Re: Comments on Mont. Admin. Reg. Notice No. 44-2-207

Dear Commissioner Motl:

The Center for Competitive Politics (“CCP”) submits these comments in response to your office’s proposed changes to ARM § 44.10.301 et seq., as published in the Montana Administrative Register on August 13, 2015 (hereinafter, the “Published Draft”). Once again, CCP appreciates the opportunity to have been able to review and comment on the initial draft of these proposed rules that was shared with us in late June (hereinafter, the “Initial Draft”).

It appears that the Published Draft of the proposed rules addresses some of the concerns that CCP raised in its comments on the Initial Draft.¹ However, the Published Draft still proposes to adopt an unconstitutionally vague definition of “election activity” that contradicts the statute, and uses this term to define critical terms related to coordination and an entity’s status as a political committee. The Wisconsin Supreme Court’s recent ruling in the “John Doe” investigation should offer a cautionary example of how campaign finance laws based on vague definitions like this can lead to disastrous results both for speakers and for regulators and prosecutors attempting to apply and enforce such definitions.

CCP also strongly reiterates its earlier concern about the proposal to define “electioneering communications” to include an open-ended and unspecified “facts and circumstances” standard, which is retained in the Published Draft. The Internal Revenue Service has relied on a “facts and circumstances” standard to regulate activities as political campaign intervention, and the catastrophic failure that resulted in part from the agency’s use of that standard should counsel against adopting such a rule.

Additionally, while CCP supports shortening the Initial Draft’s 24-month time window for establishing a rebuttable presumption of coordination when a candidate’s former vendor works on an independent spending effort, the proposed 12-month time window in the Published Draft is still far too long.

Lastly, CCP supports the comments submitted by the Montana Conservation Voters, the Montana MEA-AFT and Montana State AFL-CIO, and the Montana Trial Lawyers objecting to the overly vague definitions of “primary purpose” and “incidental committee” in the Initial Draft. These problems persist in the Published Draft.

A) “Election Activity” Definition

As CCP discussed in its comments regarding the Initial Draft, the proposal to define “election activity” as “any action . . . that concerns, relates to, or could be reasonably interpreted as an attempt to influence or affect an election”² is unworkable because it could apply to practically anything that has even the most remote and tangential relation to an election.³ A typical “grassroots lobbying” campaign that does not mention any election or candidate, and which is not even regulated by Montana’s lobbying laws,⁴ could result in a group being regulated as a political committee if the issue happens to “concern[]” or “relate[] to” an election, and because “election activity” factors into the group’s “primary purpose” under the proposed rules.⁵

As the U.S. Supreme Court noted in Buckley v. Valeo, because candidates are often “intimately tied to public issues involving legislative proposals and governmental actions,” the “distinction between discussion of issues and candidates and advocacy of election or defeat of candidates may often dissolve in practical application.”⁶ The Court held that it would be impermissible to rely on vague standards under which issue speech could potentially be regulated as candidate advocacy – what the Commissioner proposes to do with the definition of “election activity” in this rulemaking – because to do so would “put[] the speaker in these circumstances wholly at the mercy of the varied understanding of his hearers and consequently of whatever inference may be drawn as to his intent and meaning.”⁷

As CCP also pointed out in its comments on the Initial Draft, SB 289 specifically exempted nonpartisan voter registration and get-out-the-vote drives, as well as news stories and editorials, from regulation under the campaign finance laws.⁸ Although the proposed rules contain a news media exemption under the coordination definition,⁹ there is no such exemption under the “primary purpose” definition. Thus, a popular political news blog such as the “Montana Cowgirl Blog” may be deemed to engage in “election activity” under the proposed rules because it publishes content that “concerns” and “relates to” Montana elections.¹⁰ If the Montana Cowgirl Blog’s “primary purpose” is determined to focus on “election activity,” the website would be regulated as a full-fledged political committee. This is clearly contrary to the plain text of SB 289.

Notably, unlike most of the other provisions in the proposed rules, the Commissioner’s Montana Administrative Register notice for this rulemaking does not even attempt to justify the proposed definition of “election activity,” or explain why the term is even being proposed. As CCP explained in its comments on the initial draft, nothing in the statute authorizes, commands or so much as suggests that the Commissioner should create and define this new term.¹¹

The “John Doe” investigation in Wisconsin provides a recent example of how vague standards like the proposed definition of “election activity” do not work well in practical application, and why the Commissioner should not adopt it. The thrust of the prosecutors’ theory in that matter was that the coordination of issue advocacy communications between various advocacy groups with Governor Scott Walker’s campaign committee should have been regulated as in-kind contributions to the campaign committee.¹² Under Wisconsin law, the definition of an in-kind contribution depends on the making of a political “disbursement,” which in turn is defined as something that is made for “political purposes.”¹³ As the Wisconsin Supreme Court held (and the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit also had held earlier in a separate and unrelated matter¹⁴), this phrase was unconstitutionally vague.¹⁵ To eliminate this vagueness, the Wisconsin Supreme Court limited the phrase “political purposes” to mean only express advocacy and its functional equivalent – an interpretation which ended the investigation.¹⁶

The lesson from the Wisconsin case is that vague standards in campaign finance laws not only chill speech for the public, but they also lay a weak foundation for regulators and prosecutors attempting to apply and enforce them. The definition of “election activity” in the Commissioner’s proposed rule is no more precise than the definition of a political “disbursement” under Wisconsin law, and it is likely to turn out to be as much of a house of cards in practical application.

B) “Electioneering Communications” Definition

As CCP also noted in its comments on the Initial Draft, the proposed definition of “electioneering communications” goes beyond the statutory definition of this term in SB 289 by adding an open-ended “facts and circumstances” standard.¹⁷

Under the federal tax laws, 501(c)(3) organizations generally are prohibited from engaging in political campaign intervention, while 501(c)(4) organizations may not have the primary purpose of political campaign intervention.¹⁸ As the Internal Revenue Service has explained, “Over the years, the IRS has stated that whether an organization is engaged in political campaign intervention depends upon all of the facts and circumstances.”¹⁹ Similar to the Commissioner’s proposed rule, these so-called “facts and circumstances” have included, among other factors, evaluation of a communication’s purpose, timing, and distribution.²⁰

In a proposed rulemaking in late 2013, the IRS acknowledged that this “facts and circumstances” standard has resulted in the “lack of a clear and concise definition of ‘political campaign intervention,’” and that “both the public and the IRS would benefit from clearer definitions of these concepts.”²¹ What the IRS left unsaid was that the “facts and circumstances”

While the IRS rulemaking has stalled, it was not because the agency’s self-criticism of its “facts and circumstances” standard was off the mark, but rather because the proposed alternative rule was also riddled with flaws. See, e.g. Matea Gold, “IRS plan to curb politically active groups is threatened by opposition from both sides,” WASH. POST, Feb. 12, 2014, available at http://www.washingtonpost.com/politics/irs-plan-to-curb-politically-active-groups-threatened-by-opposition-from-both-sides/2014/02/12/99dcfd2a-932a-11e3-b46a-5a3d0d2130da_story.html

In fact, one of the main critiques of the proposed rule was that it “sweeps into that category [of political campaign intervention] many routine functions of advocacy groups, including nonpartisan voter registration, candidate forums and get-out-the-vote activities,” which relates to our point above regarding the Commissioner’s proposed definition of “election activity.” See id.

test – the same standard used in the Commissioner’s proposed definition of “electioneering communications” – contributed to the agency’s mishandling of applications for tax-exempt status.²² This, in turn, led to numerous congressional and criminal investigations and resignations over the past two years, from which the IRS is still reeling. Surely this is not an experience the Commissioner wishes to replicate by adopting the same troublesome standard in the Montana regulations.

C) Former Vendor/Employee Coordination Time Window and Publicly Available Information Exception

The Initial Draft provided that any person who worked as a “paid agent or consultant” to a candidate or a political committee within the past 24 months, and who subsequently works on an “election activity,” is presumed to be coordinating with the candidate or political committee.

