

Health Behaviors Research Branch

cancercontrol.cancer.gov/hbrb

Vision

A world in which individuals, families, and communities engage in healthy lifestyle behaviors to prevent cancer, improve treatment outcomes, extend life, and optimize health and well-being.

Mission

To support and catalyze research on the discovery, development, testing, and implementation of effective strategies to promote healthy lifestyle behaviors for cancer prevention and control.

Purpose

The Branch aims to support research at multiple levels of analysis to improve cancer-related health behaviors and risk factors.

Levels of Analysis

Biological/genetic, psychological, behavioral, social, environmental, and policy levels, individually and in combination.

To view HBRB's research priorities, see our Strategic Plan at cancercontrol.cancer.gov/brp/hbrb/strategy.html.

Cancer-Related Behavioral Risk Factors of Interest

Behavioral genetics

Energy balance and obesity

Alcohol use

Nutrition and dietary behaviors

Physical activity and sedentary behavior

Sleep and circadian dysfunction

Sun safety and tanning

Adherence to cancer-related medical and behavioral regimens

Initiatives and Resources

Family Life, Activity, Sun, Health, and Eating (FLASHE) Study

cancercontrol.cancer.gov/flashe

This study collected data on psychosocial, generational (parent-adolescent), and environmental correlates of cancer-preventive behaviors.

Trans-NIH Consortium: Randomized Controlled Trials of Lifestyle Weight Loss Interventions for Genome-Wide Association Studies

cancercontrol.cancer.gov/randomized-controlled-trials

The goal is to develop precision medicine approaches to improve treatment response to behavioral weight loss interventions through the integration of new genetic discoveries.

Classification of Laws Associated with School Students (CLASS)

class.cancer.gov

This project uses two policy classification systems to score state-level codified laws for physical education and nutrition in schools.

Trans-NCI Obesity & Cancer Working Group

cancercontrol.cancer.gov/obesityandcancer

The working group identifies questions, needs, gaps, and priorities in areas related to obesity and cancer. It promotes the exchange of information and cross-cutting interests in obesity and cancer research by developing meetings, workshops, webinars, and scientific manuscripts.
