POLLARD: Right. MS WARK: So Newsnight is going out. And meanwhile I am at the same time doing an off-air pilot. MR POLLARD: What was that for? MS WARK: For the launch. MR POLLARD: I see, okay. MS WARK: The launch happened the launch happened on the 15th. MR POLLARD: Yes. MS WARK: I'm doing a pilot in Broadcasting House on the 11th, in parallel, so of course I don't see the programme. Then I appear watch it on iPlayer. And there's an interview with Now as far as I know, she was a pupil at the school. But what I don't understand and the other thing was that the editor of the day didn't see that film, because it was being edited up to the wire, I then enquired.
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	MR POLLARD: The launch of W1? MS WARK: Us moving. This all happened as we had been moving to Broadcasting House. So it was very important to keep them because, as I say and it was very important that they did not think that they had made mistakes themselves, because, in fact, as I said it was a very discrete group on that investigation. Now, and Peter at that point was, I think I think pretty shellshocked to be honest. And there were increasing general conversations I had conversations with Peter, where I certainly got the sense it's not my opinion, but I got the sense that either by accident or design there was a kind of not a process of misinformation, but there was just a wee bit of chaos that was not characteristic of Newsnight in those stages of an investigation. MR POLLARD: Do you mean back in the previous year? MS WARK: No, no. I mean about who knew what when. MR POLLARD: Yes.	6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	start the next week. MR POLLARD: Right. MS WARK: So Newsnight is going out. And meanwhile I am at the same time doing an off-air pilot. MR POLLARD: What was that for? MS WARK: For the launch. MR POLLARD: I see, okay. MS WARK: The launch happened the launch happened on the 15th. MR POLLARD: Yes. MS WARK: I'm doing a pilot in Broadcasting House on the 11th, in parallel, so of course I don't see the programme. Then I appear watch it on iPlayer. And there's an interview with Now as far as I know, she was a pupil at the school. But what I don't understand and the other thing was that the editor of the day didn't see that film, because it was being edited up to the wire, I then enquired. Because I thought: where has this interview come from?
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	MR POLLARD: The launch of W1? MS WARK: Us moving. This all happened as we had been moving to Broadcasting House. So it was very important to keep them because, as I say and it was very important that they did not think that they had made mistakes themselves, because, in fact, as I said it was a very discrete group on that investigation. Now, and Peter at that point was, I think I think pretty shellshocked to be honest. And there were increasing general conversations I had conversations with Peter, where I certainly got the sense it's not my opinion, but I got the sense that either by accident or design there was a kind of not a process of misinformation, but there was just a wee bit of chaos that was not characteristic of Newsnight in those stages of an investigation. MR POLLARD: Do you mean back in the previous year? MS WARK: No, no. I mean about who knew what when. MR POLLARD: Yes. MS WARK: You know. And how much information Meirion had	6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24	start the next week. MR POLLARD: Right. MS WARK: So Newsnight is going out. And meanwhile I am at the same time doing an off-air pilot. MR POLLARD: What was that for? MS WARK: For the launch. MR POLLARD: I see, okay. MS WARK: The launch happened the launch happened on the 15th. MR POLLARD: Yes. MS WARK: I'm doing a pilot in Broadcasting House on the 11th, in parallel, so of course I don't see the programme. Then I appear watch it on iPlayer. And there's an interview with Now as far as I know, she was a pupil at the school. But what I don't understand and the other thing was that the editor of the day didn't see that film, because it was being edited up to the wire, I then enquired. Because I thought: where has this interview come from? And what I was told and I cannot remember by whom
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	MR POLLARD: The launch of W1? MS WARK: Us moving. This all happened as we had been moving to Broadcasting House. So it was very important to keep them because, as I say and it was very important that they did not think that they had made mistakes themselves, because, in fact, as I said it was a very discrete group on that investigation. Now, and Peter at that point was, I think I think pretty shellshocked to be honest. And there were increasing general conversations I had conversations with Peter, where I certainly got the sense it's not my opinion, but I got the sense that either by accident or design there was a kind of not a process of misinformation, but there was just a wee bit of chaos that was not characteristic of Newsnight in those stages of an investigation. MR POLLARD: Do you mean back in the previous year? MS WARK: No, no. I mean about who knew what when. MR POLLARD: Yes. MS WARK: You know. And how much information Meirion had given Peter. How much information Peter thought he had	6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	start the next week. MR POLLARD: Right. MS WARK: So Newsnight is going out. And meanwhile I am at the same time doing an off-air pilot. MR POLLARD: What was that for? MS WARK: For the launch. MR POLLARD: I see, okay. MS WARK: The launch happened the launch happened on the 15th. MR POLLARD: Yes. MS WARK: I'm doing a pilot in Broadcasting House on the 11th, in parallel, so of course I don't see the programme. Then I appear watch it on iPlayer. And there's an interview with Now as far as I know, she was a pupil at the school. But what I don't understand and the other thing was that the editor of the day didn't see that film, because it was being edited up to the wire, I then enquired. Because I thought: where has this interview come from? And what I was told and I cannot remember by whom was that that interview was recorded the previous
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24	MR POLLARD: The launch of W1? MS WARK: Us moving. This all happened as we had been moving to Broadcasting House. So it was very important to keep them because, as I say and it was very important that they did not think that they had made mistakes themselves, because, in fact, as I said it was a very discrete group on that investigation. Now, and Peter at that point was, I think I think pretty shellshocked to be honest. And there were increasing general conversations I had conversations with Peter, where I certainly got the sense it's not my opinion, but I got the sense that either by accident or design there was a kind of not a process of misinformation, but there was just a wee bit of chaos that was not characteristic of Newsnight in those stages of an investigation. MR POLLARD: Do you mean back in the previous year? MS WARK: No, no. I mean about who knew what when. MR POLLARD: Yes. MS WARK: You know. And how much information Meirion had	6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24	start the next week. MR POLLARD: Right. MS WARK: So Newsnight is going out. And meanwhile I am at the same time doing an off-air pilot. MR POLLARD: What was that for? MS WARK: For the launch. MR POLLARD: I see, okay. MS WARK: The launch happened the launch happened on the 15th. MR POLLARD: Yes. MS WARK: I'm doing a pilot in Broadcasting House on the 11th, in parallel, so of course I don't see the programme. Then I appear watch it on iPlayer. And there's an interview with Now as far as I know, she was a pupil at the school. But what I don't understand and the other thing was that the editor of the day didn't see that film, because it was being edited up to the wire, I then enquired. Because I thought: where has this interview come from? And what I was told and I cannot remember by whom

Γ
1	November.	1	MR POLLARD: Yes.
2	MR POLLARD: Yes.	2	MS WARK: Now, that interview
3	MS WARK: Right. So what is also weird about that is that	3	MR POLLARD: The interview?
4	I understood that at the beginning by the beginning	4	MS WARK: Where was it? You probably know that more than
5	of this week, which would be the 8th, or even before,	5	I do at this stage. Where was it languishing? That's
6	all the material that Meirion and Liz had was to be	6	what I don't understand.
7	handed over I think I'm right in saying, not to	7	MR POLLARD: Yes.
8	lawyers, but to somebody else in the BBC, maybe the	8	MR BLAKELY: When you spoke to Meirion and Liz after the ITV
9	editorial policy unit, maybe lawyers, I have no idea.	9	show went out
10	MR POLLARD: Yes,	10	MS WARK: Yes.
11	MS WARK: So here come an interview which is not	11	MR BLAKELY: did you get a sense from them as to how much
12	a corroboration of the sense that it was	12	had been thrashed out with Peter Rippon the previous
13	not another victim. But it was someone who clearly	13	year?
