Dear Sample A Sample:

We are writing to notify you of an incident that may affect the security of your personal information. While Auburn University is unaware of any attempted or actual misuse of your personal information, this notice is being provided to ensure that you are aware of the situation and so that you may take steps to monitor your identity, financial accounts, and any existing credit file should you feel it is appropriate to do so.

On March 2, 2015, Auburn University became aware of the fact that personal information relating to certain current, former, and prospective students was inadvertently accessible on the internet since September 2014. Auburn University corrected this internal issue the day it was discovered and retained independent forensics experts to identify the full extent of data implicated by this situation. While these investigations are ongoing, we have determined that files containing your name, address, date of birth, Social Security number, email address, and academic information were among those potentially exposed as a result of this incident.

Although Auburn University is unaware of any attempted or actual misuse of your personal information, in an abundance of caution we engaged Experian®, the largest credit bureau in the US, to offer you complimentary Fraud Resolution and identity protection for two years. If you are a victim of fraud, simply call Experian at (xxx) xxx-xxxx by xx/xx/xx and a dedicated Identity Theft Resolution agent will help you restore your identity. Please provide the engagement number in this letter as proof of eligibility.

While Fraud Resolution assistance is immediately available, we encourage you to also activate the fraud detection tools available via ProtectMyID® Alert, which provides superior identity protection and identity theft resolution. To start monitoring your personal information please follow the steps below:

Visit www.protectmyid.com/protect

Provide your activation code: [REDACTED]

If you need an alternative to enrolling online, please call (xxx) xxx-xxxx and provide Engagement #: xxxxxxx. Additional information regarding this complimentary product and how you can proactively protect your identity is detailed on the back of this letter.

We have established a confidential assistance line to respond to any questions you have about this incident or the contents of this letter. Please call (877) 237-7191 Monday through Friday, 9:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. EDT, with any questions. The reference number for this incident is 6557032515.

We apologize for the inconvenience and concern this letter causes. Please know that we have taken steps following this incident to increase our data security measures and that the safety and security of your personal information remains a top priority for Auburn University.

Sincerely,

Dr. C. Wayne Alderman
Dean of Enrollment Services

Additional Steps You May Take

To further protect against possible identity theft, fraud, or other financial loss, we encourage you to remain vigilant, to review your account statements, and to monitor your credit reports for suspicious activity. Under U.S. law, you are entitled to one (1) free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 877-322-8228. You may also contact the three major credit bureaus directly to request a free copy of your credit report.

At no charge, you can also have these credit bureaus place a "fraud alert" on your file that alerts creditors to take additional steps to verify your identity prior to granting credit in your name. Note, however, that because a fraud alert tells creditors to follow certain procedures to protect you, it may also delay your ability to obtain credit while the agency verifies your identity. As soon as one credit bureau confirms your fraud alert, the others are notified to place fraud alerts on your file. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, or should you have any questions regarding your credit report, please contact any of the agencies listed below. Information regarding security freezes is also available from these agencies.

You can further educate yourself regarding identity theft, security freezes, and ways to protect yourself by contacting your state Attorney General or the Federal Trade Commission (FTC). Instances of known or suspected identity theft should be reported to law enforcement, your state's Attorney General, and/or the FTC. For North Carolina residents, the Attorney General can be contacted at: 9001 Mail Service Center, Raleigh, NC 27699-9001, 877-566-7226 OR 919-716-6000, www.ncdoj.gov, For Maryland residents, the Attorney General can be contacted at: 200 St. Paul Place, 16th Floor, Baltimore, MD 21202, 888-743-0023, www.oag.state.md.us. The Federal Trade Commission can be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20580, 877-ID-THEFT (877-438-4338); TTY: 866-653-4261, www.ftc.gov/bcp/edu/microsites/idtheft/.

The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them, and information regarding fraud alerts and security freezes may also be obtained from the Federal Trade Commission.
