A Report for Governments and the WHO

Dec. 16, 2021

 NewsGuard

This report compares search results on the COVID-19 pandemic in English, German, Italian and French, from Google, Bing, Qwant, and DuckDuckGo.

Based on the COVID-19 searches in this analysis, users of Bing, Qwant and DuckDuckGo see search results featuring untrustworthy sites, at varying levels depending on the search and the language.

These searches using Google result only in reliable sources on the first page of results.

Methodology:

- Using a VPN Service to change its location depending on the language of the search, a NewsGuard analyst recorded search results from searches done on December 12 and December 13, 2021, on Google, Bing, Qwant and DuckDuckGo, using the browser Chrome.
- Searches in English were done as if from the UK. Searches in Italian were done as if from Italy. Searches in German were done as if from Germany. Searches in French were done as if from France.
- Search terms were selected using NewsGuard's database of popular online myths to see what kind of sites users looking to verify or learn more about a recurring rumor could be exposed to, depending on their search engines.

This report was produced using two proprietary datasets from NewsGuard.

- The Misinformation Fingerprints dataset, a catalogue of data about top misinformation narratives, contains related keywords and search terms for all of the top misinformation and disinformation narratives spreading online--produced using human intelligence but designed for use with AI/ML/NLP tools to identify content matching specific false claims. NewsGuard analysts used the Misinformation Fingerprints dataset to identify relevant searches related to misinformation narratives about COVID-19 and other topics.
- The second dataset used was the News Website Reliability Ratings, which consists of credibility ratings for over 6,000 news and information website that account for 95% of online engagement with news in the U.S., U.K., France, Germany and Italy. Each site's rating is based on nine basic, apolitical journalistic criteria. Based on the criteria, each site receives an overall designation of green (generally trustworthy) or red (generally not trustworthy) and a trust score of 0-100. NewsGuard's analyst used the News Website Reliability Ratings dataset to identify misinformation sources that appeared in the results for searches conducted as part of the analysis.
- For the purposes of this analysis, we focused on searches for which the searcher's intent could reasonably have been to search for accurate information about a topic. The analysis used the same searches across all search engines analyzed to ensure parity. Examples selected for the report represent an illustrative, but by no means exhaustive, list of search results that contain misinformation sources. Both the Misinformation Fingerprints and the News Website Reliability Index are available to be licensed for research and other purposes.