14	said, Jimmy Savile came to the home, what would happen	14	MS WARK: No. No, I didn't get a sense of that. It
15	is children would be ushered in for a cup of tea and	15	wasn't really the conversation was, look get me up to
16	Ms Jones would leave. To me that was building up	16	speed here we may be broadcasting tonight something to
17	a picture, but I had never been told about that	17	do with this story. Because it was like the middle of
18	interview when I had talked to Meirion and Liz after the	18	the afternoon or something like that, and obviously
19	ITV documentary went out. That could just be an	19	things move very quickly.
20	·	20	And of course the decision because then the
21	oversight; they could have forgotten. MR POLLARD: Yes.	21	decision on the week of the 11th I was in New York
22	MS WARK: But Peter Rippon specifically said, "I didn't know	22	for the beginning of that week, but I think the decision about that interview". Which I don't know that is	23	on that week was: when is a good time for us to face
23		24	this story and do it?
24	a claim. I don't know whether it is true or not, but	25	So at that stage presumably the production team was
25	that is what I mean by the fact that it was Page 21	23	Page 23
1	1 age 21		1 450 23
		1
	characterised, I think, by an unusual level of chaos	1	making a decision about when to broadcast it.
1 2	characterised, I think, by an unusual level of chaos which was not and I absolutely repeat not	1 2	making a decision about when to broadcast it. MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this
2	which was not and I absolutely repeat not	l	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this
2 3	which was not and I absolutely repeat not a feature of Newsnight investigations. That might have	2	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this point was, "We thought we had enough to stand up
2 3 4	which was not and I absolutely repeat not a feature of Newsnight investigations. That might have been a miscommunication between Meirion and Liz and	2 3 4	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this point was, "We thought we had enough to stand up the story, yes it didn't go ahead"?
2 3 4 5	which was not and I absolutely repeat not a feature of Newsnight investigations. That might have been a miscommunication between Meirion and Liz and Peter. That's what I'm saying. I don't know that.	2 3 4 5	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this point was, "We thought we had enough to stand up the story, yes it didn't go ahead"? MS WARK: Yes. That was always the line, was they thought
2 3 4 5 6	which was not and I absolutely repeat not a feature of Newsnight investigations. That might have been a miscommunication between Meirion and Liz and Peter. That's what I'm saying. I don't know that. MR BLAKELY: Just on that, typically on your experience, how	2 3 4 5 6	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this point was, "We thought we had enough to stand up the story, yes it didn't go ahead"? MS WARK: Yes. That was always the line, was they thought they had enough to stand up. I don't know I'm making
2 3 4 5 6 7	which was not and I absolutely repeat not a feature of Newsnight investigations. That might have been a miscommunication between Meirion and Liz and Peter. That's what I'm saying. I don't know that. MR BLAKELY: Just on that, typically on your experience, how much attention does the editor would Peter Rippon	2 3 4 5 6 7	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this point was, "We thought we had enough to stand up the story, yes it didn't go ahead"? MS WARK: Yes. That was always the line, was they thought they had enough to stand up. I don't know I'm making an assumption that Liz MacKean looked at transcripts as
2 3 4 5 6 7 8	which was not and I absolutely repeat not a feature of Newsnight investigations. That might have been a miscommunication between Meirion and Liz and Peter. That's what I'm saying. I don't know that. MR BLAKELY: Just on that, typically on your experience, how much attention does the editor would Peter Rippon give to things like draft scripts, taped interviews?	2 3 4 5 6	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this point was, "We thought we had enough to stand up the story, yes it didn't go ahead"? MS WARK: Yes. That was always the line, was they thought they had enough to stand up. I don't know I'm making an assumption that Liz MacKean looked at transcripts as well. I'm also making an assumption no this is not
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9	which was not and I absolutely repeat not a feature of Newsnight investigations. That might have been a miscommunication between Meirion and Liz and Peter. That's what I'm saying. I don't know that. MR BLAKELY: Just on that, typically on your experience, how much attention does the editor would Peter Rippon give to things like draft scripts, taped interviews? Would he sit and review or is it more a process of	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this point was, "We thought we had enough to stand up the story, yes it didn't go ahead"? MS WARK: Yes. That was always the line, was they thought they had enough to stand up. I don't know I'm making an assumption that Liz MacKean looked at transcripts as well. I'm also making an assumption no this is not an assumption, I know this to be the case, I think, that
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9	which was not and I absolutely repeat not a feature of Newsnight investigations. That might have been a miscommunication between Meirion and Liz and Peter. That's what I'm saying. I don't know that. MR BLAKELY: Just on that, typically on your experience, how much attention does the editor would Peter Rippon give to things like draft scripts, taped interviews? Would he sit and review or is it more a process of précis and summarising for him?	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this point was, "We thought we had enough to stand up the story, yes it didn't go ahead"? MS WARK: Yes. That was always the line, was they thought they had enough to stand up. I don't know I'm making an assumption that Liz MacKean looked at transcripts as well. I'm also making an assumption no this is not an assumption, I know this to be the case, I think, that the interviews with the social networking people
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10	which was not and I absolutely repeat not a feature of Newsnight investigations. That might have been a miscommunication between Meirion and Liz and Peter. That's what I'm saying. I don't know that. MR BLAKELY: Just on that, typically on your experience, how much attention does the editor would Peter Rippon give to things like draft scripts, taped interviews? Would he sit and review or is it more a process of précis and summarising for him? MS WARK: It would be précis and summarising in the course	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this point was, "We thought we had enough to stand up the story, yes it didn't go ahead"? MS WARK: Yes. That was always the line, was they thought they had enough to stand up. I don't know I'm making an assumption that Liz MacKean looked at transcripts as well. I'm also making an assumption no this is not an assumption, I know this to be the case, I think, that the interviews with the social networking people anonymously were not done by Liz, I think. I might be
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12	which was not and I absolutely repeat not a feature of Newsnight investigations. That might have been a miscommunication between Meirion and Liz and Peter. That's what I'm saying. I don't know that. MR BLAKELY: Just on that, typically on your experience, how much attention does the editor would Peter Rippon give to things like draft scripts, taped interviews? Would he sit and review or is it more a process of précis and summarising for him? MS WARK: It would be précis and summarising in the course of a normal film, which would be maybe, I don't know	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this point was, "We thought we had enough to stand up the story, yes it didn't go ahead"? MS WARK: Yes. That was always the line, was they thought they had enough to stand up. I don't know I'm making an assumption that Liz MacKean looked at transcripts as well. I'm also making an assumption no this is not an assumption, I know this to be the case, I think, that the interviews with the social networking people anonymously were not done by Liz, I think. I might be wrong about that, but I assume that she had seen the
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13	which was not and I absolutely repeat not a feature of Newsnight investigations. That might have been a miscommunication between Meirion and Liz and Peter. That's what I'm saying. I don't know that. MR BLAKELY: Just on that, typically on your experience, how much attention does the editor would Peter Rippon give to things like draft scripts, taped interviews? Would he sit and review or is it more a process of précis and summarising for him? MS WARK: It would be précis and summarising in the course of a normal film, which would be maybe, I don't know about a big report that was coming out or whatever. But	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this point was, "We thought we had enough to stand up the story, yes it didn't go ahead"? MS WARK: Yes. That was always the line, was they thought they had enough to stand up. I don't know I'm making an assumption that Liz MacKean looked at transcripts as well. I'm also making an assumption no this is not an assumption, I know this to be the case, I think, that the interviews with the social networking people anonymously were not done by Liz, I think. I might be wrong about that, but I assume that she had seen the transcripts.
