1. Introduction

- 1.1 In accordance with the Equality Act 2010, Mary Hare recognises the value of every individual and actively promotes equality of opportunity. Practice is underpinned by the following values, principles and standards:
- Acknowledging and valuing diversity
 - Respect for others
 - Compliance with equal opportunities legislation
 - Commitment to inclusion
 - Elimination of unfair prejudice and discrimination
 - Commitment to the positive development of all staff and pupils
- 1.2 Mary Hare is a welcoming organisation where everyone is valued highly and where tolerance, honesty, co-operation and mutual respect for others are fostered. We are committed to the development of the whole person within a supportive, secure and creative environment. A broad, balanced and appropriate curriculum provides equal opportunity for all pupils to maximise their potential regardless of age, gender, race, ethnicity, religion, sexual orientation, disability, or academic or sporting ability, or whether a pupil is pregnant or has recently given birth, or who are undergoing gender reassignment. However, pupils are selected whom the organisation believes can engage with a full curriculum. We endeavour to promote positive relationships with parents, carers, governors and members of the wider community.
- 1.3 Mary Hare aims to promote equality and tackle any form of discrimination, challenging opinions or behaviours in the organisation that are contrary to fundamental British values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths, cultures and beliefs and actively promote harmonious relationships in all areas of organisation life. We seek to remove any barriers to access, participation, progression, attainment and achievement.
- 1.4 We are very proud at Mary Hare as we believe our values are a true reflection of British Values.

At Mary Hare we uphold and teach our pupils about the British Values and their importance as directed under the Ofsted guidance September 2014 which states ‘Governors must ensure that they and the school promote tolerance of and respect for people of all faiths (or those of no faith), cultures and lifestyles; and support and help, through their words, actions and influence within the school and more widely in the community, to prepare children and young people positively for life in modern Britain’.

As required under The Non-Maintained Special Schools Regulations 2015 we are required to confirm our arrangements in actively promoting the fundamental British Values.

We ensure that through our school vision, ethos, agreed rules, curriculum and teaching we promote respect and tolerance for all cultures, faiths and lifestyles. As educators we have a duty to prepare our children for life in modern Britain and to keep them safe. We value the importance of and support the current Ofsted guidance. We also help pupils to recognise and celebrate these values in other countries and cultures as well as an understanding that having freedom and liberty does not mean you are not bound by the rule of law.

Democracy is evident within our school / organisation. The children vote for their house captains and school council representatives. Children hold many positions of responsibility within the school and are very proud of this.

2. Discrimination

2.1 It is unacceptable for any individual to be discriminated against on the basis of age, gender (incl. gender reassignment), being married or in a civil partnership, being pregnant or on maternity leave, disability, race, including colour, nationality, ethnic or national origin, religion or belief, sex or sexual orientation. At Mary Hare discrimination is taken very seriously and will not be tolerated. See the anti-bullying policy and behaviour policy for additional information.

2.2 Direct discrimination

Direct discrimination occurs when an individual receives less favourable treatment than another individual in similar circumstances because of their (or a family member's) actual or perceived protected characteristic. This includes discrimination based on factual information, or perception or assumptions relating to age, gender, race, ethnicity, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or disability.

2.3 Indirect discrimination

Indirect discrimination occurs when an unjustifiable requirement, provision, criterion, or practice is applied equally to everyone, but has a disproportionately adverse effect on one group.

2.4 Harassment

Harassment and bullying is unwanted conduct from one or more person/s which has the purpose or effect of violating an individual's dignity or creating an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment for another person/s. It comes in many forms including:

- Cyber and electronic (email, texts, social media)
- Unwanted physical contact
- Unwelcome remarks about a person's appearance, dress, ethnicity etc.
- Jokes
- Offensive language
- Gossip and slander
- Isolation or exclusion
- Coercion for sexual favours
- Pressure to participate in particular groups

2.5 Victimisation

Victimisation occurs where a pupil, or staff member has exercised their rights under equality legislation (or has indicated that they intend to do so) and are treated less favourably as a direct result / are singled out for exercising their legal rights. Examples of victimisation include an individual being denied rewards, ignored by colleagues or peers, or continually criticised.

