

Figure S4. Frequency distribution of GC content of each of Fusarium circinatum strain investigated in this study. The x-axis indicates percentage GC content and the y-axis shows the proportion of the genome at a given GC content. The y-axis for the proportion of the genome containing the secondary peak has been enlarged for each of the genome assemblies investigated.