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14	which was not and I absolutely repeat not a feature of Newsnight investigations. That might have been a miscommunication between Meirion and Liz and Peter. That's what I'm saying. I don't know that. MR BLAKELY: Just on that, typically on your experience, how much attention does the editor would Peter Rippon give to things like draft scripts, taped interviews? Would he sit and review or is it more a process of précis and summarising for him? MS WARK: It would be précis and summarising in the course of a normal film, which would be maybe, I don't know about a big report that was coming out or whatever. But different editors are different, of course, but I think	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this point was, "We thought we had enough to stand up the story, yes it didn't go ahead"? MS WARK: Yes. That was always the line, was they thought they had enough to stand up. I don't know I'm making an assumption that Liz MacKean looked at transcripts as well. I'm also making an assumption no this is not an assumption, I know this to be the case, I think, that the interviews with the social networking people anonymously were not done by Liz, I think. I might be wrong about that, but I assume that she had seen the transcripts. MR POLLARD: Yes, yes.
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14	which was not and I absolutely repeat not a feature of Newsnight investigations. That might have been a miscommunication between Meirion and Liz and Peter. That's what I'm saying. I don't know that. MR BLAKELY: Just on that, typically on your experience, how much attention does the editor would Peter Rippon give to things like draft scripts, taped interviews? Would he sit and review or is it more a process of précis and summarising for him? MS WARK: It would be précis and summarising in the course of a normal film, which would be maybe, I don't know about a big report that was coming out or whatever. But different editors are different, of course, but I think something like this, you would look at the transcripts	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this point was, "We thought we had enough to stand up the story, yes it didn't go ahead"? MS WARK: Yes. That was always the line, was they thought they had enough to stand up. I don't know I'm making an assumption that Liz MacKean looked at transcripts as well. I'm also making an assumption no this is not an assumption, I know this to be the case, I think, that the interviews with the social networking people anonymously were not done by Liz, I think. I might be wrong about that, but I assume that she had seen the transcripts. MR POLLARD: Yes, yes. Just to knock back to, if you like, the point when
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	which was not and I absolutely repeat not a feature of Newsnight investigations. That might have been a miscommunication between Meirion and Liz and Peter. That's what I'm saying. I don't know that. MR BLAKELY: Just on that, typically on your experience, how much attention does the editor would Peter Rippon give to things like draft scripts, taped interviews? Would he sit and review or is it more a process of précis and summarising for him? MS WARK: It would be précis and summarising in the course of a normal film, which would be maybe, I don't know about a big report that was coming out or whatever. But different editors are different, of course, but I think something like this, you would look at the transcripts to get a sense yourself, wouldn't you want to? And	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this point was, "We thought we had enough to stand up the story, yes it didn't go ahead"? MS WARK: Yes. That was always the line, was they thought they had enough to stand up. I don't know I'm making an assumption that Liz MacKean looked at transcripts as well. I'm also making an assumption no this is not an assumption, I know this to be the case, I think, that the interviews with the social networking people anonymously were not done by Liz, I think. I might be wrong about that, but I assume that she had seen the transcripts. MR POLLARD: Yes, yes. Just to knock back to, if you like, the point when the original enquiry was shelved and you may not know
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	which was not and I absolutely repeat not a feature of Newsnight investigations. That might have been a miscommunication between Meirion and Liz and Peter. That's what I'm saying. I don't know that. MR BLAKELY: Just on that, typically on your experience, how much attention does the editor would Peter Rippon give to things like draft scripts, taped interviews? Would he sit and review or is it more a process of précis and summarising for him? MS WARK: It would be précis and summarising in the course of a normal film, which would be maybe, I don't know about a big report that was coming out or whatever. But different editors are different, of course, but I think something like this, you would look at the transcripts to get a sense yourself, wouldn't you want to? And I don't know whether Peter did or not.	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this point was, "We thought we had enough to stand up the story, yes it didn't go ahead"? MS WARK: Yes. That was always the line, was they thought they had enough to stand up. I don't know I'm making an assumption that Liz MacKean looked at transcripts as well. I'm also making an assumption no this is not an assumption, I know this to be the case, I think, that the interviews with the social networking people anonymously were not done by Liz, I think. I might be wrong about that, but I assume that she had seen the transcripts. MR POLLARD: Yes, yes. Just to knock back to, if you like, the point when the original enquiry was shelved and you may not know this do you get the sense at the time, or immediately
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	which was not and I absolutely repeat not a feature of Newsnight investigations. That might have been a miscommunication between Meirion and Liz and Peter. That's what I'm saying. I don't know that. MR BLAKELY: Just on that, typically on your experience, how much attention does the editor would Peter Rippon give to things like draft scripts, taped interviews? Would he sit and review or is it more a process of précis and summarising for him? MS WARK: It would be précis and summarising in the course of a normal film, which would be maybe, I don't know about a big report that was coming out or whatever. But different editors are different, of course, but I think something like this, you would look at the transcripts to get a sense yourself, wouldn't you want to? And I don't know whether Peter did or not. MR BLAKELY: Yes.	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this point was, "We thought we had enough to stand up the story, yes it didn't go ahead"? MS WARK: Yes. That was always the line, was they thought they had enough to stand up. I don't know I'm making an assumption that Liz MacKean looked at transcripts as well. I'm also making an assumption no this is not an assumption, I know this to be the case, I think, that the interviews with the social networking people anonymously were not done by Liz, I think. I might be wrong about that, but I assume that she had seen the transcripts. MR POLLARD: Yes, yes. Just to knock back to, if you like, the point when the original enquiry was shelved and you may not know this do you get the sense at the time, or immediately afterwards, that there had been a real battle over it?