2.6 Disability discrimination

Disability discrimination includes direct and indirect discrimination, any unjustified less favourable treatment because of the effects of disability, and failure to make reasonable adjustment to alleviate disadvantages caused by disability.

3. Caring for pupils from a minority ethnic group

3.1 Mary Hare is a national school, drawing its pupils from a wide range of ethnic groups. We seek to celebrate diversity in all we do. Care planning involves discussion of a pupil's cultural or religious needs which the school should be aware of. These include:

- Diet
- Clothing and uniform
- Religious observance, worship and celebrations
- Limitations to mixed activities such as swimming
- Care from staff of the opposite sex

3.2 Care staff should liaise with Heads of Year and form tutors to ensure that this important information is shared with teaching staff.

3.3 Key workers and care staff are encouraged to give opportunities for celebration of cultural diversity. In school, assemblies reflect the fact that Mary Hare is a multi-faith school in a multi-faith society. Families have the right to withdraw their child from assemblies on religious grounds.

4. International Pupils

4.1 Mary Hare has an International Pupil Representative (as and when required). The post holder's brief is to keep an additional eye on pupils joining the School for whom coming here represents not just a change in schooling, but also a change of culture. It will be especially significant for pupils whose parents live outside of the UK. To have someone identified to these pupils whom they can approach with concerns or worries, or simply to explain things to them that may be unfamiliar, will help them to get the most from School life.

5. Recruitment

5.1 The organisation embraces diversity and aims to employ a workforce that reflects this. In seeking to achieve a balanced workforce at all levels, the organisation will ensure that no prospective employee or existing employee who is an applicant will be disadvantaged or treated less favourably because of conditions or requirements that are not related to the job. Reasonable adjustments will be made to arrangements and premises to ensure equal access for employees or potential employees who have particular needs or disabilities.

6. Training

6.1 Equality and Diversity training is mandatory for all staff prior to commencing employment and care staff every two years. Where staff are unable to attend a face-to-face session, a copy of the presentation is given, with a declaration form to sign.

Appendix 1: Equal Opportunities – Statement of Commitment.

No student, applicant or employee will be discriminated against on grounds of race, colour, nationality, ethnic or national origin, sex or marital status, disability, sexual orientation, age, religious belief nor be disadvantaged by conditions or requirements which cannot be shown to be justifiable.  - b) All pupils are able to find opportunities to realise their potential, academically and pastorally and gain the satisfactions associated with fulfilling what is expected of them
6. The organisation will strive to maintain an equal gender balance at all levels of responsibility. This must, however, be consistent with decisions about appointments, promotions and training being based in the first instance upon personal skills and work performance.

7. Throughout the organisation, staff will aim to provide pupils with a curriculum into which consistent, positive models of total gender equality are threaded through:
 - a) Considering factors which might inadvertently sustain gender bias in lessons (including 'hidden' factors)
 - b) Identifying and employing positive interventions with pupils that counteract stereotypical images
 - c) Planning and delivering lessons which include strategies aimed at securing gender equality
8. The organisation will undertake the necessary monitoring or administrative procedures, through the quality assurance system, to ensure that:
 - a) Frequent under-achievement by one gender is identified and rectified
 - b) Frequent under-representation of one gender in any subject option is avoided as far as possible, by positive measures to redress gender bias in pupils' perception
 - c) Particular jobs are not perceived as 'suitable' for a particular gender
 - d) All pupils who leave school should, as a matter of entitlement, participate in further education or training
9. Responsibility for implementing and developing this policy will pass (via Governors) from the Head and Deputies, through to the Leadership Team (LT), Heads of Faculties and Subject Areas. The LT will assist in interpreting this policy.