The Published Draft has moved in the right direction by shortening this time window to 12 months.²³ As the Published Draft explains, “Given the population size of Montana and relationships that exist between Montanans, the [Commissioner] has proposed the adoption of a lessor [sic] 12-month time frame for the rebuttable presumption to attach.”²⁴ This 12-month time window is still far too long, however, and will unduly restrict the ability of independent speakers to retain competent and qualified talent.

The federal coordination rules establish a four-month time window during which former vendors and employees of a candidate or political party are presumed to be coordinating when they subsequently work for a third-party sponsor of a political communication.²⁵ For various reasons articulated in a 2010 rulemaking, the Federal Election Commission concluded that “it is extremely unlikely that a common vendor or former employee [of a candidate or political party committee] may possess information that remains material when it is more than four months old.”²⁶

Considering that the federal coordination rules apply to congressional district races, statewide races (including Montana U.S. Senate races), and nationwide races, the Published Draft’s 12-month time window for presuming coordination by former campaign vendors and employees is still unduly burdensome. CCP suggests that the Commissioner adopt an anti-coordination “cooling-off period” for former campaign employees and vendors that is no longer than the four-month period contained in the federal rules.

Relatedly, the proposed rules provide for a rebuttable presumption of coordination when an activity is “based on information that is provided by the candidate or an agent of the candidate.”²⁷ To ensure the rules are workable in practice, the Commissioner should provide for an exemption for information obtained from publicly available sources, as the federal coordination rules do.²⁸ Otherwise, any time the sponsor of an independent expenditure reads or hears something in the news about a candidate that the independent expenditure supports, the expenditure would cease to become independent. This would effectively outlaw independent expenditures – an approach Montana has tried before, and which did not turn out well.²⁹

D) “Primary Purpose” and “Incidental Committee” Definitions

For the reasons explained in the comments submitted by the Montana Conservation Voters (dated July 15, 2015), the Montana MEA-AFT and Montana State AFL-CIO (dated July 15, 2015), and the Montana Trial Lawyers (dated July 14, 2015), the proposed definition of “primary purpose” (in both the Initial and Published Drafts) is overly broad and contrary to the statute.

The proposal fails to explain how any of the proposed criteria would be applied. For example, how would the “allocation” of a group’s budget affect its “primary purpose” of being an independent committee? Would spending even one percent of a group’s budget on independent expenditures, electioneering communications, and election communications cause it to meet the primary purpose threshold? What about 25 percent? Or 50 percent? The absence of any threshold whatsoever in the proposed rule would, in practice, give the Commissioner the sole discretion to regulate speakers differently as he personally sees fit, without regard to any objective standards. This fatal flaw exists for each of the other proposed factors.

Additionally, the proposed definition of “primary purpose” also appears to deviate from the statutory command that an entity must have one, and only one, “primary purpose” of “supporting or opposing candidates or ballot issues” in order for it to be regulated as a full-fledged political committee. In SB 289, the Legislature specified that:

(a) "Incidental committee" means a political committee that is not specifically organized or operating for the primary purpose of supporting or opposing candidates or ballot issues but that may incidentally become a political committee by receiving a contribution or making an expenditure.

²⁷ Proposed ARM § 44.11.602(5)(a).

²⁸ See 11 C.F.R. § 109.21(d)(2), (3), (4), and (5); see also Explanation and Justification for Final Rules on Coordinated Communications, 71 Fed. Reg. 33190, 33205 (Jun. 8, 2006).

²⁹ See Am. Tradition P’ship v. Bullock, 132 S. Ct. 2490 (2012).

(b) For the purpose of this subsection (22), the primary purpose is determined by the commissioner by rule and includes criteria such as the allocation of budget, staff, or members' activity or the statement of purpose or goal of the person or individuals that form the committee.³⁰

In Human Life of Washington, Inc. v. Brumsickle, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit (in whose jurisdiction Montana lies) upheld the constitutionality of a Washington State statute defining a political committee as an entity having as its “primary or one of the primary purposes . . . supporting or opposing candidates or ballot propositions.”³¹ The court accepted the plaintiff’s characterization of the statute as covering groups with “‘a’ primary purpose of political advocacy, instead of being limited to groups with ‘the’ primary purpose of political advocacy,” but rejected the plaintiff’s claim that the U.S. Supreme Court held that only groups with “‘the’” primary purpose of influencing elections could be regulated as political committees.³² Other courts also have recognized that using the articles “a” and “the” to characterize an entity’s “primary purpose” in determining its status as a political committee results in profoundly different meanings.³³

CCP disagrees with the Ninth Circuit’s holding that there is not a constitutional requirement to limit the application of political committee laws only to those entities that have “the” primary purpose of influencing elections.³⁴ Regardless, it is beyond dispute that, in Montana, the Legislature did in fact specify that an entity will be treated as a full-fledged political committee only if it has “the” primary purpose of “supporting or opposing candidates or ballot issues.”³⁵ Since the Commissioner may not act contrary to the statute,³⁶ the proposed regulation’s references to “a major, principal, or important goal, function, or reason for existence” and “a primary purpose,” as well as the related open-ended criteria for determining “primary purpose,”³⁷ are contrary to law. This provision needs to be totally rewritten.

Relatedly, the proposed definitions of an “incidental committee” and “incidental committee election activity” also are unconstitutionally vague. Specifically, the proposed rule provides that “incidental committee election activity” (as well as “reportable election activity”) include accepting contributions “in response to an appeal.”³⁸ This begs the critical question: In response to an appeal for what, precisely? If the proposal means appeals specifically for political contributions, then it should state so explicitly. By contrast, elsewhere, the proposed definition of “primary purpose” is more specific in specifying which contributions “in response to an appeal” are subject to regulation.³⁹

E) Conclusion

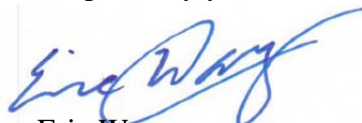

The Published Draft of the proposed regulations represents an appreciable improvement over the Initial Draft, but this latest version still suffers from several major flaws that could be fixed relatively easily.⁴⁰ For the reasons discussed above, the Commissioner should:

- Dispense with the “election activity” concept altogether;
- Delete the “facts and circumstances” standard from the “electioneering communications” definition;
- Shorten the time window during which a former campaign vendor or employee is presumed to be coordinating;
- Include an exemption under the coordination rules for publicly available information; and
- Clarify the definitions of “incidental committee”/“incidental committee activity,” and “reportable election activity”;
- Rewrite the definition of “primary purpose.”

The attached redline suggests changes to the published rule text to address most of these issues.

3. GENERAL STATEMENT OF REASONABLE NECESSITY

The COPP has statutory authority to establish rules that implement the Montana Campaign Practices and Finance Act as enacted and amended by the Legislature. These rules set forth minimum disclosure and reporting standards which are important elements in providing for the public disclosure of funds used in campaigns for elected office or ballot issues. These rules provide clarity to candidates and political committees to facilitate the ability to achieve the Act's purpose of keeping the public's trust, fulfilling their public duty of reporting and disclosure, and promoting the public's right to know.

In 1976 the Office of the Commissioner of Political Practices (COPP) enacted its first set of administrative rules. The last major re-write of the rules occurred in 2001. In an effort to organize the current COPP rules to follow the logical flow of a campaign, the commissioner has determined that we will retire the old campaign finance reporting and disclosure rule numbers, from ARM Title 44, chapter 10, subchapters 1 through 5 to Title 44, chapter 11, subchapters 1 through 7.

The COPP proposes the transfer, amendment, adoption, and repeal of current COPP rules to conform to current law, including Citizens United, and to clarify application of the Montana Campaign Practices and Finance Act to candidates and political committees. Further, the 2015 Legislature passed SB 89, SB 151, and SB 289, all of which are effective October 1, 2015, and the amendment, adoption, and repeal of COPP rules are necessary to define and clarify compliance standards in accord with these new laws.

The COPP recognizes and commends James Scheier, Bureau Chief for Agency Legal Services, for his assistance, guidance, and commitment over the previous 28 years working with the commissioners and staff of the COPP and to the benefit of the people of Montana. This commendation includes gratitude for Mr. Scheier's assistance in formulating these rules.