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19	which was not and I absolutely repeat not a feature of Newsnight investigations. That might have been a miscommunication between Meirion and Liz and Peter. That's what I'm saying. I don't know that. MR BLAKELY: Just on that, typically on your experience, how much attention does the editor would Peter Rippon give to things like draft scripts, taped interviews? Would he sit and review or is it more a process of précis and summarising for him? MS WARK: It would be précis and summarising in the course of a normal film, which would be maybe, I don't know about a big report that was coming out or whatever. But different editors are different, of course, but I think something like this, you would look at the transcripts to get a sense yourself, wouldn't you want to? And I don't know whether Peter did or not. MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: You see, because it depends the transcripts	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this point was, "We thought we had enough to stand up the story, yes it didn't go ahead"? MS WARK: Yes. That was always the line, was they thought they had enough to stand up. I don't know I'm making an assumption that Liz MacKean looked at transcripts as well. I'm also making an assumption no this is not an assumption, I know this to be the case, I think, that the interviews with the social networking people anonymously were not done by Liz, I think. I might be wrong about that, but I assume that she had seen the transcripts. MR POLLARD: Yes, yes. Just to knock back to, if you like, the point when the original enquiry was shelved and you may not know this do you get the sense at the time, or immediately afterwards, that there had been a real battle over it? MS WARK: No, I didn't get that sense. I now know, of
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	which was not and I absolutely repeat not a feature of Newsnight investigations. That might have been a miscommunication between Meirion and Liz and Peter. That's what I'm saying. I don't know that. MR BLAKELY: Just on that, typically on your experience, how much attention does the editor would Peter Rippon give to things like draft scripts, taped interviews? Would he sit and review or is it more a process of précis and summarising for him? MS WARK: It would be précis and summarising in the course of a normal film, which would be maybe, I don't know about a big report that was coming out or whatever. But different editors are different, of course, but I think something like this, you would look at the transcripts to get a sense yourself, wouldn't you want to? And I don't know whether Peter did or not. MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: You see, because it depends the transcripts presumably were there, they were available. But that's	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this point was, "We thought we had enough to stand up the story, yes it didn't go ahead"? MS WARK: Yes. That was always the line, was they thought they had enough to stand up. I don't know I'm making an assumption that Liz MacKean looked at transcripts as well. I'm also making an assumption no this is not an assumption, I know this to be the case, I think, that the interviews with the social networking people anonymously were not done by Liz, I think. I might be wrong about that, but I assume that she had seen the transcripts. MR POLLARD: Yes, yes. Just to knock back to, if you like, the point when the original enquiry was shelved and you may not know this do you get the sense at the time, or immediately afterwards, that there had been a real battle over it? MS WARK: No, I didn't get that sense. I now know, of course that well, actually, had there been? That's
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	which was not and I absolutely repeat not a feature of Newsnight investigations. That might have been a miscommunication between Meirion and Liz and Peter. That's what I'm saying. I don't know that. MR BLAKELY: Just on that, typically on your experience, how much attention does the editor would Peter Rippon give to things like draft scripts, taped interviews? Would he sit and review or is it more a process of précis and summarising for him? MS WARK: It would be précis and summarising in the course of a normal film, which would be maybe, I don't know about a big report that was coming out or whatever. But different editors are different, of course, but I think something like this, you would look at the transcripts to get a sense yourself, wouldn't you want to? And I don't know whether Peter did or not. MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: You see, because it depends the transcripts presumably were there, they were available. But that's another assumption I'm making. I don't know whether the	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this point was, "We thought we had enough to stand up the story, yes it didn't go ahead"? MS WARK: Yes. That was always the line, was they thought they had enough to stand up. I don't know I'm making an assumption that Liz MacKean looked at transcripts as well. I'm also making an assumption no this is not an assumption, I know this to be the case, I think, that the interviews with the social networking people anonymously were not done by Liz, I think. I might be wrong about that, but I assume that she had seen the transcripts. MR POLLARD: Yes, yes. Just to knock back to, if you like, the point when the original enquiry was shelved and you may not know this do you get the sense at the time, or immediately afterwards, that there had been a real battle over it? MS WARK: No, I didn't get that sense. I now know, of course that well, actually, had there been? That's what I don't know. I can't make it out. I have no
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	which was not and I absolutely repeat not a feature of Newsnight investigations. That might have been a miscommunication between Meirion and Liz and Peter. That's what I'm saying. I don't know that. MR BLAKELY: Just on that, typically on your experience, how much attention does the editor would Peter Rippon give to things like draft scripts, taped interviews? Would he sit and review or is it more a process of précis and summarising for him? MS WARK: It would be précis and summarising in the course of a normal film, which would be maybe, I don't know about a big report that was coming out or whatever. But different editors are different, of course, but I think something like this, you would look at the transcripts to get a sense yourself, wouldn't you want to? And I don't know whether Peter did or not. MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: You see, because it depends the transcripts presumably were there, they were available. But that's another assumption I'm making. I don't know whether the transcripts were available, but you would think they	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this point was, "We thought we had enough to stand up the story, yes it didn't go ahead"? MS WARK: Yes. That was always the line, was they thought they had enough to stand up. I don't know I'm making an assumption that Liz MacKean looked at transcripts as well. I'm also making an assumption no this is not an assumption, I know this to be the case, I think, that the interviews with the social networking people anonymously were not done by Liz, I think. I might be wrong about that, but I assume that she had seen the transcripts. MR POLLARD: Yes, yes. Just to knock back to, if you like, the point when the original enquiry was shelved and you may not know this do you get the sense at the time, or immediately afterwards, that there had been a real battle over it? MS WARK: No, I didn't get that sense. I now know, of course that well, actually, had there been? That's what I don't know. I can't make it out. I have no opinion on that, because I don't know whether or not
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	which was not and I absolutely repeat not a feature of Newsnight investigations. That might have been a miscommunication between Meirion and Liz and Peter. That's what I'm saying. I don't know that. MR BLAKELY: Just on that, typically on your experience, how much attention does the editor would Peter Rippon give to things like draft scripts, taped interviews? Would he sit and review or is it more a process of précis and summarising for him? MS WARK: It would be précis and summarising in the course of a normal film, which would be maybe, I don't know about a big report that was coming out or whatever. But different editors are different, of course, but I think something like this, you would look at the transcripts to get a sense yourself, wouldn't you want to? And I don't know whether Peter did or not. MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: You see, because it depends the transcripts presumably were there, they were available. But that's another assumption I'm making. I don't know whether the transcripts were available, but you would think they must have been, because they must have been part and	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this point was, "We thought we had enough to stand up the story, yes it didn't go ahead"? MS WARK: Yes. That was always the line, was they thought they had enough to stand up. I don't know I'm making an assumption that Liz MacKean looked at transcripts as well. I'm also making an assumption no this is not an assumption, I know this to be the case, I think, that the interviews with the social networking people anonymously were not done by Liz, I think. I might be wrong about that, but I assume that she had seen the transcripts. MR POLLARD: Yes, yes. Just to knock back to, if you like, the point when the original enquiry was shelved and you may not know this do you get the sense at the time, or immediately afterwards, that there had been a real battle over it? MS WARK: No, I didn't get that sense. I now know, of course that well, actually, had there been? That's what I don't know. I can't make it out. I have no opinion on that, because I don't know whether or not there was a battle, or whether it was: this is not going
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24	which was not and I absolutely repeat not a feature of Newsnight investigations. That might have been a miscommunication between Meirion and Liz and Peter. That's what I'm saying. I don't know that. MR BLAKELY: Just on that, typically on your experience, how much attention does the editor would Peter Rippon give to things like draft scripts, taped interviews? Would he sit and review or is it more a process of précis and summarising for him? MS WARK: It would be précis and summarising in the course of a normal film, which would be maybe, I don't know about a big report that was coming out or whatever. But different editors are different, of course, but I think something like this, you would look at the transcripts to get a sense yourself, wouldn't you want to? And I don't know whether Peter did or not. MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: You see, because it depends the transcripts presumably were there, they were available. But that's another assumption I'm making. I don't know whether the transcripts were available, but you would think they must have been, because they must have been part and parcel of preparation to broadcast the previous	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this point was, "We thought we had enough to stand up the story, yes it didn't go ahead"? MS WARK: Yes. That was always the line, was they thought they had enough to stand up. I don't know I'm making an assumption that Liz MacKean looked at transcripts as well. I'm also making an assumption no this is not an assumption, I know this to be the case, I think, that the interviews with the social networking people anonymously were not done by Liz, I think. I might be wrong about that, but I assume that she had seen the transcripts. MR POLLARD: Yes, yes. Just to knock back to, if you like, the point when the original enquiry was shelved and you may not know this do you get the sense at the time, or immediately afterwards, that there had been a real battle over it? MS WARK: No, I didn't get that sense. I now know, of course that well, actually, had there been? That's what I don't know. I can't make it out. I have no opinion on that, because I don't know whether or not there was a battle, or whether it was: this is not going ahead, pull the editing, move off.
