Range Booking Terms and Conditions

2019- Range Allocation and Booking

Booking Targets

NRA Bisley Range Bookings will only be accepted via the online booking system.

In making a booking and accepting these Terms and Conditions the booker is agreeing to abide by NRA Bisley Range Regulations and is responsible for ensuring that all personnel attending and shooting at Bisley are qualified and entitled to do so. The booker is absolved of responsibility when the RO signs on to the range when he/she assumes responsibility for the day.

Club bookings, additional bookings and amendments to existing bookings will only be accepted online from an authorised person. The club secretary is normally the nominated person, however additional club officials may be nominated in writing.

Short notice reductions in the number of lanes booked can have a significant effect on the lay down of the range and disadvantage other users. Short notice reductions are monitored by the NRA and persistent offenders will be subject to a more stringent cancellation policy. Persistent offenders will ultimately be allocated lanes based upon historical usage.

All club bookings must be made using an active NRA membership number.

For individual bookings, personal e-mail addresses are the normal log in username.