4. The rules as proposed to be adopted provide as follows:

NEW RULE I PRIMARY PURPOSE ~~(1) The term "primary purpose" refers to a major, principal, or important goal, function, or reason for existence for a committee.~~

~~(2) The commissioner may determine that a primary purpose of a committee is to support or oppose candidates or ballot issues based upon any one or more of the following criteria:~~

~~(a) allocation and source of budget;~~

~~(b) staff or members' activity, both during an election and otherwise;~~

~~(c) the statement of purpose, articles of incorporation, bylaws, or goals; (d) election activity;~~

~~(e) the history of the committee and the number of elections in which it has participated or registered;~~

~~(f) receipt of contributions in response to an appeal or that are designated for a specified candidate, ballot issue, petition, or election activity;~~

~~(g) the number and cost of reportable election expenditures made; (h) coordination with any candidates or other political committees; (i) ordinary business actually conducted;~~

~~(j) if a corporation, whether it was created and maintained as provided by~~

~~aw; (k) the date of founding, incorporation, or organization.~~

~~of~~ (3) If the commissioner finds, pursuant to ARM 44.11.204 and based on his or her analysis of the information provided on the committee's statement of organization (Form C-2), or any other information known or provided to the commissioner's office, that an organization's primary purpose is to support or oppose a candidate or ballot issue, then that organization shall file and report as an independent committee, ballot issue committee, or political party committee, pursuant to these rules, and not as an incidental committee.

Comment [WE1]: Needs to be rewritten in toto.

AUTH: 13-37-114, MCA

IMP: 13-37-226, 13-37-232, MCA

REASON: The COPP is including the adoption of this rule into the subchapter specific to political committees to make the rules easier to navigate and more user-friendly. The primary purpose rule defines an independent committee, as opposed to an incidental committee.

The COPP considered alternative methods for the criteria used in (2) of this rule. Those alternatives included using percentages or a "totality of the circumstances" balancing test to determine primary purpose. The COPP chose the alternative in this proposed rule because election activity varies from cycle to cycle and is infinitely varied over time.

The COPP considered establishing a rebuttable presumption that any corporation, entity, or organization that was formed in the six months prior to an election in which it solicits contributions for or made a reportable election expenditure would have been established for the purpose of supporting or opposing candidates or issues (an independent, party, or ballot issue committee).

The method chosen for the COPP's proposed rule reflects a balancing of the people's informational interest in disclosure with an entity's associational privacy. Montanans' right to evaluate different speakers and messages participating in an election is dependent not upon an organization's overall conduct, but upon the organization's conduct in and around Montanans' elections. The COPP is further adopting this rule to satisfy public need, clarify the statutory requirements, increase transparency, and identify the minimum reporting and disclosure baseline consistent with the law.

NEW RULE II STATEMENT OF CANDIDACY (1) "Candidate" is defined in 13-1-101, MCA.

(2) A candidate, whether or not the office for which the individual will seek nomination or election is known, shall file certification with the commissioner pursuant to 13-37-201, MCA, within five business days of becoming a candidate as defined by 13-1-101, MCA.

(3) A statement of candidacy shall include, but not be limited to:

(a) the complete name, office sought, and party affiliation (if applicable) of the candidate; and

(b) the complete name and address of the candidate's campaign treasurer and campaign depository, and the complete name and address of his or her deputy campaign treasurer and secondary campaign depository, if any.

AUTH: 13-37-114, MCA

IMP: 13-1-101, 13-37-201, 13-37-202, 13-37-205, MCA

REASON: The COPP is adopting this rule to clarify the candidate-specific statutory requirements, increase transparency, and to identify the minimum reporting and disclosure baseline consistent with the law.

NEW RULE III BUSINESS DISCLOSURE (1) For purposes of this rule, "state officer" means elected officials, candidates for statewide or state district offices, state district court candidates, Supreme Court candidates, department directors, or anyone appointed to fill any of these offices.

(2) All state officers must file a business disclosure statement, as provided in 2-2-106, MCA.

(a) Each candidate for a statewide election or a state office elected from a district must file a business disclosure statement within five days of the time that the candidate files for office.

(3) For additional rule requirements, see ARM 44.10.621.

REASON: The COPP is adopting this rule to clarify the candidate specific statutory requirements, increase transparency, and to identify the minimum reporting and disclosure baseline consistent with the law.

NEW RULE IV CONSEQUENCES FOR FAILURE TO FILE REQUIRED STATEMENTS, REPORTS, OR DISCLOSURES (1) The commissioner, following inspection of the candidate or committee's required statements, disclosures, or reports or lack thereof, may take actions, including but not limited to any of the following:

(a) declare the statement, disclosure, or report to be incomplete or inadequate and require the preparation of a new statement, disclosure, or report, as provided in 13-37-121 and 13-37-123, MCA;

(b) require the production of a candidate or committee's campaign records, accounts, books, correspondence, memoranda, bank account statements, or any other information as provided in 13-37-111 and 13-37-123, MCA;

(c) reclassify a political committee as provided in 13-37-226, MCA;

(d) issue an order of noncompliance as provided in 13-37-121, MCA;

(e) provide notice to the Secretary of State or other election administrator that a candidate's name should be withheld from a primary election ballot as provided in 13-37-126, MCA;

(f) provide notice to the Secretary of State or other election administrator that a certificate of nomination or election should be withheld following the general election as provided in 13-37-127, MCA;

(g) issue a finding of sufficient evidence of violation of Montana's Campaign Practice and Finance laws as provided by 13-37-111 and 13-37-123, MCA;

(h) initiate a civil or criminal court action to enforce Montana's Campaign Practice and Finance laws as provided by 13-37-128, MCA;

(i) request the District Court to remove an elected official from office, if the official is found by the court to have violated the laws as provided in 13-35-106, MCA;

(j) request that the District Court void an election pursuant to 13-35-107, MCA; or

(k) any other action allowed by statute to carry out the purposes of Montana's 1975 Campaign Finance and Candidate Disclosure Act as provided by sec. 1, Ch. 480, L. 1975.

(2) This rule is not intended to limit the powers of others to enforce the laws of Title 13, chapters 35 and 37, MCA, where allowed by law, nor to encompass all potential legal consequences for actions outside the jurisdiction of the commissioner.

REASON: The COPP is proposing adoption of this rule to clarify the authority of the commissioner to regulate and enforce Montana's Campaign Practice and Finance laws. The commissioner's authority is spread throughout Title 13, chapters 35 and 37, MCA, and the purpose of this rule is to reduce confusion and enhance understanding of the COPP.

NEW RULE V ELECTRONIC CONTRIBUTIONS, REPORTING (1) A candidate or political committee may accept electronic contributions from online payment service providers and payment gateways as contributions.

(a) A contribution made through a payment gateway, such as Bitcoin or other electronic peer-to-peer systems, shall be converted to U.S. dollars at the prevailing rate within twenty-four hours of receipt.

(b) A contribution made through an online service provider, such as Paypal or Google Wallet, shall be deposited in the campaign account.

(c) Any electronic contribution must be deposited in the designated campaign account within five business days of actual receipt or conversion.

(2) All electronic contributions shall be reported according to the requirements for contributions set out in these rules.

(a) An electronic contribution shall be reported as received on the day the electronic contribution is made to the online service provider or payment gateway, regardless of whether the contribution has actually been received.

(b) The full value of the contribution shall be reported as received from the contributor, not the amount as received from the service.

(c) Each service charge or conversion fee incurred or discounted by the payment service provider shall be reported as a campaign expenditure in accordance with these rules.

(3) Anonymous contributions shall never be accepted.

(4) If the electronic contribution amount exceeds the candidate contribution limit, the contributor must be issued a refund for the excess funds via check or through an online payment system from the campaign account. If it is not possible to return only a portion of the funds, the entire contribution must be returned.

(5) All candidates and political committees that receive electronic contributions are subject to the same limits, prohibitions, reporting, and disclosure requirements as monetary contributions, as outlined in these rules.

REASON: The COPP is proposing the adoption of this rule to address the current digital nature of campaign fundraising and to reduce confusion from candidates and committees on how to report them. The rule provides specific instructions on how to handle the receipt and reporting of electronic contributions. See also the reason for ARM 44.10.511 (44.11.402).

