Getting Started

These sections give you the basic information you need to start using your new Cisco Unified IP Phone.

Using this Guide

This guide provides you with an overview of the features available on your phone. You can read it completely for a solid understanding of your phone’s capabilities, or refer to the table below for pointers to commonly used sections.

If you want to...	Then...
Review important safety information	See the “Safety and Performance Information” section on page 2.
Use your phone after someone else has installed it for you	Start with the “An Overview of Your Phone” section on page 14.
Connect your phone to the network	See the “Connecting Your Phone” section on page 12.
Learn what the button lights mean	See the “Understanding Buttons and Hardware” section on page 14.
Make calls	See the “Placing a Call” section on page 17.
Put calls on hold	See the “Using Hold and Resume” section on page 18.
Transfer calls	See the “Transferring a Connected Call” section on page 18.
Make conference calls	See the “Making Conference Calls” section on page 19.
Change the ringer or call volume	See the “Adjusting the Volume” section on page 23.

USCHOVAJTE SI TENTO NÁVODWarning

Read the installation instructions before you connect the system to its power source.

Warning

Ultimate disposal of this product should be handled according to all national laws and regulations.

Warning

Do not work on the system or connect or disconnect cables during periods of lightning activity.

Warning

To avoid electric shock, do not connect safety extra low voltage (SELV) circuits to telephone network voltage (TNV) circuits. LAN ports contain SELV circuits, and WAN ports contain TNV circuits. Some LAN and WAN ports use RJ-45 connectors. Use caution when connecting cables.

Caution

Inline power circuits provide current through the communication cable. Use the Cisco provided cable or a minimum 24 AWG communication cable.

Using an External Power Supply

The following warnings apply when you use the external power supply with the Cisco Unified IP Phone:

Warning

This product relies on the building's installation for short-circuit (over current) protection. Ensure that a fuse or circuit breaker no larger than 120 VAC, 15A U.S. (240 VAC, 10A international) is used on the phase conductors (all current-carrying conductors).

Warning

The device is designed to work with TN power systems.

Warning

The plug-socket combination must be accessible at all times because it serves as the main disconnecting device.

Warning

The power supply must be placed indoors.

Caution

Only use the Cisco-specified power supply with this product.

Power Outage

Your accessibility to emergency service through the phone is dependent on the phone being powered. If there is an interruption in the power supply, Service and Emergency Calling Service dialing will not function until power is restored. In the case of a power failure or disruption, you may need to reset or reconfigure equipment before using the Service or Emergency Calling Service dialing.

Accessibility Features

A list of accessibility features is available upon request.

Connecting Your Phone

Your system administrator will likely connect your new Cisco Unified IP Phone to the corporate IP telephony network. If that is not the case, refer to the graphic and table below to connect your phone.

1	Network (Ethernet) port (10 BASE T)	4	Power supply with DC output connector (Optional. Required only if power is not supplied through an Ethernet connection.)
2	Handset port	5	Power cable with wall AC plug. Provided if your phone uses external power
3	DC adaptor port (DC48V)

Caution

If you plan to power your phone locally (instead of receiving power through the Ethernet connection), use only a Cisco 48-volt power supply designed to work with a Cisco Unified IP Phone.

Adjusting the Handset Rest

When you connect your phone, you might want to adjust the handset rest to ensure that the receiver will not slip out of the cradle. See the table below for instructions.

77354

1	Set the handset aside and pull the square plastic tab from the handset rest.
2	Rotate the tab 180 degrees.
3	Slide the tab back into the handset rest. An extension protrudes from the top of the rotated tab. Return the handset to the handset rest.

Registering with TAPS

After your phone is connected to the network, your system administrator might ask you to auto-register your phone using TAPS (Tool for Auto-Registered Phones Support). TAPS might be used either for a new phone or to replace an existing phone.

To register with TAPS, pick up the handset, enter the TAPS extension provided by your system administrator, and follow the voice prompts. You might need to enter your entire extension, including the area code. After your phone displays a confirmation message, hang up. The phone will re-start.

An Overview of Your Phone

The Cisco Unified IP Phone 7902G is a basic telephone that provides the following features:

- Voice communication over a data network
- One phone line that can support up to two calls
- Familiar telephony features to handle calls easily
- Online control from your User Options web pages

Understanding Buttons and Hardware

1	Cisco Unified IP Phone series type	Indicates the Cisco Unified IP Phone model number.
2	Label and plastic cover	Use the paper label, protected by a plastic cover, to indicate your phone number. You can also note your speed-dial numbers on this label.

8	Handset with indicator light	Functions like a traditional handset. The light strip at the top of the handset blinks when the phone rings and remains lit to indicate a new voice mail message (depending on your message system).

Understanding Feature Availability

The operation of your Cisco Unified IP Phone and the features available to you may vary, depending on the call processing agent used by your company and also on how your company's phone support team has configured your phone system. Therefore, some of the features included in this Phone Guide might not be available to you or might work differently on your phone system. Contact your support desk or system administrator if you have questions about feature operation or availability.

Going On-Hook and Off-Hook

Some phone tasks and instructions differ depending on whether the phone is on-hook or off-hook.