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	which was not and I absolutely repeat not a feature of Newsnight investigations. That might have been a miscommunication between Meirion and Liz and Peter. That's what I'm saying. I don't know that. MR BLAKELY: Just on that, typically on your experience, how much attention does the editor would Peter Rippon give to things like draft scripts, taped interviews? Would he sit and review or is it more a process of précis and summarising for him? MS WARK: It would be précis and summarising in the course of a normal film, which would be maybe, I don't know about a big report that was coming out or whatever. But different editors are different, of course, but I think something like this, you would look at the transcripts to get a sense yourself, wouldn't you want to? And I don't know whether Peter did or not. MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: You see, because it depends the transcripts presumably were there, they were available. But that's another assumption I'm making. I don't know whether the transcripts were available, but you would think they must have been, because they must have been part and	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	MR BLAKELY: The limit of what you got from them, at this point was, "We thought we had enough to stand up the story, yes it didn't go ahead"? MS WARK: Yes. That was always the line, was they thought they had enough to stand up. I don't know I'm making an assumption that Liz MacKean looked at transcripts as well. I'm also making an assumption no this is not an assumption, I know this to be the case, I think, that the interviews with the social networking people anonymously were not done by Liz, I think. I might be wrong about that, but I assume that she had seen the transcripts. MR POLLARD: Yes, yes. Just to knock back to, if you like, the point when the original enquiry was shelved and you may not know this do you get the sense at the time, or immediately afterwards, that there had been a real battle over it? MS WARK: No, I didn't get that sense. I now know, of course that well, actually, had there been? That's what I don't know. I can't make it out. I have no opinion on that, because I don't know whether or not there was a battle, or whether it was: this is not going

1	MR POLLARD: What did you think when you heard that Panorama	1	will put as we follow that decision-making process.
2	were going to do that story, and that Newsnight would	2	MS WARK: Yes.
3	figure heavily in that story?	3	MR POLLARD: Obviously the people on Newsnight realised that
4	MS WARK: Well it was a legitimate it was a legitimate	4	Meirion and Liz were intimately involved with that
5	piece of journalism. There is just no question of that.	5	Panorama programme. What was your view of that? What
6	Tom Giles, who is the editor of Panorama, is a former	6	was the sort of sense in the office?
7	day editor of Newsnight. There might have been	7	MS WARK: I mean the sense was that Meirion was away in
8	a feeling abroad of "God, Panorama", but actually	8	Panorama and then I think at some point, I think I am
9	I think it was best that we aired it. I really do.	9	right in saying, it was not it was a second remove
10	I really do.	10	from Panorama again, I think that's what happened. I do
11	MR POLLARD: Yes.	11	not know that is the result of the particular
12	MS WARK: I mean, obviously you know all the questions, but,	12	involvement of his aunt, I don't know. Liz MacKean was
13	you know, to my mind there were there are big	13	still working on the programme.
14	questions sort of beyond this which I don't understand	14	MR POLLARD: Yes.
15	and I would be very keen to hear what you actually put	15	MS WARK: Now, there is no legitimate reason why she
16	in your report. Why it was dropped stone dead and	16	shouldn't be.
17	rather than saying, "Look, Meirion and Liz, you have	17	MR POLLARD: Yes.
18	clearly got the guts of a good story here, keep	18	MS WARK: You know. And she wasn't criticising Newsnight
19	digging", that's the first question.	19	per se, she obviously feels very passionately about what
20	The second question is, you get someone who	20	happens, but she works on the programme. There is no
21	apparently is very vulnerable to speak for the first	21	problem with working on the programme.
22	time in many years and the story is dropped, she is	22	MR POLLARD: She didn't seem like somebody who was strongly
23	dropped. Why didn't Meirion and Liz go to either EdPOL	23	disgruntled in that period post
24	or up the chain to say, "Look, you know, we brought this	24	MS WARK: I was not there very much with her, but I think
25	woman out into the open here. It's taken a lot for us	25	post lets be quite clear, she did the film on the
 	Page 29	 	Page 31
1	to get her into the open. We think there's a really	1	11th.
2	important story here, it has to keep going"?	2	MR POLLARD: Yes.
3	MR BLAKELY: Is there a process for that, in the chain, to	3	MS WARK: I don't know if she did the interview with
4	bypass, as it were	4	or not
5	MS WARK: That's why I'm thinking. That's that's why I'm	5	MR POLLARD: Right.
6	asking that. Because I'm making the assumption there	6	MS WARK: the previous November. This is an unknown.
7	is. But then, you you will have to ask Meirion that.	7	MR POLLARD: Yes.
8	What Meirion was understanding would be presumably that	8	MS WARK: But I will tell you that interview took everybody
9	the process would be Steve, Helen, or would it be	9	on Newsnight by surprise.
10	David Jordan or or did he even think about the fact	10	MR POLLARD: Yes.
11	that it was personally so important to him that you	11	I imagine well, the people on Newsnight at that
12	could not let this woman down?	12	stage inevitably felt a bit embattled, did they, even
13	Now that is a thing, because she clearly felt let	13	embattled by their own colleagues on Panorama?
14	down.	14	MS WARK: Well, in a sense that was what I'm not sure.
15	MR BLAKELY: You don't personally know whether there is a	15	I think the very strong sense of the kind of job we had
16	mechanism	16	to do to go on air with a great programme, which is what
17	MS WARK: That's what I'm saying. I do not know and it's	17	we did when we went to Broadcasting House. And I think
18	not an opinion, I'm asking the question.	18	it was very important to make sure that they didn't feel
19	MR BLAKELY: I'm sorry, you don't know as a matter of BBC	19	embattled, the BBC. It is not we were getting
20	practice and a matter of practice whether you can, as it	20	obviously a rough ride in the papers, but then you get
