

CWS | FY22 Institutional Funders

In 2022, nearly 50 government, foundation, member communion, and corporate donors and philanthropy programs trusted CWS to deliver life-changing programs and resources to displaced and underserved populations worldwide. CWS continues to be a top provider of services for refugees and the displaced for the U.S. Department of State, and have long-standing relationships with private donors such as Open Society Foundations, The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and Airbnb.org. We are excited about the new relationships built with donors like Carnegie Corporation of New York and the Alstom Foundation. For these as well as other donor governments and the United Nations, CWS has been a strong steward of funding to support refugees, asylum seekers and vulnerable populations around the world.
