Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Humans is a multidisciplinary, anthropologically oriented online journal that publishes contributions focusing on the anthropological subfields (archaeology, ethnology/cultural anthropology, physical/biological anthropology, and anthropological linguistics) as well as those that integrate developments across subfields or implement multidisciplinary approaches. The journal is devoted to rapid publication of cutting-edge developments in theory, method, technique, and data analysis. While original holistic research and contributions are given the highest priority, short communications and reviews are also encouraged. All contributions are rigorously peer-reviewed. Conference proceedings and Special Issues by guest editors that highlight outstanding research contributions on specific topics are welcome. The journal is designed to appeal to a diverse audience of research scientists, practitioners, and developers in both academia and industry.

Aims

Humans (ISSN 2673-9461) is an international, peer-reviewed, open access journal that facilitates rapid publication of scholarly studies on developments in the various subfields of anthropology. Papers that cross traditional subdisciplinary boundaries are highly encouraged. Special topics volumes are encouraged. It publishes research articles, reviews, short communications, and letters. Our aim is to encourage anthropologists and scholars in related fields to publish their theoretical, methodological, and analytical results in as much detail as possible.