NEW RULE VI. ATTRIBUTION ON ELECTION MATERIAL (1) Pursuant to 13-35-225, MCA, election communications, electioneering communications, and independent expenditures (referred to collectively herein as "election materials") must disclose the person who paid for the election materials, by including the appropriate attribution language set out in (2).

(2) All attributions must include the words "paid for by" followed by the appropriate identifying information. For election materials financed by:

(a) a candidate or a candidate's campaign, the attribution must include either:

(i) the name and address of the candidate; or

(ii) the name and address of the candidate's campaign.

(A) An attribution using the name of the candidate's campaign must include the first and last name of the candidate if the name of the campaign does not include at least the candidate's last name.

(B) Additional information, such as the name of the campaign treasurer, may be included within the attribution language, but it is not required.

(iii) Examples of an appropriate attribution for a candidate are:

Paid for by John Smith
P.O. Box 10000

Helena, MT 59605

or

Paid for by Smith for Senate
P.O. Box 20000
Helena, MT 59605

- (b) a political committee, the attribution must include:
- (i) the name of the committee, the name of the committee treasurer, and the address of either the committee or its treasurer.
 - (ii) An example of an appropriate attribution for a political committee is:

Paid for by Support Our Schools
Sarah Jones, Treasurer
P.O. Box 30000
Helena, MT 59605

- (c) a political committee that is a corporation or union, the attribution must include:
- (i) the name of the corporation or union, its chief executive officer or equivalent, and the physical address of the corporation or union's principal place of business.
 - (ii) Examples of an appropriate attribution for a political committee that is a corporation or union are:

Corporation:
Paid for by Pretty Good Manufacturing Co.
Susan Smith, CEO
1000 Industry Drive
Helena, MT 59605

Union:
Paid for by Montana Grocery Workers Union
James Miller, President
2000 Shopping Cart Avenue
Helena, MT 59605

- (d) For election materials funded or facilitated solely by an individual acting on his or her own behalf, the attribution must include the name and address of the individual who paid for the materials.
- (3) All election materials are required by 13-35-225, MCA, to clearly and conspicuously include the appropriate attribution language. To ensure compliance with this statutory directive, the commissioner establishes the following requirements and specifications:

(a) for written election materials, including but not limited to those published, broadcast, or otherwise disseminated through print media or digital media, as defined in these rules:

- (i) the reader or observer should have no difficulty locating and reading the attribution language;
- (ii) the attribution language should be of sufficient type size to be clearly readable by the recipient or reader of the communication;
- (iii) the language should be contained in a printed area or segment set apart from the other contents of the election materials;
- (iv) the language should be printed with a reasonable degree of color contrast between the background and the printed statement; and
- (v) in the case of yard signs or other campaign signs, the attribution language should appear on the side of the sign that contains the campaign message.

(b) for broadcast election materials, including but not limited to those published, broadcast, or otherwise disseminated through broadcast media or digital media, as defined by these rules:

- (i) the attribution language for broadcast election communications containing audio content shall be spoken in the communication;
- (ii) the attribution language for broadcast election materials containing visual content shall be displayed in the communication. The language may simultaneously be spoken, but it is not required.

(4) In partisan candidate elections, election communications and electioneering communications financed by a candidate or a political committee organized on the candidate's behalf must state either the candidate's party affiliation or include the candidate's party symbol.

(a) To meet the party affiliation disclosure requirement, election materials should state the name or a reasonable and comprehensible abbreviation of the name of one of the qualified political parties in Montana: "Democrat," "Libertarian," or "Republican."

(b) To meet the party symbol disclosure requirement, election materials should include either the symbol for one of the qualified political parties in Montana or the capitalized first letter of one of the parties. Acceptable symbol designations are:

- (i) Democrat: the donkey symbol or "D";
- (ii) Libertarian: the Statue of Liberty symbol or "L"; or
- (iii) Republican: the elephant symbol or "R."

(c) The commissioner may determine that other language or a symbol included within a particular election material complies with the statutory directive, as long as there is some objective basis for the use of the language or symbol and the identity of the party is readily discernable.

(d) The party affiliation or symbol may appear with the attribution language, or within the body of the message content in the election materials.

(5) Printed election material that contains information about another candidate's voting record must include all the information specified in 13-35-225, MCA. The signed statement referred to in the statute may consist of a facsimile of an actual hand signature or an electronic signature. An acceptable electronic signature will be in the following format: "/s/ John Smith." An electronic signature that appears on written election materials shall have the same effect as an actual hand signature or a facsimile of a hand signature.

(6) Election materials consisting of documents or other articles of campaign advertising that are too small for the inclusion of the attribution language and other information required by 13-35-225, MCA, need not include the information; however, the person who financed the election material must file a copy of the material with the commissioner, together with the information required by the statute, at the time of its public distribution. For purposes of this rule, "at the time" means at or before the earliest date and time the election material is scheduled to be published, broadcast, or disseminated to the public.

(7) If information required by 13-35-225, MCA, is omitted from election materials, or if information required by (6) is not filed with the commissioner, the person who is responsible for or who financed the material shall, upon discovering the deficiency:

(a) file notification of the deficiency with the commissioner within two business days of discovery;

(b) bring the election material into compliance or file the information required by (6); and

(c) withdraw any noncompliant material from circulation as soon as possible.

(8) If notification required by (7)(a) is not provided and the commissioner becomes aware of the existence of election material that does not comply with 13-35-225, MCA, whether by complaint or otherwise, the commissioner will contact the person who is responsible for or financed the material and provide notice of the deficiency.

(a) The notice will require that the material be brought into compliance within the time limits provided in 13-35-225, MCA.

(b) The notice will state that failure to bring the material into compliance will subject the person who financed the election materials to a civil penalty action pursuant to 13-37-128, MCA.

(c) The noncompliant election material must not be disseminated or broadcast until it has been corrected and brought into compliance.

(9) The office of the commissioner, when notified, will work informally with candidates, political committees, and others to ensure compliance with the requirements of 13-35-225, MCA, and to promptly bring deficient election materials into compliance.

NEW RULE VII COORDINATION (1) A "coordinated expenditure" means any election communication; or electioneering communication; ~~or election activity~~ that is:

- (a) funded or facilitated by:
- (i) an expenditure as defined in 13-1-101, MCA, and further defined in ARM 44.11.501;
 - (ii) a payment of money by any person; or
 - (iii) a purchase, distribution, loan, advance, promise, pledge, gift, or provision of anything of value by any person.
- (b) in cooperation with, in consultation with, under the control of, or at the direction of, in concert with, at the request or suggestion of, or with the express prior consent of a candidate or political committee or an agent of a candidate or political committee.
- (c) The coordination of an expenditure need not require agreement, cooperation, consultation, request, or consent on every term necessary for the particular coordinated expenditure, such as content, price, or timing, but only requires one of those elements to be met as a fact of a coordinated expenditure.
- (2) Whether an election communication ~~or~~ electioneering communication, ~~or election activity~~ may constitute a "coordinated expenditure" depends upon conduct, communications, or relationships involving a person and a candidate or political committee or an agent of a candidate or political committee, or involving an individual who acted within the previous ~~twelve~~ four months as a paid agent or consultant to the candidate or a political committee supporting the candidate.
- (3) A "coordinated expenditure" does not mean any election communication, ~~or~~ electioneering communication, ~~or election activity~~ consisting of:
- (a) an independent expenditure or an independent ~~election activity~~ electioneering communication funded or facilitated by a person;
 - (b) services, food, or lodging provided in a manner that they are not contributions by a person within the meaning of contribution as defined by 13-1-101, MCA, or these rules;
 - (c) the cost funded or facilitated by a person for any bona fide news story, commentary, blog, or editorial distributed through the facilities of any broadcasting station, newspaper, magazine, or other periodical of general circulation;
 - (d) activity by an individual acting solely on his or her own behalf independently of any candidate or political committee; or
 - (e) the independent use of statements, images, or other information that is appropriated from a public source.
- (4) A "coordinated expenditure" does not exist solely because:
- (a) the person funding or facilitating the activity has previously made a contribution to the candidate;
 - (b) after publication or distribution, the person funding or facilitating the activity informs the candidate or an agent of the candidate that the person has made an expenditure or funded the activity, provided that there is no other exchange of information, not otherwise available to the public, relating to details of the expenditure or funding the activity; or
 - (c) the funding or facilitating of the activity is made at the request or suggestion of a candidate or an agent of a candidate for the benefit of another candidate or political committee where the other potentially benefitted candidate or political committee has no involvement.

