Introduction

The Consular List is updated annually in hard copy. Together with the Diplomatic List, also produced by the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade, it provides authoritative information about the representatives of foreign governments and international organisations in Australia.

The Consular List is a guide to consular representation by foreign governments in Australia. It shows alphabetically all countries with accredited representatives, listing the names and ranks of those with consular officer status, and it gives the address, telephone and fax numbers, and hours of business of each post. Surnames or family names are shown in capital letters.

The Consular List includes the consular jurisdiction for each post. The consular jurisdiction specifies the area within which the post may conduct its consular functions. Prior consent must be sought from the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade for consular functions to be conducted by a consular post outside the approved consular jurisdiction listed in this booklet.

A list of National Days appears at the back of the Consular List.

The daily updated contents of the Consular List and the Diplomatic List are available for viewing electronically, via the Department's Web Site, at the following address:

www.dfat.gov.au/protocol

Privileges and immunities

Inclusion of a name in the Consular List does not of itself imply that the person listed is entitled to any particular privileges or immunities under the Vienna Convention on Consular Relations. Some listed persons may, for example, be affected by Article 71 of the Vienna Convention on Consular Relations.

Enquiries about particular cases should be referred to the Protocol Branch of the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade.

The Consular List is a guide to consular representation by foreign governments in Australia. It shows alphabetically all countries with accredited representatives, listing the names and ranks of those with consular officer status, and it gives the address and contact details of each Mission. A list of National Days appears at the back of the Consular List.

The Consular List is updated annually in hard copy. Together with the Diplomatic List, also produced by the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade, it provides authoritative information about the representatives of foreign governments and international organisations in Australia.

The daily updated contents of the Consular List and the Diplomatic List are available for viewing electronically, via the Department's website, at the following address:

www.dfat.gov.au