- On-Hook—The phone handset is resting in the cradle, no calls are active, and you do not have an active dial tone.
- Off-Hook—The phone handset is lifted from the cradle and you have dial tone.

Basic Call Handling

This section covers basic call-handling tasks such as placing, answering, transferring, and conferencing calls. The features you use to perform these tasks are standard and available on most phone systems.

Placing a Call

If you want to...	Then...
Place a call	Lift the handset and dial the number.
Redial the most recently dialed number	Lift the handset and press  (Redial).
Speed dial a number	Press and hold (for about 2 seconds) the number on your keypad that you assigned as a speed dial number. For information on setting up speed-dial buttons, see the “Setting Up Speed Dials on the Web” section on page 26.

Answering a Call

If you want to...	Then...
Answer a call	Pick up the handset.
Answer a priority call	When you hear the special call waiting tone, answer the higher-priority call. For information on priority calls, see the “Prioritizing Critical Calls” section on page 22.
Answer a priority call when you are already on a call	When you hear the special call waiting tone, end an active call and answer the higher-priority call. For information on priority calls, see the “Prioritizing Critical Calls” section on page 22.

Ending a Call

To end a call, hang up the handset.

Using Hold and Resume

Only one call can be active at any given time; all other calls must be placed on hold.

If you want to...	Then...
Put a call on hold	Press  (Hold). The Hold button lights red. A call on hold remains active even though you and the other party cannot hear each other. You can answer or place another call while a call is on hold.
Return to the held call	Press  (lit Hold).

Tip

Engaging the Hold feature typically generates music or a beeping tone. For this reason, avoid putting a conference call on hold.

Transferring a Connected Call

Use the Transfer button  to redirect a connected call. The target is the number to which you want to transfer the call.

If you want to...	Then...
Transfer a call without talking to the transfer recipient	During a connected call, press  (Transfer) and enter the target number. When you hear the call ringing, press  (Transfer) again.
Talk to the transfer recipient before transferring a call	During a connected call, press  (Transfer) and enter the target number. Wait for the transfer recipient to answer. If the recipient accepts the transferred call, press  (Transfer) again. To return to the original call, press  (Hold).

Making Conference Calls

Use the Conference button  to set up a standard conference. A standard conference allows from 3 to 16 people to participate in a single call. See the table below for details.

Note Your phone line must be configured for two calls for you to use Hold with Conference as described here. Your system administrator can confirm whether your phone is configured to support one or two calls.

If you want to...	Then...
Invite current callers to join a standard conference	During a conference call, you receive a new call. Press  (Hold) to put the conference call on hold. Answer the new call. Press  (Conference) to add the caller to the conference.
Start a conference call by calling participants	During a connected call, press  (Conference) to add another party to the call. Doing so automatically activates a new line and puts the first party on hold. Place a call to another number. After the call connects and you have spoken to the conference participant, press  (Conference) again to add this party to your call. Follow this procedure to add each participant.
Add a participant to an existing conference call	During a conference call, press  (Hold). Doing so automatically activates a new line and puts the conference on hold. Place a call to another number. After the call connects and you have spoken to the person, press  (Conference) to add this person to your call. Then press  (Conference) again to rejoin the conference call.
Join a conference	Answer the phone when it rings. You do not need to do anything special to join a standard conference call.
End a conference	Hang up the handset.

Note You cannot drop a participant from a conference call even if you initiate the conference.

Forwarding Your Calls to Another Number

You can use Call Forward All to redirect your incoming calls from your Cisco Unified IP Phone to another number.

Note Enter the Call Forward All target number exactly as you would need to dial it from your desk phone. For example, enter an access code such as 9 or the area code, if necessary.

If you want to...	Then...
Set up call forwarding from your phone	Lift the handset and press 1 . You will hear a short confirmation tone. Enter the phone number to which you want to forward your calls. You will hear another short confirmation tone to indicate that call forwarding is in effect. After you have set up call forwarding, you will hear a different (starter) dial tone when you lift the handset.
Cancel call forwarding	Lift the handset and press 2 . You will hear another short confirmation tone to indicate that call forwarding is cancelled. Note Be sure to cancel call forwarding before forwarding your phone again. If you try to forward your phone without cancelling the first call forward, you will receive a busy tone.
Set up or cancel call forwarding from your User Options web page	Log in to your User Options web pages, choose your device, then choose Forward all calls... from the main menu. Press Update to save the change.

Tip You can forward your calls to a traditional analog phone or to another IP phone, although your system administrator might restrict the call forwarding feature to numbers within your company.

Using Voice Messaging

Use the Messages button  to access your voice messages as outlined in the table below.

Note Your company determines the voice message service that your phone system uses. For the most accurate and detailed information about using the voice message service, see the documentation that came with it.

If you want to...	Then...
Set up your voice message service	Press  (Messages) and follow the voice instructions. Your system administrator will provide you with a default password for your voice message service. For security reasons, you should change your default password as soon as possible.
See if you have a new voice message	Look at your phone for a steady red light on the handset.
Listen to your voice messages	Press  (Messages) and follow the voice instructions.

