Project MUSE Procedures for Consortia

Project MUSE is pleased to offer discounts to qualified library consortia and networks, for subscriptions to our MUSE Journal Collections and on purchases of our MUSE Book Collections. MUSE offers a standard 10% discount on consortium orders. This discount is applied to each participating institution's price for its selected product(s), as determined by our standard pricing model. To be eligible for a consortium discount, an organization must meet the following criteria:

- A minimum of five subscribing or purchasing institutions must be participating in the consortium.
- The consortium must be able to submit a single consolidated order for all participating members.
- The consortium must be able to accept a single consolidated invoice (with individual institutional fees itemized), and make a single complete payment for all participating members.
- The consortium must be able to sign a license or purchase agreement on behalf of all participating members, or sign a consortium administrative agreement and assist MUSE in collecting individual institutional licenses or purchase agreements from all participating members.

Consortia may include multiple library types, and may include libraries from more than one state or country. MUSE also welcomes discussion of multiple-year subscription commitments from consortia, and may offer more favorable discounts for such arrangements. Each participating member of a consortium may choose from any of the MUSE journal or book collections currently offered – consortium members need not all select the same collection.

A legitimate sales agent may organize an open consortium of its customers for the purposes of a MUSE journal subscription or book purchase, provided all conditions above are met. (See MUSE Sales Agent Procedures document for more information.)
