Introduction

The Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (DFAT) issues a hard copy edition of the Diplomatic List and List of Representatives of International Organisations once each year.

Commencing with the 2010 edition, future editions will be an abridged version of the full list. It will contain only the name of the head of mission and contact details for each embassy, high commission and international organisation listed.

The complete list of staff for each diplomatic mission and international organisation can be found on the DFAT website at www.dfat.gov.au and can be downloaded from: <http://www.dfat.gov.au/protocol/DiplomaticList.pdf>. The on-line Diplomatic List is updated twice monthly.

Dates in brackets appearing after the names of Ambassadors and High Commissioners and Chargés d'Affaires are the dates of their presentation of Letters of Credence or of Commission or, for High Commissioners who present Letters of Introduction, the dates of their arrival in Canberra. For Chargés d'Affaires ad interim and Acting High Commissioners they are the dates on which they assumed those duties.

Surnames or family names are shown in capital letters.

Privileges and immunities

Inclusion of a name in the Diplomatic List and List of Representatives of International Organisations does not of itself imply that the person listed is entitled to any particular privileges or immunities under the relevant Conventions. Some listed persons may, for example, be affected by Article 37 or Article 38 of the Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations.

Enquiries about particular cases should be referred to the Protocol Branch of the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade.

The Diplomatic List (available at <http://www.dfat.gov.au/protocol/DiplomaticList.pdf>) is a guide to diplomatic representation by foreign governments in Canberra and by international organisations in Australia. It shows alphabetically all countries with accredited representatives, listing the names and ranks of those with diplomatic status, and it gives the address and contact details of each Mission. In front of the Diplomatic List there is a list of Heads of Mission, in order of precedence, while a comprehensive list of National Days appears at the back.

Together with the Consular List, also produced by the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade, it provides authoritative information about the representatives of foreign governments and international organisations in Australia.

The Diplomatic List is updated annually in hard copy in an abridged form as of September 2010. It contains only the name of the head of mission and contact details for each embassy, high commission and international organisation listed.

The daily updated contents of the Diplomatic List and the Consular List are available for viewing electronically, via the Department's website, at the following address:
