

Secretaries to the Delegates of the Press, 1868-present

Oxford University Press is governed by a group of academics known as the Delegates of the Press, set up in the 17th century. The leading Delegate, known as the Secretary, serves as OUP's chief executive and as its major representative on other University bodies. The office was established in the 19th century.

Bartholomew Price, 1868-1884

Philip Lyttelton Gell, 1884-1898

Charles Cannan, 1898-1919

Robert Chapman, 1919-1942

Kenneth Sisam, 1942-1948

Arthur Norrington, 1948-1954

Colin Roberts, 1954-1974

George Richardson, 1974-1988

Roger Elliott, 1988-1993

James Arnold Baker, 1993-1998

Henry Reece, 1998-2009

Nigel Portwood, 2009-present