PENGUIN MICHAEL JOSEPH CRIME CATALOGUE 2023

M I C H A E L

J O S E P H

DEAR READER,

One of the greatest joys of working in crime and thriller fiction is the community that supports this genre – writers, readers and reviewers, booksellers and bloggers, and festival organisers, all united around brilliant storytelling.

We've never appreciated that more than in the last few years, as we've all had to be more imaginative than ever in how we reach readers. So wherever you're reading this, and however you fit into the book community, please know that we're so grateful for your support, and we're so excited to share our list with you. From unputdownable psych thrillers to ingenious espionage, from unforgettable characters to unguessable twists, we're sure we have something you'll love.

Like the rest of the publishing world, we know we have a lot of work to do to grow our community still further. That's why we're so proud to have launched the Penguin Michael Joseph Undiscovered Writers' Prize. We're looking through the brilliant entries now, and we hope that by next year, we'll be able to share the winning book with you, and add another gem to the wonderful list of authors we're so privileged to publish.

Happy reading,

'EXTRAORDINARY' THE TIMES
'IT'S THE SORT OF BOOK FOR WHICH THE PHRASE 'PAGE-TURNER'
WAS INVENTED' LUCIE MCKNIGHT HARDY

FROM THE AUTHOR OF TRIFLERS NEED NOT APPLY
COMES A NEW, DELICIOUSLY DARK NOVEL BASED ON THE REAL BLOODY BENDERS, A FAMILY OF SERIAL
KILLERS IN THE OLD AMERICAN WEST...

The winds shift nervously on the isolated plain, whispering of travellers lost and buried, whispering of witches.

At first the townspeople of Cherryvale welcome the beautiful young medium, Kate Bender and her family. No one knows about their other business, the shortcut to a better life. And why shouldn't their family prosper? They're careful. It's only from those who travel alone, and can easily disappear, that the Benders demand their pound of flesh.

But even a gifted seer like Kate can make a misstep. Now, as the secrets festering beneath the family orchard threaten to bring them all to ruin, the Benders must sharpen their craft – or vanish themselves.

AN ANONYMOUS KILLER IS CONFESSING TO MURDERS ON AN ONLINE FORUM. WILL FORMER POLICE OFFICER EMILIA HAYES BE THE ONE TO CATCH THEM? OR IS SHE RISKING HER OWN LIFE BY GETTING TOO CLOSE?

WELCOME TO THE CONFESSION ROOM: An online forum for anonymous atonement.

Some people confess to affairs, others to stealing. Some admit deep, dark wishes. But one day, a confession is posted that nobody expects: murder. And not just one named victim, but two.

As more victims are named, and more bodies found, people begin to fear who could be named next. Because it seems that if you have a secret, they'll find you.

They know who you are. They know what you've done. Not everyone can survive The Confession Room.

I need to confess to murder.

I just haven't committed it yet...

A GHOSTLY TALE OF MAGIC AND WICKEDNESS, SET
ON THE YORKSHIRE MOORS IN THE 1800S

When Annie marries widower Edward Stonehouse and arrives at his estate on the Yorkshire moors, she thinks she's put darkness behind her.

She is mistaken. Edward's sister, Iris, still lives in the family home. A taxidermist and medium, she urges Annie to look for black feathers – claiming that they mark the spot where a spirit has visited.

Initially, Annie dismisses her warnings. But, before long, she begins to feel haunted.

What happened to Edward's first wife? Why is Iris so disturbed?

And should Annie really be watching for signs from the dead? Or is she the one being watched...