(5) There shall be a rebuttable presumption that any funding or facilitating of an ~~election activity~~election communication or electioneering communication is not independent of the candidate on whose behalf, or for whose benefit, the activity is conducted, when:

(a) it is based on information, except for information obtained from a publicly available source, that is provided by the candidate or an agent of the candidate directly or indirectly to the person funding or facilitating the activity;

(b) it is made by or through any candidate's agent in the course of the agent's involvement in the current campaign;

(c) the person funding or facilitating the activity retains the services of a person who consults with or provides services benefitting the candidate related to campaign activity or fundraising strategy for that same election, except as provided in (6);

(d) the activity replicates, reproduces, republishes, or disseminates, in whole or in substantial part, any material designed, produced, paid for, or distributed by the candidate;

(e) the candidate or political committee or an agent of a candidate or political committee has made or participated in any discussion or in making any decision regarding the content, timing, location, mode, intended audience, volume of distribution, or frequency of placement of any communication broadcast or conveyed as part of the activity;

(f) the person funding or facilitating the activity has an employee or agent who is also involved in activities described in (5)(a) through (e) on behalf of the candidate; or

(g) the candidate, during the ~~twelve-four~~ months prior to the election, raised money for ~~election activity~~an election communication or electioneering communication for the person funding or facilitating the ~~election~~ activity.

(6) There shall also be a rebuttable presumption that any funding or facilitating of an election communication or electioneering communication ~~election activity~~ is not independent of the candidate on whose behalf, or for whose benefit, the activity is conducted, when a person involved in funding or facilitating the activity also acted within the previous ~~four~~twelve months as a paid agent, consultant, employee, or vendor to the candidate or political committee supporting the candidate where there is no contemporaneous writing creating a documented firewall signed by the person and filed with the commissioner stating that the person is not involved with activity described in (1) through (5) with respect to the candidate. A vendor engaging only in arms-length transactions as a third-party supplier or service provider to candidate(s) or political committee(s) may satisfy this requirement by signing and filing a single written firewall statement for any applicable twelve-month election cycle.

(7) A "coordinated expenditure" shall be treated and reported as an in-kind contribution from and expenditure by the person funding, facilitating, or engaging in the election communication, or electioneering communication, ~~or election activity~~. Both the candidate and the committee shall report the coordinated expenditure and/or in-kind contribution as the case may be.

MAR Notice No. 44-2-207

REASON: The COPP is proposing adoption of this rule to follow the directives of SB 289, to satisfy public need, and to set forth the procedural requirements for reporting coordinated expenditures and contributions.

Montana's history of actual and perceived corruption in elections prompted citizens to pass by initiative the 1912 Corrupt Practices Act. Undisclosed coordination threatens the integrity of the people's election reporting and disclosure laws that Montanans have traditionally and repeatedly upheld. Based on past experience, coordination carries a consequence for the people of Montana, candidates, and committees.

The COPP considered a 24-month rebuttable presumption of coordination when a person was involved in various election activities, and later associated with or made a reportable election activity expenditure or solicited contributions for a candidate. Given the population size of Montana and relationships that exist between Montanans, the COPP has proposed the adoption of a lesser 12-month time frame for the rebuttable presumption to attach.

In order to document a person's awareness of the obligation to avoid coordinated election activity, when necessary, the COPP proposes the adoption of a contemporaneous statement to be filed with the COPP which acknowledges and establishes a firewall in (6) of this rule. The firewall statements are not required, but will allow persons and vendors who regularly participate or provide services in Montana's elections to create a rebuttable presumption that the election activity they intend to participate in is not and will not be coordinated.

The COPP's proposed rule balances competing interests by creating rebuttable presumptions and allowing the public filing of firewall statements to protect all participants in our electoral system. The COPP is further adopting this rule to clarify statutory requirements, increase transparency, and to identify the minimum disclosure baseline consistent with the law.

NEW RULE VIII DE MINIMIS (1) A "de minimis act" is defined in 13-1-101, MCA. The commissioner may consider the following factors in determining whether specific acts, contributions, or expenditures are de minimis and therefore do not trigger registration, reporting, attribution, or disclosure requirements, or warrant enforcement as a campaign practices violation:

(a) whether the act, contribution, or expenditure has an ascertainable fair market value, and if so the amount of that value;

(b) in the case of an act that results in the provision of services, whether the act results in either a detriment to the provider of the services, such as an out-of-pocket expense or the preclusion of other activities;

(c) whether the act, contribution, or expenditure at issue is a single, one-time event or occurrence or multiple events or occurrences;

(d) the extent to which a particular campaign practices violation deprives the public of disclosure;

(e) other factors and circumstances the commissioner determines are relevant.

(2) These criteria will be considered and applied on a case-by-case basis.

(3) Acts, contributions, or expenditures that may, depending on the circumstances, be considered de minimis include, but are not limited to:

(a) the creation of electronic or written communications or digital photos or video, on a voluntary (unpaid) basis by an individual, including the creation and outgoing content development and delivery of social media on the internet or by telephone;

(b) the provision by an individual or political committee of personal property, food, or services with a cumulative fair market value of less than $35 in the aggregate for any single election;

(c) the location value of the display of lawn or yard signs on real property, but only if the property owner does not normally and does not in fact charge a fee for display of signs;

(d) any value attributable to the display of campaign bumper stickers or signs on a vehicle, but only if the vehicle owner does not normally and does not in fact charge a fee for display of bumper stickers or signs;

(e) typographical errors or incomplete or erroneous information on a campaign finance report that is determined not to be misleading or that does not substantially affect disclosure;

(f) any failure to comply with the attribution requirements of 13-35-225, MCA, that is determined to nevertheless provide sufficient disclosure regarding who made or financed the communication;

(g) expenses associated with volunteer services or efforts, including but not limited to the cost of gas, parking, and meals.

(4) Fair market value will be determined according to the description of the term in ARM 44.11.403 and 44.11.503.

IMP: 13-1-101, MCA

REASON: The COPP is proposing adoption of this rule to follow the directive of SB 289, to satisfy public need, and to set forth the types of campaign activity which the commissioner may consider de minimis actions. The COPP is further adopting this rule to provide guidance to candidates and campaigns on campaign actions which have been determined to be de minimis in the past, which have not triggered reporting and disclosure obligations.

NEW RULE IX ELECTION COMMUNICATION (1) An election communication is a communication, made in media as defined in these rules, that is made to support or oppose a candidate or ballot issue, as those terms are defined in 13-1-101, MCA.

(2) An election communication means:

(a) a paid advertisement broadcast over radio, television, cable, or satellite;

(b) paid placement of content on the internet or other electronic communication network;

(c) a paid advertisement published in a newspaper or periodical or on a billboard;

(d) a mailing; or

(e) printed materials.

(3) An election communication does not mean any communication that is excluded from the definition of the term in 13-1-101, MCA.

(4) A person who makes an election communication is subject to the reporting and disclosure requirements of Title 13, chapters 35 and 37, MCA, and these rules.

IMP: 13-1-101, 13-37-225, 13-37-226, 13-37-229, 13-37-232, MCA

REASON: The COPP is proposing adoption of this rule to follow the directives of SB 289, to satisfy public need, and to clarify statutory requirements specific to election communications in comparison to electioneering communications. The two types of communications have separate and distinct statutory reporting and disclosure obligations. The rule is proposed to prevent confusion of candidates or committees on the similarly named communication types, for clarification and consistency throughout these rules, and to provide uniformity with the statutes.