21	were, circumvent	21	a rough ride in the papers sometimes, and I just say
22	MS WARK: I don't, I'm making an assumption even in HR if	22	just keep going and we have done investigations since.
23	you have a concern about something, there must be	23	So I absolutely think that the culture on Newsnight
24	a place you can go.	24	has got to be fearless and that is really important and
25	MR POLLARD: Yes. Those are absolutely questions that we	25	I think the job of the senior team, myself and Jeremy as
	Page 30		Page 32
			8 (Pages 29 to 32

MR POLLARD: Either at the time that the story was dropped 1 well, to make sure that they feel that, that they feel 2 or as, if you like, later when the ITV programme came 2 that they are going to do a good job and not be 3 about and the detailed explanation started to emerge, 3 embattled by this. what was your view about whether the investigation had 4 4 MR POLLARD: A very good point. Did you and Jeremy, if you 5 been dropped for legitimate reasons? And what was the 5 like, decide either formally or informally that in the absence of an editor you would rally the troops a bit -general view in Newsnight? 6 7 MS WARK: There was certainly a view in Newsnight that --7 MS WARK: I did, and Jeremy. We both did a bit, yes, I have 8 to say, just with a couple of emails. To say, you are 8 and I certainly, you know, it was not beyond bounds of 9 possibility that with these big tribute programmes 9 great, get your head down and we're going to do a great 10 coming up there was a nervousness. Whether that 10 show and that's really important. Because we've come 11 transmitted itself to Peter, I don't know, but it struck 11 through a lot more -- you know in a way, all power to 12 me that the juxtaposition was -- I actually think Peter 12 ITV for getting that out there, absolutely all power to 13 actually wrote that or said that to Helen at the time, 13 them. And it has been much more important in 1a sense 14 something about, "you know, this is going to be 14 than the Newsnight, is what the culture has been with 15 a difficult time for this investigation with the tribute 15 the Savile stuff, but of course your remit is Newsnight 16 and that is absolutely right. 16 programmes coming up". So, you know, to all intents and purposes by that 17 17 MR POLLARD: Yes. Did you have much to do with this chap, blog Peter had dropped it for editorial reasons himself. 18 18 Mark Williams-Thomas. You know that I have no knowledge to the contrary of 19 MS WARK: I didn't know him, 19 20 20 that but it was -- it was bound to be a very difficult MR POLLARD: Didn't know him? 21 MS WARK: No. I didn't even know he existed. MR BLAKELY: Was there any division amongst the team at this 22 MR POLLARD: No. He was obviously helping Meirion and Liz on Newsnight and I think played a major role in ITV 23 point into camps that thought it was an editorial 23 decision and camps that thought it was a pressure 24 25 decision? you didn't really have any --25 Page 35 Page 33 MS WARK: No, I think quite a lot of people thought it was MS WARK: No. Nor do I have any knowledge as to whether 1 2 a pressure decision. 2 Meirion kept a connection with him after he had done his MR BLAKELY: Would you say the majority? 3 3 work for BBC. 4 MS WARK: I don't know. I'm never -- you know, I don't MR POLLARD: Okay. That's fair enough. 4 5 speak to everybody, I didn't make an interrogation. But 5 At some stage you must have become aware of the it was certainly -- it's in the ether, isn't it? 6 famous blog --6 MR POLLARD: What's the atmosphere like now on Newsnight? 7 7 MS WARK: Yes. MS WARK: Actually the atmosphere -- I mean I have not been 8 8 MR POLLARD: -- that Peter wrote, obviously after the ITV down for about ten days because I have been working in 9 9 programme --10 Scotland, but the atmosphere actually I think is good 10 MS WARK: Yes. now. I think, you know, the election is over; we are 11 MR POLLARD: -- setting out his view of why the Newsnight 11 doing a big China special tonight --12 12 investigation had been dropped and setting out that. MR POLLARD: Yes. 13 13 What sort of effect, if any, did that have on the MS WARK: -- and I think basically everybody has just got 14 Newsnight team? Was it a big milestone? 14 15 their heads down and got on with it. MS WARK: No. It wasn't a big milestone. I suppose the key 15 I mean, you know, we're in a situation where we're 16 16 thing -- I mean, setting aside the stuff about CPS in kind of denuded because Peter clearly is not working on Surrey, which was not -- I mean, I think the key thing 17 17 the programme; Shaminder, as had been long planned 18 18 was that he said in the blog that he had taken the because she got the job, is at Channel 4; and Liz is 19 19 editorial decision himself. I think that's right. 20 an incredibly competent deputy. So everybody feels 20 I think I'm right in saying he wrote that in that blog. happy that Liz is there but, you know, it's all hands to 21 21 MR POLLARD: Yes. Okay. 22 the pumps because we have a smaller team. MR BLAKELY: Sorry, that was -- that was accepted as the 22 23 MR POLLARD: Yes. 23 correct account by the team? MS WARK: But all the investigations, everything is still MS WARK: At face value that was the account. We don't 24 24 25 going on as normal. 25 know. Page 36 Page 34 9 (Pages 33 to 36)

1
1	MR POLLARD: On that point about denuding the team, have you	1	MR BLAKELY: I mean, sorry, typically the editor's blog its
2	had a sense since I think many departments in the BBC	2	his pet
3	have been squeezed and lost staff. Has that been	3	MS WARK: Typically the editor's blog is the editor's blog,
4	a noticeable thing on Newsnight, that you have fewer	4	yes. And I don't know whether the editor's blog is
5	resources or fewer people?	5	referred up every week, I have no idea, but I think this
6	MS WARK: I don't I think Newsnight is I'm not saying	6	one was.
7	it has been protected, but I think that there is a good	7	MR POLLARD: You were going to say something earlier,
8	strong team on Newsnight just now. I don't get a sense	8	I think, about Meirion and Meirion's sort of record of
9	that we are lacking in kind of serious, grown up	9	stories.
10	journalists.	10	What was your take on that? Was it really to do
11	MR POLLARD: What's your feeling about the way that the BBC	11	with his experience and, if you like, his track record
12	has handled this over, shall we say, the past month or	12	and credibility?
13	so I suppose since the ITV programme and the ways	13	MS WARK: Yes. I mean, I think he is very tenacious and
14	that statements have emerged and the ways that those	14	I think he has a good track record. I think he becomes
15	have been reported?	15	very involved and that you'd want. And I think but
16	MS WARK: This is opinion. I really don't know if I feel	16	I think it's a case of I mean, I don't know this but
17	like giving this, but I think that the my concern was	17	my understanding is it is quite good to touch base with
18	now looking back on it, I think why well, two things	18	Meirion quite a lot in terms of just when things are
19	first of all.	19	progressing and I don't know if that was a relationship
20	You know, on reflection I think a blog is far too	20	that he had with Peter Rippon.
21	casual a way to put out something as important as this.	21	MR POLLARD: Yes. Are you suggesting that, if you like,
22	So I don't know whose decision it was to get Peter to do	22	tenacity a great up to a certain point: It can be
23	the blog. The blog wasn't just I understand that	23	slightly counter-productive if it goes beyond that
24	Peter showed that blog. He must have before it went	24	point?
25	out. And I'm not sure I think that a blog was the best	25	MS WARK: No, I think it just needs to be tenacity tempered
	Page 37	 	Page 39
1	plan to be honest, so that's what I think.	1	with, you know, a kind of regular touching base, really.
2	MR BLAKELY: Was the blog something you typically paid	2	You know, touching base is the wrong word, but just kind
3	attention to?	3	of regular updates about "How is it going? What have
4	MS WARK: It was paid attention to outside the BBC	4	you got?"
5	MR BLAKELY: Sorry, prior to all this was the blog something	5	MR POLLARD: Just standard journalistic practice
6	* * *	١.	-
7	that you would have paid particular attention to, the	6	MS WARK: Yes.
	that you would have paid particular attention to, the	6 7
1	editor's blog?	1	MS WARK: Yes. MR POLLARD: you might think. MS WARK: Yes.
8		7	MR POLLARD: you might think. MS WARK: Yes.
8 9	editor's blog? MS WARK: The editor's blog? Not particularly. I mean, now and then	7 8	MR POLLARD: you might think.
8 9 10	editor's blog? MS WARK: The editor's blog? Not particularly. I mean, now and then MR BLAKELY: Yes.	7 8 9 10	MR POLLARD: you might think. MS WARK: Yes. MR POLLARD: And it is clear that Peter was effectively exec
8 9 10 11	editor's blog? MS WARK: The editor's blog? Not particularly. I mean, now and then MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: But actually for something like this I'm not sure	7 8 9	MR POLLARD: you might think.MS WARK: Yes.MR POLLARD: And it is clear that Peter was effectively exec producing that investigation.
