

Call for Nominations Editor-In-Chief ACM Transactions on Computer-Human Interaction

The term of the current Editor-in-Chief (EiC) of the ACM Transactions on Computer-Human Interaction \(TOCHI\) is coming to an end, and the ACM Publications Board has set up a nominating committee to assist the Board in selecting the next EiC. TOCHI was established in 1994; in 2023, TOCHI received 403 submissions and accepted 60 papers for publication.

Nominations, including self-nominations, are invited for a three-year term as TOCHI EiC, beginning on November 1, 2024. The EiC appointment may be renewed at most one time. This is an entirely voluntary position, but ACM will provide appropriate administrative support. TOCHI has recently had two co-EiCs, which has been a valuable approach to distributing workload and dealing with author and institution conflicts. We will consider applications for single EiCs or pairs of co-EiCs.

Appointed by the ACM Publications Board, Editors-in-Chief (EiCs) of ACM journals are delegated full responsibility for the editorial management of the journal consistent with the journal's charter and general ACM policies. The Board relies on EiCs to ensure that the content of the journal is of high quality and that the editorial review process is both timely and fair. The EiC has final say on acceptance of papers, size of the Editorial Board, and appointment of Associate Editors. A complete list of responsibilities is found in the ACM Volunteer Editors Position Descriptions. Additional information can be found in the following documents:

- Rights and Responsibilities in ACM Publishing
- ACM's Evaluation Criteria for Editors-in-Chief

Nominations should include a vita along with a brief statement of why the nominee should be considered. Self-nominations are encouraged and should include a statement of the candidate's vision for the future development of TOCHI. The deadline for submitting nominations is June 30, 2024, although nominations will continue to be accepted until the position is filled.

Please send all nominations to the nominating committee chair, Regan L. Mandryk (regan@acm.org).