NEW RULE X ELECTIONEERING COMMUNICATION (1) An electioneering communication is a paid communication that:

(a) is publicly distributed by one or more of the modes of communication listed in the statute;

(b) is made within 60 days of the initiation of voting in an election;

(c) does not support or oppose a candidate or ballot issue, as "support or oppose" is defined in 13-1-101, MCA;

(d) can be received by more than 100 recipients in the district voting on the candidate or ballot issue;

(e) meets one or more of the following criteria:

(i) refers to one or more clearly identified candidates in the election;

(ii) depicts the name, image, likeness, or voice of one or more clearly identified candidates in the election; or

(iii) refers to a political party, ballot issue, or other question submitted to the voters in the election; and

(f) may also include an independent expenditure.

(2) In (1)(b) the phrase "made within 60 days of the initiation of voting in an election" shall mean the following:

(a) in the case of mail ballot elections, the initiation of voting occurs when official ballot packets are mailed to qualified electors pursuant to 13-19-206, MCA;

(b) in other elections the initiation of voting occurs when absentee ballot packets are mailed to or otherwise delivered to qualified electors pursuant to 13-13-214, MCA.

(3) An electioneering communication does not mean any communication that is excluded from the definition of the term in 13-1-101, MCA. In addition, an electioneering communication does not mean:

(a) a communication that refers to or depicts the name, image, likeness, or voice of one or more clearly identified candidates, but that is susceptible to no reasonable interpretation other than as unrelated to the candidacy or the election;

(b) a communication that refers to a political party, ballot issue, or other question submitted to the voters at an election, but that is susceptible to no reasonable interpretation other than as unrelated to the issue or the election;

(c) the voter information pamphlet prepared and distributed by the Secretary of State; or

(d) any other communication by a local government or a state agency that only includes non-election information about a candidate, ballot issue, or election. For purposes of this rule the terms local government and state agency shall have the same meaning as the definitions of the terms in 2-2-102, MCA.

~~(4) The determination whether a particular communication is an electioneering communication or is excluded from the definition of the term will be based on the purpose, timing, and distribution of the communication, as well as the facts and circumstances surrounding its creation and distribution.~~

(5) Upon request, the commissioner may issue a letter to a group or person reporting the cost of electioneering communications under these rules. The letter may state that the reporting and disclosure required for an electioneering communication does not mean or imply that an express advocacy determination was made as to the communication that is covered by the cost reported.

(6) A person who makes an electioneering communication is subject to the reporting and disclosure requirements of Title 13, chapters 35 and 37, MCA, and these rules.

IMP: 13-1-101, 13-37-225, 13-37-226, 13-37-229, 13-37-232, MCA

REASON: The COPP is proposing adoption of this rule to follow the directives of SB 289, to satisfy public need, and to clarify statutory requirements specific to electioneering communications in comparison to election communications. The two types of communications have separate and distinct statutory reporting and disclosure obligations. The rule is proposed to prevent confusion of candidates or committees on the similarly named communication types, for clarification and consistency throughout these rules, and to provide uniformity with the statutes. The COPP added (5) to this rule to allow entities or organizations to request a letter from the COPP in instances where reporting and disclosure of electioneering communications are required by law, but no administrative determination has been made by the commissioner.

NEW RULE XI FAIR NOTICE PERIOD BEFORE ELECTION (1) For purposes of this rule, "campaign advertising" refers to reportable election activity, as defined in ARM 44.11.103.

(2) The "fair notice requirement" is described in 13-35-402, MCA. For the purpose of that section, the date used to determine the date "intended for public distribution" for material distributed by:

(a) print media is the date of the postmark.

(i) If no postmark is provided on the mailing, the date the mailing is mailed or "dropped," as reported by the mail distributor, is the equivalent of the postmark date.

(b) broadcast media, digital media, or published material is "at the time" the material is published or broadcast or disseminated to the public.

(i) "At the time" means at or before the earliest date and time the message is scheduled to be published, broadcast, or disseminated to the public.

(c) hand dissemination, see 13-35-402, MCA.

IMP: 13-35-402, MCA

REASON: The COPP is including the adoption of this rule into this subchapter on general campaign practices to make the rules easier to navigate and more user-friendly. The COPP is further adopting this rule to satisfy public need, clarify the application of key terms and phrases in the statute, increase transparency and promote fair play in the electoral process, and to identify the minimum disclosure baseline consistent with the law.

NEW RULE XII PERSONAL USE OF CAMPAIGN FUNDS (1) Except as provided in (4), no goods, services, funds, property, or other contributions received by a candidate or political committee may be used for the personal use or expense of any candidate, immediate family of a candidate, or staff of a candidate's campaign.

(2) Expenditures for personal use are those that have no direct connection with, or effect upon, expenditures to support or oppose candidates or issues, and those that would exist irrespective of a candidate's campaign or an individual's involvement in a candidate's campaign. Campaign expenditures are those that serve to support or oppose a candidate or issue. An expenditure for personal use or expense occurs when, for example, the expenditure:

(a) covers normal living needs of the candidate, the candidate's immediate family, or any other individual;

(b) covers food or clothing that are not specially required by or related to a campaign activity;

(c) covers the cost of travel, lodging, food, and registration, including attendance at any conference or event, that does not serve a campaign interest.

(3) A candidate or candidate's campaign may purchase goods or services and lease personal and real property that provide a mixed benefit to the candidate provided:

(a) the amount attributed to an individual's personal use or expense shall be determined in writing and reimbursed by the individual to the campaign, unless the personal benefit is de minimis;

(b) a mixed benefit to the candidate means use of goods, services, or property for personal use or expense as well as to support or oppose candidates or issues; or

(c) the personal benefit is de minimis as determined according to ARM [NEW RULE VIII].

(4) The prohibition of this rule is not applicable to:

- (a) reimbursements to a candidate, or staff or volunteers of a candidate's campaign, for goods and services purchased for campaign expenditures;
 - (b) gifts or bonuses of less than $250 in a calendar year to campaign staff; or
 - (c) expenditures expressly authorized elsewhere in these rules.
- (5) Prior to filing a closing report of a candidate's campaign:
- (a) any personal and real property purchased with campaign funds that has a residual fair market value of $50 or more may be disposed of by one of the following methods:
 - (i) sale of the property at fair market value, in which case the proceeds shall be treated the same as other campaign funds and disposed of according to ARM 44.11.702 regarding surplus campaign funds. If campaign property is sold to the candidate, a member of the candidate's immediate family, or paid campaign staff, the campaign must receive at least 75 percent of the original purchase price or value of the in-kind contribution as determined per ARM 44.11.403; or
 - (ii) donation of the property under one of the options set out in ARM 44.11.702 pertaining to disposal of surplus campaign funds.
 - (b) the disposition of all campaign property under this rule must be reported on the closing report required by ARM 44.11.306, including the method of disposition (sale or donation), the complete date of the disposition, the name and address of the purchaser or donee, and a description of the property. If the property is sold, the information shall include the sale price received; if the property is donated, the information shall include the fair market value of the property at the time of the transfer.
 - (c) for purposes of this rule, the "residual" fair market value is based upon the value of the property at the time it is sold or donated, accounting for items of similar description, age, and condition. The sale of property through an online commercial auction shall be considered as a favorable factor in determining that the sale price received was the fair market value of the property sold.
 - (d) any personal or real property purchased with campaign funds that is not disposed of under this rule, shall be disposed of according to ARM 44.11.702.
 - (6) Whether an expenditure of campaign funds is to be considered a personal use or expense, and therefore prohibited, is a factual determination to be made by the commissioner.

REASON: The COPP is adopting this rule to satisfy public need and to explain statutory requirements regarding the use of campaign funds for campaign purposes. A "contribution" is "anything of value to support or oppose a candidate or ballot issue," 13-1-101, MCA. In turn, an "expenditure" is made by a candidate or political committee "to support or oppose a candidate or ballot issue," id. The receipt of contributions from the public involves an obligation to expend the funds for the purpose which the contributions were given and in a manner that supports the public trust, 2-3-103, MCA. This obligation is reflected in the statutory definition of "expenditure" itself: "'Expenditure' does not mean:...payments by a candidate for a filing fee or for personal travel expenses, food, clothing, lodging, or personal necessities for the candidate and the candidate's family," 13-1-101(17)(b)(ii), MCA.