Prioritizing Critical Calls

Advanced call-handling tasks involve special (non-standard) features that your system administrator might configure for your phone depending on your call-handling needs and work environment. You typically will not have access to these features by default.

In some specialized environments, such as military or government offices, you might need to receive urgent or critical calls. These critical calls might require higher priority handling, such as being able to bypass other calls. If you have the need for this specialized call handling, your system administrator can add Multilevel Precedence and Preemption (MLPP) to your phone.

Keep these terms in mind:

- Precedence indicates the priority associated with a call.
- Preemption is the process of ending an existing, lower priority call while accepting a higher priority call that is sent to your phone.

If you want to...	Then...
Choose a priority (precedence) level for an outgoing call	Contact your system administrator for a list of corresponding precedence numbers for calls (ranging from low to highest).
Make a priority (precedence) call	Enter the MLPP access number (which is provided by your system administrator) followed by the phone number.
Receive a priority (precedence) call	While on an active call, you hear the special call waiting tone.
Accept an higher-priority call	When you hear the special call waiting tone, end an active call and answer the higher-priority call.
Receive a preemption call	While on an active call, you hear a continuous tone for about 10 seconds. The preemption call then overrides the active call.

Tip

When you make or receive an MLPP-enabled call, you will hear special ring tones and call waiting tones that differ from the standard tones.

Customizing Phone Settings

This section describes ways in which you can personalize your Cisco Unified IP Phone 7902G.

Adjusting the Volume

The table below describes how to adjust and save volume levels on your phone.

If you want to...	Then...

Customizing Your Phone on the Web

Your Cisco Unified IP Phone is a network device that can share information with other network devices in your company, including your computer. You can use your Cisco Unified CallManager User Options web pages to access features and settings for your Cisco Unified IP Phone. For example, you can set up phone speed-dial buttons from your user web pages.

Accessing Your User Options Web Pages

Access your User Options web pages on your personal computer.

If you want to...	Then do this...
Log in to your User Options web pages	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Obtain a User Options URL, user ID, and default password from your system administrator. 2. Open a web browser on your computer, enter the URL, and log on. 3. If prompted to accept security settings, click Yes or Install Certificate. The Cisco Unified CallManager User Options main web page displays. From this page you can choose User Options to access User Settings, Directory features, a Personal Address Book, and Fast Dials. Or, to access phone-specific options, select a device (see below).
Select a device after logging in	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. After you have logged in to your User Options web pages, choose User Options > Device. The Device Configuration page displays. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 2. If you have multiple devices assigned to you, verify that the appropriate device (phone model or Extension Mobility profile) is selected. If necessary, choose another device from the Name drop-down menu. From the Device Configuration page, you can access all of the various configuration options available for your phone (other pages might not provide access to all options). <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Choose User Options to access User Settings, Directory, Personal Address Book, and Fast Dials. – Choose toolbar buttons to access phone-specific options, such as line settings, phone service settings, and speed dials. To return to the Device Configuration page from another page, choose User Options > Device.

Configuring Features on the Web

The topics in this section describe how to configure features from your User Options pages after logging in. See the “Accessing Your User Options Web Pages” section on page 25.

Setting Up Speed Dials on the Web

For help using speed-dial features, see the “Placing a Call” section on page 17.

If you want to...	Then do this after you log in...
Set up speed-dial buttons	<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Select a device.2. Click Speed Dials.3. Enter a number and label for a speed-dial button (programmable button) on your phone. Enter the number exactly as you would dial it from your desk phone. For example, enter an access code such as 9 or the area code, if necessary.4. Click Save. Note Your phone uses the ASCII Label field if the phone does not support double-byte character sets.

Tip
Your phone uses the ASCII Label field only if the phone does not support double-byte character sets. Entering information in the first Label field auto-populates the ASCII Label field.

Controlling User Settings on the Web

User settings include your password, PIN, and locale (language) settings.

If you want to...	Then do this after you log in...

If you have one phone with a single line, the appropriate phone and line are automatically selected. Otherwise, choose a phone and/or line. Phones are specified by host name. <li data-bbox="404 688 1257 779">• Do not display call confirmation—If selected, prompts WebDialer to suppress the Make Call page. This page appears by default after you click a phone number in a WebDialer-enabled online directory.

Troubleshooting Your Phone

Refer to the following table for some general troubleshooting information for your phone.

Problem	Explanation
The phone Hold and Menu buttons are lit or flashing after the phone is connected to power.	Your phone did not initialize correctly. Contact your system administrator who will help you troubleshoot the problem.
No dial tone	Check that all the cable connections are secure and that the phone is properly connected to power. See the “Connecting Your Phone” section on page 4. If necessary, contact your system administrator who will help you troubleshoot the problem.
The phone does not ring.	Check the ring volume setting. See the “Adjusting the Volume” section on page 23.
The Menu button was accidentally pressed and you entered the IVR system.	Hang up the phone to exit. This resets the phone.
The phone Hold button flashes red and the Menu button flashes green at the same time.	The phone’s firmware is being upgraded. After the upgrade, all LEDs on the phone should be off.
