ARTS MAJORS

Anthropology

Study history, languages, politics, economics and social systems. Understand cultural and ethnic differences and analyse how people's beliefs fit into a wider social, political and economic context. Learn the research, observation and interview techniques that will equip you to work with people from diverse cultural backgrounds. Develop skills that are critical in decision-making for governments, corporations and not-for-profit organisations.

Archaeology

Develop skills in archaeological site recording and conservation. Participate in field trips to investigate heritage site excavations, and Australian Aboriginal rock art sites. You may also have the opportunity to travel on South-East Asian excursions. You will learn the fundamentals of archaeology, then expand on this knowledge with more specialised offerings in evolutionary, forensic, Asian, Australian and European archaeology.

Criminology

Learn why people are motivated to commit crime, and explore strategies to prevent law-breaking and rehabilitate offenders. Throughout your studies, you can participate in a wide range of extracurricular criminology student activities. This course equips you with skills to help make a difference in your community. Not all subjects in this major are available internally and you will need to take some subjects externally

English

Investigate and explore the riches of literature across the ages. You will develop your understanding of the English language and gain a high-level of communication and reasoning skills while growing your passion for reading and writing. JCU English major students examine a wide range of literary periods and genres that provide a comprehensive source of historical and cultural understanding.

History

Engage with the past to develop skills in critical thinking, research, and communication. You will develop an understanding of the present world by examining past societies and cultures. Assess evidence and sources both physically and online, and refine your ability to communicate ideas in a range of formats including digital projects.

The Bachelor of Arts-Bachelor of Laws (Honours) degree is available for high-achieving students. It consists of extra study and the development of a personal research project and thesis. An Honours degree is usually essential for entry to research higher degrees. Refer to the Bachelor of Arts -Bachelor of Laws \(Honours\) Handbook for eligibility information.

Human Geography

Explore the interrelationship between people and their natural and built environments. Develop specialist skills including urban planning and design, regional sustainability and social and environmental impact assessment. Become proficient in identifying problems, evaluating explanations, analysing data, and relevant computing techniques. Graduates understand how to develop recommendations to solve major social and environmental problems.

Human Services

Develop skills that will prepare you to work with marginalised and vulnerable people. Study social policy, community planning and development, education and capacity building, organisational practice and social responsibility. Benefit from JCU's research culture and working relationships with government agencies and local community groups. You will gain practical skills and experience through field trips and project work.

Indigenous Studies

Expand your understanding of the complex interface between Indigenous and Western knowledge, perspectives and practices in Australia today. Explore Indigenous knowledge and traditions, colonial disruptions, and Indigenous re-assertion in the current era, from the local to the global. Some subjects include field trips and one includes an optional international trip to an Indigenous community. Graduates are prepared to engage thoughtfully with Indigenous Australians and Indigenous issues in professional and community spaces.

Politics and International Relations

Expand your knowledge of political processes, foreign relations, diplomacy, globalisation and international politics. Explore issues such as human rights, ethnic relations, war and conflict, the ongoing legacies of historical events on contemporary politics, and politics in the developing world. Learn the skills you need for a career in defence, diplomacy, ethnic affairs, human rights and development, intelligence and international trade.

Psychology Studies

Gain a deeper understanding of the biological, social and cultural factors that influence how humans think, feel and behave. Explore the history of psychology, the nervous system, memory, cognition, intelligence, motivation, emotion, health psychology, personality and psychological disorders. This major is not accredited, if you want to become a Registered Psychologist, find out more about the Bachelor of Psychological Science (Honours).

Sociology

Develop the analytical tools to learn how society is organised and how we experience life with each other. Study social trends and understand why and how societies and institutions have developed through history. Gain social science research skills and explore a diverse range of topics. Examine the social issues in the Tropics choosing to study topics including race, gender identity, poverty and wealth.

“I’m studying a dual degree of Law and Arts, majoring in Indigenous Studies, because that is the avenue that I want to use my law degree in. The Bachelor of Arts majoring in Indigenous Studies allows me to learn more about Indigenous people and understand the complexities of Indigenous cultures. One highlight of this dual degree is that I get to network and make friends with people in different faculties at JCU and can take the opportunity to explore the different subjects Arts has to offer.”

BACHELOR OF ARTS - BACHELOR OF LAWS

ARTS - LAWS

One of the benefits of studying at JCU is that there are smaller classes here compared to other universities. If students need help, it is very easy to get access to their teaching staff.

We have a very good relationship with our students, and I know a lot of them personally. It's not unusual for them if they are walking past to pop their head in and say 'hello'.

And for students who are living farther away, with online study they can still come to JCU and study externally a lot of our courses now."

HEAD OF LAW

Career Opportunities

A JCU Arts-Law degree gives you the versatility and diversity of skills to choose from many different careers.

Career pathways — depending on what majors you choose — may include law, land rights and Indigenous affairs, arts and culture, media, film, and television, politics, economics, public policy, or human rights.

You could become a barrister, solicitor, public prosecutor, community lawyer, legal officer, or in-house counsel for large companies.

JCU Accommodation

Study and live in some of the most interesting places in the world. Cairns and Townsville are on the doorstep of the Great Barrier Reef, magnificent rainforests, the savannah region and Outback Australia.

Living on-campus is a great way to make the most of your time at JCU. JCU Townsville, Bebegu Yumba campus, Douglas, has five different accommodation options housing over 1,300 students. JCU Cairns, Nguma-bada campus, Smithfield, features an accommodation complex for 300 students. Living on-campus is a great place to make new friends and immerse yourself in the JCU culture. All rooms at our on-campus residences are single board, with a single bed, study desk, chair, fan, air-conditioning and Wi-Fi. Each residence is different in regards to style of living, culture and atmosphere. There are options for fully catered or self-catered housing. Find out more at jcu.edu.au/accommodation