The use of campaign funds for personal expenditures such as meals, lodging, and utilities does enable a candidate of lesser means to be able to take time off of their primary job and campaign for public office. This alternative has been thoroughly considered, but was ultimately rejected based on the requirements of the statute and in the face of the larger public trust obligation of expending campaign funds in a manner that supports the candidacy, rather than the candidate. In order to protect the public trust in making contributions, the COPP proposes the above rule. The COPP believes such a rule is needed to clarify existing responsibilities and obligations of candidates and committees in regards to use of campaign funds, which will increase transparency and trust in the electoral process.

44.10.321 (44.11.401) CONTRIBUTION – DEFINITION (1) For the purposes of Title 13, chapters 35 and 37, MCA, and these rules, the term "contribution" as defined in 13-1-101, MCA, includes, but is not limited to:

- (a) each contribution as ~~listed~~ described in 13-37-229, MCA;

For the purposes of determining compliance with political party contribution limits established pursuant to 13-37-216, MCA, a "contribution" does not include a coordinated expenditure made solely by a political party committee in the form of provision of personal services by paid staff of the political party that benefit the associational interest of the political party but also constitute election activity benefitting a particular candidate of the same political party.~~ benefits, expense reimbursement, or other supplemental payments, and a pro rata share of any taxes, fees, or assessments paid by the political party committee for each staff person.

REASON: This rule consolidates contribution rules and includes in rule the commissioner's determination of an exception from applicable aggregate contribution limits for political party in-kind contributions spent for paid personal services provided by the political party committee to a candidate. This determination is set out in the COPP's Advisory Opinion COPP-AO-2014-009. The COPP is transferring this rule to organize the rules on the same subject in the same subchapter, and proposing amendment of this rule for brevity, clarification, and consistency throughout these rules. The COPP is also amending this rule to provide clarity on the application of 13-37-216, MCA, to political party committees and to facilitate increased transparency in the disclosure of funds used in elections.

(a) An "in-kind contribution expenditure" includes, but is not limited to, the forgiveness of any loan or debt owed to by a candidate or political committee.

(3) The term "independent expenditure" means an expenditure for communications expressly advocating the success or defeat of a candidate or ballot issue which is not made with the cooperation or prior consent of or in consultation with, or at the request or suggestion of, a candidate or political committee or an agent of a candidate or political committee. (4) The term "coordinated expenditure" means an expenditure made in cooperation with, consultation with, at the request or suggestion of, or the prior consent of a candidate or political committee or an agent of a candidate or political committee. A coordinated expenditure shall be reported as an in-kind contribution as provided in ARM 44.10.511 and 44.10.513. is an expenditure that is "coordinated" as defined in 13-1-101, MCA, or involves "coordination" as defined in ARM [NEW RULE VIII].

(b) The candidate must balance his or her campaign finance report by reporting the amount of the expense as an in-kind contribution and/or loan by the candidate sufficient to balance the total amount of campaign expenses personally paid by the candidate.

(i) Any such candidate personal expenditure repaid by the candidate's campaign shall be disclosed and reported both as a campaign expenditure and as a repaid loan, even if both events take place in a single reporting period.

(ii) Any such candidate personal expenditure that is not repaid by the candidate's campaign shall be disclosed and reported both as a candidate contribution and as a campaign expenditure.

(5) An expenditure does not include ~~election~~ activity carried out solely by one individual that is not coordinated with any candidate, ballot issue, or political committee.

REASON: The COPP is transferring this rule to organize the rules on the same subject in the same subchapter, proposing amendment of this rule for brevity, clarification, and consistency throughout the rules, and to provide uniformity with the statutes. This rule consolidates expenditure rules, including expenditures created by coordination. This rule is further amended to reflect the repeal of 13-37-230, MCA, and the proposed adoption of a rule defining the distinction between coordinated and independent expenditures.

44.10.327 (44.11.202) POLITICAL COMMITTEE, DEFINITION AND TYPES

~~(1) A political committee has the meaning as defined in 13-1-101, MCA. For purposes of A political committee exists under Title 13, chapters 35 and 37, MCA, and these rules, political committees shall be one of three types: by virtue of its receipt of contributions or through making expenditures. A political committee, including each incidental or independent committee, must register with the commissioner at the time and in the manner set out in these rules, see ARM 44.11.201 and 44.11.302.~~

~~(2) There are four types of political committees:~~

~~(a) principle campaign committee; a ballot issue committee as defined in 13-1-101, MCA;~~

~~(b) independent committee; and a political party committee as defined in 13-1-101, MCA;~~

~~(c) an incidental committee as defined in 13-1-101, MCA; and~~

~~(d) an independent committee as defined in 13-1-101, MCA.~~

~~(3) A political committee is not formed by the following:~~

~~(a) by an individual who makes an independent expenditure solely with his or her own funds and by his or her own actions;~~

~~(b) by a $250 or less expenditure as defined by "political committee" in 13-1-101, MCA;~~

~~(c) by a de minimis activity, as defined in these rules;~~

~~(d) by an individual who is married making a contribution through his or her joint checking account; or~~

~~(e) by a candidate and his or her campaign treasurer(s) making an expenditure or accepting a contribution in the candidate's campaign.~~

~~(2) These types of political committees are defined as follows:~~

~~(a) a principle campaign committee is a political committee that is specifically organized to support or oppose a particular candidate or issue. There are three types of principal campaign committees:~~

~~(i) (4) A ballot issue committee is a political committee specifically organized to support or oppose a ballot issue, as defined in. A "ballot issue" is defined by 13-1-101, MCA.~~

~~(ii) A particular candidate committee is specifically organized to support or oppose a particular candidate. A particular candidate committee is not the same as a candidate's own campaign organization, which according to ARM 44.10.325(2) is not a political committee.~~

~~(iii) a leadership political committee is defined in ARM 44.10.332(1).~~

~~(5) A political party committee is a political committee formed by a political party organization. A political party organization is defined by 13-1-101, MCA. A political party committee includes a county central committee, city central committee, clubs, and any other political committee that was formed by a political party organization.~~

(6) An incidental committee is a political committee that does not have the primary purpose of supporting or opposing candidates or ballot issues. Incidental committee election activity may consist of:

- (a) making one or more expenditures ;
- (b) accepting one or more designated contributions; or
- (c) accepting one or more contributions in response to an appeal for a specified candidate, ballot issue, petition, or election communication or electioneering communication.

~~(b) (7) An independent committee is a political committee that is not specifically organized to support or oppose any particular candidate or issue but one that is organized for has the primary purpose of supporting or opposing various candidates and/or ballot issues but is neither a ballot issue nor a political party political committee. There are two types of independent committees: Independent committee activity may consist of:~~

- ~~(a) making one or more expenditures;~~
- ~~(b) accepting one or more contributions.~~

~~(i) A political action committee ("PAC") is a committee composed of individuals who contribute their money for the purpose of supporting or opposing candidates or issue upon which the committee agrees.~~

~~(ii) A political party committee is a committee formed by a political party organization, as that term is defined in 13-37-216, MCA. Examples of political party committees are listed in ARM 44.10.333(1).~~

~~(c) An incidental committee is a political committee that is not specifically organized or maintained for the primary purpose of influencing elections but that may incidentally become a political committee by making a contribution or expenditure to support or oppose a candidate and/or issue.~~

(8) Provided ~~its election~~the activity by which an entity qualifies as a political committee is all within a single reporting period, a political committee may file a single report of its election expenditures or contributions, identifying the report as an opening and closing report.

~~(3) (9) "Primary purpose" shall be determined based upon such criteria as allocation of budget, staff or members' activity, and the statement of purpose or goals of the individuals or person. The primary purpose standard is defined in ARM 44.11.203.~~

(10) The commissioner may classify each political committee in the manner defined in these rules, see ARM 44.11.204.

(a) Subunits of a main political committee, such as county committees or other divisions, that have authority to receive contributions and make expenditures independent of a parent political committee are a separate political committee.

