

Foundations of Telemetry

November 15th, 2011

7:30 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.

Minneapolis VA Health Care System – Main Auditorium

Description/Purpose Statement

Telemetry is no longer just monitoring a patient's cardiac rhythm – the acuity and range of assessments and interventions done on telemetry and stepdown units has grown exponentially in the last five years. The purpose of this class is to learn about assessing the cardiac patient, cardiac drugs, interventional cardiology, electrical therapy of cardiac problems, and working with the post-operative cardiac patient.

Target Audience

This class was designed for nurses who care for patients undergoing interventional cardiology, electrical therapy, and/or cardiac surgery; however, other health care professionals are welcome to attend.