8 9 10 11 12	editor's blog? MS WARK: The editor's blog? Not particularly. I mean, now and then MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: But actually for something like this I'm not sure the blog was the right vehicle, because clearly we were	7 8 9 10 11	MR POLLARD: you might think.MS WARK: Yes.MR POLLARD: And it is clear that Peter was effectively exec producing that investigation.MS WARK: He was. It wasn't Liz; it was he who was doing
8 9 10 11 12 13	editor's blog? MS WARK: The editor's blog? Not particularly. I mean, now and then MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: But actually for something like this I'm not sure the blog was the right vehicle, because clearly we were dealing with something incredibly difficult and serious	7 8 9 10 11 12	MR POLLARD: you might think. MS WARK: Yes. MR POLLARD: And it is clear that Peter was effectively exec producing that investigation. MS WARK: He was. It wasn't Liz; it was he who was doing that.
8 9 10 11 12 13 14	editor's blog? MS WARK: The editor's blog? Not particularly. I mean, now and then MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: But actually for something like this I'm not sure the blog was the right vehicle, because clearly we were dealing with something incredibly difficult and serious and it wasn't just a kind of weekly chat.	7 8 9 10 11 12 13	 MR POLLARD: you might think. MS WARK: Yes. MR POLLARD: And it is clear that Peter was effectively exec producing that investigation. MS WARK: He was. It wasn't Liz; it was he who was doing that. MR POLLARD: Indeed. From what you were saying about
8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	editor's blog? MS WARK: The editor's blog? Not particularly. I mean, now and then MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: But actually for something like this I'm not sure the blog was the right vehicle, because clearly we were dealing with something incredibly difficult and serious and it wasn't just a kind of weekly chat. MR BLAKELY: In general terms, was the blog for weekly	7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14	 MR POLLARD: you might think. MS WARK: Yes. MR POLLARD: And it is clear that Peter was effectively exec producing that investigation. MS WARK: He was. It wasn't Liz; it was he who was doing that. MR POLLARD: Indeed. From what you were saying about Peter's slightly stand-back style, might that have been a factor in not absolutely keeping up with everything
8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	editor's blog? MS WARK: The editor's blog? Not particularly. I mean, now and then MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: But actually for something like this I'm not sure the blog was the right vehicle, because clearly we were dealing with something incredibly difficult and serious and it wasn't just a kind of weekly chat. MR BLAKELY: In general terms, was the blog for weekly chats? What was its purpose?	7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	 MR POLLARD: you might think. MS WARK: Yes. MR POLLARD: And it is clear that Peter was effectively exec producing that investigation. MS WARK: He was. It wasn't Liz; it was he who was doing that. MR POLLARD: Indeed. From what you were saying about Peter's slightly stand-back style, might that have been
8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	editor's blog? MS WARK: The editor's blog? Not particularly. I mean, now and then MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: But actually for something like this I'm not sure the blog was the right vehicle, because clearly we were dealing with something incredibly difficult and serious and it wasn't just a kind of weekly chat. MR BLAKELY: In general terms, was the blog for weekly chats? What was its purpose? MS WARK: It was just to say what was going on.	7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	 MR POLLARD: you might think. MS WARK: Yes. MR POLLARD: And it is clear that Peter was effectively exec producing that investigation. MS WARK: He was. It wasn't Liz; it was he who was doing that. MR POLLARD: Indeed. From what you were saying about Peter's slightly stand-back style, might that have been a factor in not absolutely keeping up with everything that was going on in the investigation?
8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	editor's blog? MS WARK: The editor's blog? Not particularly. I mean, now and then MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: But actually for something like this I'm not sure the blog was the right vehicle, because clearly we were dealing with something incredibly difficult and serious and it wasn't just a kind of weekly chat. MR BLAKELY: In general terms, was the blog for weekly chats? What was its purpose? MS WARK: It was just to say what was going on. MR BLAKELY: Yes.	7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	 MR POLLARD: you might think. MS WARK: Yes. MR POLLARD: And it is clear that Peter was effectively exec producing that investigation. MS WARK: He was. It wasn't Liz; it was he who was doing that. MR POLLARD: Indeed. From what you were saying about Peter's slightly stand-back style, might that have been a factor in not absolutely keeping up with everything that was going on in the investigation? MS WARK: I don't know the answer to that. It was clearly a serious investigation, so if your editor is the person
8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19	editor's blog? MS WARK: The editor's blog? Not particularly. I mean, now and then MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: But actually for something like this I'm not sure the blog was the right vehicle, because clearly we were dealing with something incredibly difficult and serious and it wasn't just a kind of weekly chat. MR BLAKELY: In general terms, was the blog for weekly chats? What was its purpose? MS WARK: It was just to say what was going on. MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: Maybe the BBC felt that was the only vehicle that	7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	 MR POLLARD: you might think. MS WARK: Yes. MR POLLARD: And it is clear that Peter was effectively exec producing that investigation. MS WARK: He was. It wasn't Liz; it was he who was doing that. MR POLLARD: Indeed. From what you were saying about Peter's slightly stand-back style, might that have been a factor in not absolutely keeping up with everything that was going on in the investigation? MS WARK: I don't know the answer to that. It was clearly a serious investigation, so if your editor is the person who is involved in a serious investigation, it's because
8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	editor's blog? MS WARK: The editor's blog? Not particularly. I mean, now and then MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: But actually for something like this I'm not sure the blog was the right vehicle, because clearly we were dealing with something incredibly difficult and serious and it wasn't just a kind of weekly chat. MR BLAKELY: In general terms, was the blog for weekly chats? What was its purpose? MS WARK: It was just to say what was going on. MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: Maybe the BBC felt that was the only vehicle that Peter Rippon could use, I don't know. But to me it	7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	 MR POLLARD: you might think. MS WARK: Yes. MR POLLARD: And it is clear that Peter was effectively exec producing that investigation. MS WARK: He was. It wasn't Liz; it was he who was doing that. MR POLLARD: Indeed. From what you were saying about Peter's slightly stand-back style, might that have been a factor in not absolutely keeping up with everything that was going on in the investigation? MS WARK: I don't know the answer to that. It was clearly a serious investigation, so if your editor is the person
8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	editor's blog? MS WARK: The editor's blog? Not particularly. I mean, now and then MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: But actually for something like this I'm not sure the blog was the right vehicle, because clearly we were dealing with something incredibly difficult and serious and it wasn't just a kind of weekly chat. MR BLAKELY: In general terms, was the blog for weekly chats? What was its purpose? MS WARK: It was just to say what was going on. MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: Maybe the BBC felt that was the only vehicle that Peter Rippon could use, I don't know. But to me it was to me a blog is quite a casual thing.	7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	 MR POLLARD: you might think. MS WARK: Yes. MR POLLARD: And it is clear that Peter was effectively exec producing that investigation. MS WARK: He was. It wasn't Liz; it was he who was doing that. MR POLLARD: Indeed. From what you were saying about Peter's slightly stand-back style, might that have been a factor in not absolutely keeping up with everything that was going on in the investigation? MS WARK: I don't know the answer to that. It was clearly a serious investigation, so if your editor is the person who is involved in a serious investigation, it's because it is serious. And therefore, you know, I don't know how often Peter and Meirion personally have worked