(b) Subunits within those entities defined under "person" in these rules that have authority to receive contributions and make expenditures independent of the corporation or other entity are a separate political committee.

44.10.329 (44.11.204) POLITICAL COMMITTEE, CLASSIFICATION

(1) The commissioner shall classify a political committee upon the basis of information ~~provided, including on~~ the statement of organization ~~as defined in these rules, which is set forth in ARM 44.10.405 and which is required to be filed by a political committee pursuant to 13-37-201, MCA.~~ The commissioner shall notify, ~~in writing,~~ a political committee of its classification.

(2) The political committee shall be classified as one of the types of political committee specified in ARM ~~44.10.327~~ 44.11.202.

(4) If the commissioner, based upon the information provided on the statement of organization, is unable to classify a political committee, additional information may be requested by the commissioner. 44.10.330 (44.11.224) DESIGNATION OF CONTRIBUTIONS FOR PRIMARY AND GENERAL ELECTIONS (1) Aggregate contributions for each election in a campaign are limited according to 13-37-216 ~~and 13-37-218, MCA, and as explained by ARM 44.11.222.~~ An "election" in a campaign, ~~for the purposes of 13-37-216, MCA,~~ is defined as either a primary election or a general election.

(2) For purposes of applying aggregate contribution limits per election the following apply:

(a) aggregate contribution limits for each election, as set forth in 13-37-216 ~~and 13-37-218, MCA,~~ apply to a primary election and to a general election as defined in ARM ~~44.10.334~~ 44.11.222;

(b) remains the same.

(c) general election contributions received prior to the day of the primary election must be maintained in a separate account and shall not be used until after the day of the primary election;

(d) and (e) remain the same.

(3) If a candidate receives contributions designated for the general election prior to the primary, and does not proceed to the general election, the candidate must return the contributions to the donors. These funds are not "surplus campaign funds-" as defined in ARM 44.11.702.

(a) a candidate for the state house of representatives may receive no more than ~~$1650~~ $1,700;

(b) a candidate for the state senate may receive no more than ~~$2750~~ $2,800.

(2) These limits apply to total combined receipts for the entire election cycle of ~~2014~~ 2016.

The COPP is amending this rule to reflect the change in contribution limits for candidates from political committees for the 2015-16 election cycle.

44.10.333 (44.11.225) LIMITATIONS ON CONTRIBUTIONS FROM POLITICAL PARTY COMMITTEES (1) Political committees formed by "political party organizations", ~~as that term phrase is defined in 13-37-216~~ 13-1-101, MCA, are subject to the aggregate contribution limits, which include in-kind contributions and expenditures, established in 13-37-216(~~3~~), MCA. 44.10.334 (44.11.222) ELECTIONS TO WHICH AGGREGATE CONTRIBUTION LIMITS APPLY (1) ~~For purposes of the limitations on contributions established in 13-37-216, MCA, and these rules, the term "election" is defined in 13-37-216(5), MCA. The term "aggregate contributions" means the total of all of the following contributions made by or received from a person for all elections in a campaign:~~

~~(a) all contributions, as defined in 13-1-101, MCA, and further defined in ARM 44.11.401;~~

~~(b) all earmarked contributions, as defined in ARM 44.11.404;~~

~~(c) all expenditures encouraged in order to avoid a contribution, as specified in ARM 44.11.504; and~~

~~(d) all contributions that are coordinated as defined in 13-1-101, MCA, and further explained in ARM 44.11.501 and [NEW RULE VII].~~

(2) The term "contested primary", as used in 13-37-216(5), MCA, means a primary election in which two or more candidates compete for the same nomination. An election is not contested when, due to the number of candidates, the candidate automatically advances to the general election or position. For example:

~~(a) in partisan primary elections, if two or more candidates compete for one party's nomination, but only one candidate seeks a different party's nomination, it is a "contested primary", resulting in two elections to which the contribution limits in 13-37-216 and 13-37-218, MCA, apply only with respect to the primary for which two or more candidates compete for the party's nomination. For example, if For the two candidates seek seeking Party A's nomination in the primary election for a public office, it is a contested primary with respect to Party A's nomination; or~~

~~(b) if only one candidate seeks Party B's nomination for the same public office, it is not a contested primary with respect to Party B's nomination, and there is only one election to which the contribution limits in 13-37-216 and 13-37-218, MCA, apply; or~~

~~(c) in judicial and other nonpartisan primary elections, if a nonpartisan candidate automatically advances from the primary election to the general election pursuant to 13-14-117, MCA, it is not a contested primary election; or~~

~~(d) when an incumbent judicial officer is the only candidate who files a declaration for nomination in the primary election, and subsequently faces a vote, pursuant to 13-14-212, MCA, for or against retention in the general election, there is no "contested primary", and there is only one election to which the contribution limits in 13-37-216 and 13-37-218, MCA, apply.~~

44.10.335 (44.11.702) DISPOSAL OF SURPLUS CAMPAIGN FUNDS AND PROPERTY (1) remains the same.

(a) The candidate's closing report shall be filed whenever all debts and obligations are extinguished, the provisions of ARM [NEW RULE XII] are followed, and no further contributions or expenditures will be received or made which relate to the campaign.

(b) remains the same.

(2) "Surplus campaign funds" are those campaign funds remaining when all debts and other obligations of the campaign have been paid or settled, pursuant to ARM [NEW RULE XII], no further campaign contributions will be received, and no further campaign expenditures will be made.

REASON: The Disclose Act, SB 289's purpose is to provide information on the participants to Montanans in the timeliest manner possible. Electronic filing of campaign finance reports and statements provides immediate and searchable reporting and disclosure to Montanans. Further the CERS system alerts candidates and committees to some potential errors in their report prior to submitting the information to the COPP, allowing them to avoid some potential campaign practice violations. This rule implements SB 289's authority provided the commissioner to require electronic filing beyond the statewide candidate filing currently required.

One alternative considered was to require no additional candidates to file electronically, which was rejected because it did not serve the transparency interests sought by SB 289. The second alternative the COPP considered was requiring all state district candidates to file electronically unless they established that they did not have reasonable access to technology. The COPP instead proposes allowing state district candidates to apply for a waiver of the electronic filing requirement directly from the COPP by establishing a reasonable cause for inability to file electronically. This proposed rule amendment balances Montanans' right to access the campaign finance reports immediately, while also providing for a waiver of the requirement under certain circumstances.

The proposed rule language clarifies the electronic reporting requirements for candidates and committees and also makes grammatical changes. See also the reason for ARM 44.10.501 (44.11.301).

7. The department proposes to repeal the following rules:

44.10.325 POLITICAL COMMITTEE– DEFINITION

AUTH: 13-37-114, MCA
IMP: 13-1-101(12), MCA

REASON: The COPP is repealing this rule because it duplicates information found in ARM 44.10.405, and is incorporated for clarity in proposed ARM 44.11.201.

44.10.332 LEADERSHIP POLITICAL COMMITTEES

AUTH: 13-37-114, MCA
IMP: 13-37-216, MCA

REASON: The COPP is repealing this rule consistent with current statute, and to avoid confusion on the type of political committees allowed under 13-1-101 and 13-37-216, MCA.

44.10.411 INCIDENTAL POLITICAL COMMITTEE, FILING SCHEDULE

AUTH: 13-37-114, 13-37-226(5), MCA
IMP: 13-37-226(5), MCA

REASON: Previously 13-37-226, MCA, required that the COPP establish by rule a reporting and disclosure schedule for incidental committees. The current statute sets out a reporting schedule in statute for incidental committees; therefore, this rule is duplicative and repealed for clarity and consistency.

44.10.507 TRANSFER OF CONTRIBUTION TO CAMPAIGN TREASURER

44.10.523 AGGREGATE CONTRIBUTIONS– DEFINITION, REPORTING

AUTH: 13-37-114, MCA

IMP: 13-37-216, 13-37-229(2) and (10), MCA

13. With regard to the requirements of 2-4-111, MCA, the COPP has determined that the adoption, transfer, transfer and amendment, and repeal of the above-referenced rules will not significantly and directly impact small businesses.
