Welcome to THE NEW YORK STATE ASSEMBLY

You are visiting the "People's House," where 150 members, elected every two years, speak and act on your behalf. The New York State Legislature dates back to 1777. The bills debated today are the product of countless hours of work by legislators and their staff. Each measure is carefully analyzed and considered before it reaches the Assembly floor. You may obtain copies of the daily calendar that lists each day's bills at the Assembly Document Room, 204 Legislative Office Building or Room 305 in the Capitol.

VISITING THE CAPITOL

Legislative session

The Assembly is open to the public when it's in session. If you're planning to visit with a large group, please call your Assemblymember to make reservations as galleries have limited space.

Legislative sessions are also broadcast for public viewing. Visit nyassembly.gov/av to watch a livestream of proceedings or search and view archived footage.

Standing committees

When a bill is introduced, it is assigned to one of over 30 standing committees. Committees meet regularly throughout the year to analyze the merits of legislation, hold hearings for public input and vote on whether a particular bill should be advanced for a vote on the Assembly floor. The committees, their chairpersons, meeting dates and room numbers are listed on the back of this guide.

Committee meetings

Except for an occasional executive session, committee meetings are open to the public and you are welcome to attend those that interest you. Committee meetings are also streamed on the Assembly website and can be viewed at nyassembly.gov/av/live/.

Meeting agendas are available through the Public Information Office, Room 202, Legislative Office Building, or online at nyassembly.gov/leg/?sh=agen.

Public hearings

Standing committees hold public hearings on legislative proposals all over the state throughout the year. Information on public hearings can be obtained through the specific committee sponsoring the hearing, from the Public Information Office and on the Assembly website, nyassembly.gov.

You may speak at a hearing by writing to the chairperson and requesting permission. You do not need permission simply to attend. You may also advise the chairperson in advance that you would like to be notified when hearings are to be held on a subject in which you are interested.

Public Information Office

The Public Information Office is here to help you access information about the actions and records of the Assembly, such as voting records on bills acted upon in the Assembly, attendance records of Assemblymembers, debate transcripts, Assembly and committee agendas, memoranda relating to specific legislative proposals, annual reports of Assembly committees, salary records of Assembly employees, the status of particular bills and other information related to the activities of the Assembly. You can review this information in the Public Information Office or obtain copies at a minimal charge of 25 cents per page.

Call the Public Information Office at 518-455-4218 or visit in person at Room 202, Legislative Office Building, Albany, NY 12248, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday-Friday. You can also find information and connect online at nyassembly.gov/PIO.

Contacting your Assemblymember

Your representative in the Assembly wants to hear your ideas for legislation and how you feel about bills already in the works. You can search for your Assemblymember and their contact information online at nyassembly.gov/mem/. The most effective communications are brief and factual.

You can also call your Assemblymember for assistance if you have a question or concern. They may need to contact government agencies with jurisdiction over the matter to help you obtain results.

Assemblymembers are happy to meet with constituents in their district offices or Albany. Calling ahead for an appointment is strongly recommended.

Take a guided tour

Free guided tours of the Capitol are available Monday through Friday. Reservations are recommended but not required for groups of less than 10. Visit empirestateplaza.ny.gov/tours/new-york-state-capitol or call 518-474-2418 for information on departure times and location or to make a reservation. Groups of 10 or more must contact the Plaza Visitor Center at 518-474-2418 to schedule their tour.