8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	editor's blog? MS WARK: The editor's blog? Not particularly. I mean, now and then MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: But actually for something like this I'm not sure the blog was the right vehicle, because clearly we were dealing with something incredibly difficult and serious and it wasn't just a kind of weekly chat. MR BLAKELY: In general terms, was the blog for weekly chats? What was its purpose? MS WARK: It was just to say what was going on. MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: Maybe the BBC felt that was the only vehicle that Peter Rippon could use, I don't know. But to me it was to me a blog is quite a casual thing. MR BLAKELY: It was Peter's blog, was it, rather than	7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	 MR POLLARD: you might think. MS WARK: Yes. MR POLLARD: And it is clear that Peter was effectively exec producing that investigation. MS WARK: He was. It wasn't Liz; it was he who was doing that. MR POLLARD: Indeed. From what you were saying about Peter's slightly stand-back style, might that have been a factor in not absolutely keeping up with everything that was going on in the investigation? MS WARK: I don't know the answer to that. It was clearly a serious investigation, so if your editor is the person who is involved in a serious investigation, it's because it is serious. And therefore, you know, I don't know how often Peter and Meirion personally have worked together on something. It had usually been other
8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	editor's blog? MS WARK: The editor's blog? Not particularly. I mean, now and then MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: But actually for something like this I'm not sure the blog was the right vehicle, because clearly we were dealing with something incredibly difficult and serious and it wasn't just a kind of weekly chat. MR BLAKELY: In general terms, was the blog for weekly chats? What was its purpose? MS WARK: It was just to say what was going on. MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: Maybe the BBC felt that was the only vehicle that Peter Rippon could use, I don't know. But to me it was to me a blog is quite a casual thing. MR BLAKELY: It was Peter's blog, was it, rather than there's a team that takes care of it and he signs it	7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	 MR POLLARD: you might think. MS WARK: Yes. MR POLLARD: And it is clear that Peter was effectively exec producing that investigation. MS WARK: He was. It wasn't Liz; it was he who was doing that. MR POLLARD: Indeed. From what you were saying about Peter's slightly stand-back style, might that have been a factor in not absolutely keeping up with everything that was going on in the investigation? MS WARK: I don't know the answer to that. It was clearly a serious investigation, so if your editor is the person who is involved in a serious investigation, it's because it is serious. And therefore, you know, I don't know how often Peter and Meirion personally have worked
8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24	editor's blog? MS WARK: The editor's blog? Not particularly. I mean, now and then MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: But actually for something like this I'm not sure the blog was the right vehicle, because clearly we were dealing with something incredibly difficult and serious and it wasn't just a kind of weekly chat. MR BLAKELY: In general terms, was the blog for weekly chats? What was its purpose? MS WARK: It was just to say what was going on. MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: Maybe the BBC felt that was the only vehicle that Peter Rippon could use, I don't know. But to me it was to me a blog is quite a casual thing. MR BLAKELY: It was Peter's blog, was it, rather than there's a team that takes care of it and he signs it off?	7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	 MR POLLARD: you might think. MS WARK: Yes. MR POLLARD: And it is clear that Peter was effectively exec producing that investigation. MS WARK: He was. It wasn't Liz; it was he who was doing that. MR POLLARD: Indeed. From what you were saying about Peter's slightly stand-back style, might that have been a factor in not absolutely keeping up with everything that was going on in the investigation? MS WARK: I don't know the answer to that. It was clearly a serious investigation, so if your editor is the person who is involved in a serious investigation, it's because it is serious. And therefore, you know, I don't know how often Peter and Meirion personally have worked together on something. It had usually been other commissioning people that had done it, whoever was film
8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	editor's blog? MS WARK: The editor's blog? Not particularly. I mean, now and then MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: But actually for something like this I'm not sure the blog was the right vehicle, because clearly we were dealing with something incredibly difficult and serious and it wasn't just a kind of weekly chat. MR BLAKELY: In general terms, was the blog for weekly chats? What was its purpose? MS WARK: It was just to say what was going on. MR BLAKELY: Yes. MS WARK: Maybe the BBC felt that was the only vehicle that Peter Rippon could use, I don't know. But to me it was to me a blog is quite a casual thing. MR BLAKELY: It was Peter's blog, was it, rather than there's a team that takes care of it and he signs it	7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24	MR POLLARD: you might think. MS WARK: Yes. MR POLLARD: And it is clear that Peter was effectively exec producing that investigation. MS WARK: He was. It wasn't Liz; it was he who was doing that. MR POLLARD: Indeed. From what you were saying about Peter's slightly stand-back style, might that have been a factor in not absolutely keeping up with everything that was going on in the investigation? MS WARK: I don't know the answer to that. It was clearly a serious investigation, so if your editor is the person who is involved in a serious investigation, it's because it is serious. And therefore, you know, I don't know how often Peter and Meirion personally have worked together on something. It had usually been other commissioning people that had done it, whoever was film commissioning

1	MS WARK: So maybe they were unused to each other's styles.	1	MS WARK: Not at all. I mean, if there's an issue to be
2	MR POLLARD: Yes.	2	referred, it's usually it would be the deputies or
3	MR BLAKELY: You said you don't know whether they had	3	Peter. The actual the day staff, as it were, or the
4	a regular updating kind of relationship where they	4	general staff, wouldn't have any as far as
5	touched base	5	I understand, but there I'm not there all the time
6	MS WARK: I don't. I have no idea, you would have to ask	6	any contact with Steve and Helen at all.
7	them.	7	MR BLAKELY: Thanks.
8	MR BLAKELY: Can you describe their relationship at all?	8	MR POLLARD: Kirsty, thank you for that.
9	MS WARK: No. I don't know. I mean, does Meirion he's	9	MS WARK: A pleasure.
10	very exhuberant, he brings in investigations, he's good.	10	MR POLLARD: Thank you for sparing us the time, particularly
11	I don't know how closely they work or otherwise.	11	as you are doing the programme tonight.
12	MR BLAKELY: Thanks.	12	MS WARK: That's fine.
13	MR POLLARD: I just want to bring you back to the point you	13	MR POLLARD: Thank you.
14	mentioned earlier on about Peter's editorship being	14	MR SPAFFORD: Thanks, we're done.
15	onerous on him.	15	(2.52 pm)
16	Did he seem to wear the editorship rather heavily?	16	(The interview concluded)
17	Did it seem to be difficult for him? Does it seem to be	17	INDEX
18	difficult for him, I should say?	18	PROCEEDINGS2
, 19	MS WARK: I don't think difficult for him. And he had	19
20	a very good year. I mean, after all we won the RTS as	20
21	"programme of the year" and he has been very encouraging	21
22	of a lot of the staff. I suppose what I mean now is it	22
23	was very quickly very clear to me after the ITV	23
24	programme that the whole thing was very onerous on him	24
25	and that he was suffering a great deal and that he on	25
-	Page 41		Page 43
—	Charles I delice and the late of the second
1	reflection I think probably it seemed to me that there
2	were problems with the way the investigation with the
3	team. It was definitely a communications problem
4	between Meirion, Liz and Peter.
5	MR POLLARD: Yes.
6	MS WARK: And that, you know, whether that had that had whether that itself had anything to do with the
7	dropping of the programme or not, I don't know the 8	•• •
9	investigation, I don't know. But it clearly had been
10	a problem in the preparing of the investigation. MR POLLARD: Yes, yes.
11 12	I'm very happy, Kirsty, thank you for that.
13	Richard?
14	MR SPAFFORD: Nothing to add.
15	MR POLLARD: Anything you wanted to add?
16	MR BLAKELY: I just have a couple of very short questions.
17	MS WARK: Yes.
18	MR BLAKELY: Leaving Savile to one side, just going back to
19	August 2011 or whenever: how much contact is there
20	between the Newsnight staff, leaving aside Peter Rippon,
20	and the next part of them, of the management, with Steve
22	Mitchell and with Helen Boaden? How much of a day to
23	day impact do they have on your lives?
24	MS WARK: Not at all.
25	MR BLAKELY: Very little or not?
	Page 42
 	1 450 12		11 (Pages 41 to 42